WASHINGTON SHOCKED BY ARABIC TRAGEDY.

"Deliberately Unfriendly Act" if Any American on Board was Lost.

Officials, Discussing the Probabilities of the Case, Expect no Public Clamor for Severance of Diplomatic Relations with Berlin if it is Found All Citizens of this Country Were Saved.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 19.—President Wilson is tonight awaiting further advices concerning the sinking of the Arabic before he makes up his mind whether the attack on the vessel today was "an act deliberately unfriendly" to the United States.

At a late hour the President was told that all but five passengers had been accounted for. Whether any of these five are Americans or not is the question upon which the future relations between the United States and Germany depend.

In official quarters it is admitted that the attack on the Arabic today, without warning, as it is said at London, comes within the scope of President Wilson's last declaration to Germany in his rejoinder to the German reply to the American note respecting the sinking of the Lusitania.

WILSON'S WORDS.

In this declaration, the President said:

"In the meantime the very value which this government sets upon the long and unbroken friendship between the people and the government of the United States and the people and the government of Germany impels it to press very solemnly upon the imperial German government the necessity for a scrupulous observance of neutral rights in this critical matter. Friendship itself prompts it to say to the imperial government that repetition by the commanders of German naval vessels of acts in contravention of those rights must be regarded by the government of the United States, when they affect American citizens, as deliberately unfriendly."

It has been established that American citizens were aboard the

AMERICAN PASSENGERS ON THE LINER ARABIC.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The White Star Line gave out tonight a list cabled from Liverpool containing the names of the following cabin passengers sailing on the Arabic, all of whom are Americans:

Miss Josephine L. Bruguiere.
Mr. Bruguiere.
Mr. and Mrs. Burgess.
Mr. and Mrs. James Calmon.
Mr. and Mrs. P. W. A. Collins.
Mr. and Mrs. Zellah Covington.
Rev. Dr. E. A. McAllister.
James Houlihan.
Christopher McTamley.
Leopold P. Moore.
A. Hulme Nebeker.
John Nolan.
Claude McRoodie.
James T. Rowley.
W. E. Ramsdell.
Miss Sadie Shrimpton.
Edmund Woods.

American passengers in the steerage were:

Thomas Elmore.
William Hughes.
J. Kellett.
John Olsen.

OFFICIAL DATA.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Vice-Consul Thompson at Queenstown cabled the State Department tonight the names of sixteen American survivors of the Arabic. He said there was no authentic information as yet as to whether any or how many were lost.

Following is the Vice-Consul's list of American survivors:

A. Hulme Nebeker, Logan, Utah.
James Houlihan, Philadelphia.
Thomas Elmore, New York.
George A. McAllister, Chambersburg, Pa.
James T. Rowley, Chicago.
Mr. and Mrs. Covington, New York and London.
Louis Bruguiere, New York.
John Olsen, San Francisco.
Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Collier, Buffalo.
Miss Sadie Shrimpton, Syracuse.
Claude McRoodie, Schenectady, N. Y.
John Nolan.
John Olschewski.
Christopher McTamley.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The list of survivors of the Arabic as received by the White Star line offices here tonight contained the names of fourteen Americans, as follows:

Fred Burgess.
Mr. and Mrs. James Calmon.
Mr. and Mrs. P. W. A. Collins.
Christopher McTammney, Trenton, N. J.
John Nolan, Trenton, N. J.
Claude Roode.
Miss F. E. Shrimpton.
Mrs. Fred Burgess.
Louis Bruguiere.
Mr. and Mrs. Zellah M. Covington.
A. Hulme Nebeker.
W. E. Ramsdell.
Leopold P. Moore.

Cable advices from London gave the names of Frederick Martin of Winston Salem, N. C., and John F. Day as among the American survivors. The passenger list issued by the White Star line did not mention Martin and Day as Americans.

RANCHER VICTIM OF JOY RIDERS.

SAMUEL FLICH RUN DOWN AND HIS PROBABLY FATALLY INJURED. (30)

A party of joy riders in a big automobile ran down and probably fatally injured Samuel Flick, a well to do ranch owner, of Compton, at Sixth and Alameda streets, shortly after 2 o'clock this morning. Mr. Flick and C. M. Bender, who is employed by the former, were walking south on Alameda street toward the public market when the automobile suddenly turned the corner and struck them.

Mr. Flick was removed to the Receiving Hospital where it was found that he had sustained a concussion of the brain, a broken leg and many cuts and bruises about the face and body. He is 65 years old and is in a serious condition. Mr. Bender was not badly hurt.

The automobile did not stop and the police were unable to find it.

GUNS ARE DRAWN BURGLAR ESCAPES.

BATTLE BETWEEN PROPRIETOR OF HOTEL AND THIEF IS SPECTACULAR. (30)

Three guns were drawn in a battle between a burglar and the proprietor and a guest of the Victor Hotel, No. 535 Wall street, early this morning, and notwithstanding that each man pulled the trigger of his weapon time after time, none of the cartridges exploded and none of the trio was hurt. The gun play was followed by an exciting chase over house tops for the burglar but he could not be found.

Daniel Curtis was sitting in his room reading when the door was quietly opened and a man with a big revolver in his hand entered. "Give me your money and be quick about it," he whispered to Mr. Curtis, who replied by reaching in his dresser drawer for his own gun and turning, leveled it at the intruder.

Both men pulled their triggers as the burglar started to walk backward into the hall. Again their triggers snapped but their catridges did not respond. The noise awakened Henry Wilcox, the proprietor and he rushed to the scene with his revolver drawn. Then there was some more trigger pulling with the same result.

"Youse fellers ain't got no better gun than I got," the burglar said as he reached the stairs, "but I guess the two of youse can lick me, so I'll beat it." Thereupon he dashed down to the street and ran back of the hotle.

Detectives Barnes and James were summoned and when they arrived someone said he had seen the burglar scooting over the roof of a nearby house. The officers followed but in vain.

GIRL FOOLS POLICE SURGEON.

PRETENDS TO HAVE SWALLOWED POISON, THEN ADMITS SHE DIDN'T. (30)

Miss Christine Fisher, a pretty candy packer, who lives at No. 208 South Olive street, told some of her girl friends last night that she had taken poison with suicidal intent. They called the ambulance and she was removed to the Receiving Hospital. Dr. Johnson made an examination of the girl's stomach and finding no trace of poison, told her she must be suffering from an illusion. Miss Fisher then admitted she had not told the truth but would not give her reason for trying to frighten her chums. She left the hospital giggling, apparently happy over the experience of being treated by an honest to goodness police surgeon.

LONDON PAPERS ON THE ARABIC.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 20.—The newspapers in their editorial dealings with the sinking of the steamer Arabic comment at length on the effect the event is likely to have on the relations between the United States and Germany.

"It remains to be seen," says the Morning Telegraph, "what the civilized world will do, particularly the people of the United States, if it be proven that an American citizen has been killed. The American government already has stated its standpoint in the plainest language. Germany has treated the American statements with contempt. If the policy which is being followed by the Germans is permitted to crystallize into precedents, there is no sea borne interest of the United States which will not be impaled if at some future time the people become involved in a war at sea."

The Times says:

"The fact that the Arabic was outward bound wipes away the whole web of falsehoods and sophistry with which Germany sought to darken the case in its impudent and mendacious reply to the American note on the Lusitania. There can be no pretense that the Arabic was carrying ammunition."

The Daily Mail says:

"The Americans have been wondering why no reply has yet been returned to the note they sent Germany on July 23. The reply was given yesterday and deeds speak louder than words. There can be no doubt now as to Germany's determination to persevere in her piratical course with complete indifference as to whether any American citizen is aboard ships attacked.

"It is for the Americans to decide how far, if at all, the Arabic incident affects their rights and interests, and what action, if any, is called for."

TORPEDOED AND SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE.

White Star Liner Meets the Fate of the Lusitania and Near Same Place.

Attacked Without Warning, All Accounts Agree, the Vessel Disappeared Beneath the Waves in Ten Minutes—Only Six of the Passengers Missing — Most of the Victims Lost Were Members of the Crew.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—A revised list of survivors, compiled from cable reports received from Liverpool early today by the White Star Line, indicated that Miss Bruguiere and Edmund Woods were still unaccounted for among the American passengers of the Arabic. They were mentioned as having been saved in previous reports.

The line announced that from figures available here six passengers and twenty-six members of the crew of the steamship were lost.

LONDON, Aug. 19, 10:20 p.m.—The White Star line issued the following statement tonight concerning the steamer Arabic:

"The Arabic left Liverpool at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. She was torpedoed this morning at 9:15 o'clock in Lat. 50.50 North, Long. 8.32 West.

"She had aboard 423 persons. As far as can be ascertained there are 375 survivors. It is understood that only six passengers are unaccounted for."

LONDON, Aug. 20, 12:20 a.m.—The big White Star line steamer Arabic, formerly a favorite ship of the Liverpool-Boston service, but which on her present trip was on the way to New York, was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine at 9:15 o'clock Thursday morning southeast of Fastnet.

The steamer, according to a statement of the White Star line, was attacked without warning and went down in ten minutes. Of the 423 persons on board—181 passengers and 242 members of the crew—thirty-two are missing and are believed to have perished. Most of those who have not been accounted for belong to the crew. Only six of the passengers are reported missing.

Whether any of those not accounted for are Americans has not yet been determined here at this time, but there were only twenty-six citizens of the United States on board, twenty-two being in the second cabin and four in the steerage.

The Arabic carried no first-class passengers, having lately been turned into a two-class liner.

The survivors left the steamer in the ship's boats, were picked up later by passing vessels and arrived in Queenstown tonight. They are being accommodated by the White Star line in hotels and boarding-houses in the little town which so short a time ago cared for the survivors and the dead of the Lusitania.

READY FOR EMERGENCY.

Details of the sinking of the Arabic are lacking, but that the loss of life was not greater doubtless was due to the fact that the weather was fine and that steamers plying the German submarine war zone now keep their boats swung out and are prepared otherwise for emergencies.

The torpedo that sank the Arabic struck her on the starboard side, 100 feet from her stern. The vessel had left Liverpool Wednesday afternoon and taken a southerly course, well off the Irish coast, doubtless with a view of avoiding the submarines which frequent the waters nearer the shore.

ACCURATE MARKSMANSHIP.

When some fifty miles west of where the Lusitania was sunk in May, the German underwater boat rose to the surface and launched a torpedo. The marksmanship of the Germans, as in the case of the Lusitania, was deadly accurate, and, like the Lusitania, the big liner quickly settled down and shortly disappeared from view.

Some of the survivors, according to reports received here, say that they had just witnessed the torpedoing of a British steamer, presumably the Dunsley, and that this had caused great alarm on board the Arabic. In their fright the passengers had rushed for life preservers and had barely adjusted them when the German submarine turned its torpedo against the vessel's side.

Ten lifeboats and a number of life rafts were quickly got over the side of the steamer and into these a large number of the passengers and members of the crew scrambled. Many of the passengers, however, fell into the water, but they got hold of the rafts and later were rescued. One woman who fell into the sea screamed pitifully for help. Two sailors swam to her assistance and succeeded in lifting her upon a raft.

Among those who were rescued were Capt. Will Finch, commander of the Arabic, all the deck officers, the chief engineer, the surgeon, the purser, the assistant purser, the chief steward and the third-class steward. Third Engineer Lugon is among the missing.

One of the passengers on board was Kenneth Douglas, well-known English actor. Mr. Douglas was on the Lusitania when she was sent to the bottom. His good luck followed him today, for he is among the survivors.

When the news of the sinking of the Arabic reached London late this afternoon it caused a tremendous sensation. The first reports stated that it was feared a large number of the passengers had been lost. Reassuring news came shortly by wireless, however. It was to the effect that some fifteen or sixteen boats and life rafts had left the steamer safely and been picked up and were being towed into Queenstown. Later private telegrams brought the news from most of the passengers that they were safe, although some of them were injured.

Capt. Finch was formerly in the Pacific mail service, but for some years has been in command of the Arabic. The steamer is the largest yet sunk by the Germans with the exception of the Lusitania.

PITIABLE SCENE AT DOCK AS PASSENGERS ARRIVE.

People had but Eight Minutes to Leave Berths—Officers' Work Heroic.

Capt. Finch Declares He Saw Torpedo Approaching and Knew He Could not Avoid It—Fine Discipline is Said to Have been Maintained by Crew as the Boats are Launched.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

QUEENSTOWN, Aug. 20.—The landing here yesterday evening of the survivors of the ill-fated White Star line steamer Arabic was a pitiable scene. All of them were scantily clothed and none of them had hat or head coverings of any kind.

A large number of the survivors were suffering from injuries to their heads or from other wounds and shocks, and from the effects of being compelled to take to open boats scantily attired. Many of the women were in their berths when the liner was torpedoed and ran to the deck in their night clothing. These were provided with blankets when they were taken from boats and rafts by the crews of the rescue ships. A number of those saved were picked out of the water and arrived here in their seasoaked clothing. The people of Queenstown gave them every possible attention and provided fresh outfits for many of them.

A. Hulme Nebeker of Logan, Utah, who when he arrived here had on only a bathrobe, said that the members of the crew worked splendidly under Capt. Finch's direction in the short ten minutes which they had to get the passengers into the boats, and but for the fine discipline maintained and the excellent work of the rescuing tug officers at least a couple of hundred persons would have been lost. The submarine, according to Mr. Nebeker, was seen before it launched the torpedo, but there was not time enough to escape it.

VICE-CONSUL ASSISTS.

The American Vice-Consul here assisted the local authorities in aiding the survivors.

Capt. Finch, who is suffering from injuries to his leg, said last night that he did not see the submarine, but distinctly observed the torpedo approaching in the water.

"It was then impossible to escape it," the captain said. "We had only eight minutes to get the boats away and save all on board."

George L. Money of Strafford, Ont., who with his daughter and brother were returning home by the Arabic, said in an interview that the passengers in large numbers were enjoying the fine weather about decks after breakfast. Their attention had just been attracted to the steamer Dunsley, the boats of which were being launched. (The censor here evidently has deleted the facts concerning the Dunsley.)

The Arabic, Mr. Money added, was making toward the Dunsley when the streak of a torpedo, fired from the submarine lying in the wake of the Dunsley, was seen making for the Arabic. There were cries of alarm and all hands made for life belts and the lifeboats.

"Fortunately," continued Mr. Money, "all precautions had been taken, the lifeboats being in readiness on deck and the boats in position for launching. The torpedo struck the ship and there was a terrible explosion. The ship began to settle immediately and sank in a few minutes.

"It was marvelous how so many boats were got afloat. It spoke well for the discipline of the crew. I was an hour and a half swimming."

A member of the crew of the Arabic said when the steamer was struck it was going at sixteen knots, making for the Dunsley. When the torpedo struck, a portion of the ship was torn away, and he saw the bodies of coal trimmers and of five engineers, whose watch was below, blown to pieces and into the sea.

Although the steamer was torpedoed in the forenoon, it was 3 o'clock in the afternoon before the last of the survivors were picked up by the Primrose and Mongollan.

Charles Pringle of the Motor Company, Ltd., of Toronto, said that most of the passengers were Canadians.

Discussing the work of rescue, Mr. Pringle said:

"It was really marvelous so many persons were saved. All the lifeboats were crowded when they were launched and some persons were thrown into the water. There were some very panicky scenes, but the crew kept cool heads and rescued most of those struggling in the water."

ONE BRITISH CRUISER AND A DESTROYER SUNK.

Engagement of Small Craft off the Coast of Jutland Described in a Dispatch from Berlin — Details of the Latest Aerial Raid Over London are Disclosed by the Admiralty Statement.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (via Tuckerton, N. J.)—German torpedo boat destroyers have sunk a small British cruiser and a British destroyer by torpedoing them in an engagement of small craft off the west coast of Jutland, the German Admiralty announced today.

The Admiralty announcement adds that in the naval airship raid on London Tuesday night, important establishments in the city and on the Thames were bombarded with good results. Blast furnaces at Woodbridge and Ipswich also were bombarded, the statement says.

The text of the statement says:

"On August 17, at 2 o'clock, five boats of one of our torpedo boat flotillas attacked a small modern British cruiser and eight torpedo boat destroyers near Hornsriff lightship, on the west coast of Jutland, and sank the cruiser and one destroyer with torpedoes. Our forces had no losses.

"During the night of the 17th and 18th our naval airships again attacked London. London city and important Thames establishments were liberally bombarded. Good results were observed. In addition, factories and blast furnaces at Woodbridge and Ipswich were bombarded. The airships suffered no damage despite the heavy fire, and all returned."

Chronology.

THE ARABIC'S HISTORY, BELFAST TO FASTNET.

Liner Sunk by a Submarine was Six Hundred Feet Long and Her Tonnage was Over Fifteen Thousand Gross—Two Sticks of Dynamite Found on Her on Her Last Sailing Out of New York.

THE White Star liner Arabic's tonnage was 15,801 gross and 10,062 net. She was 600 feet long, 65-foot beam and 47 feet in depth. She was built in Belfast in 1903 by Harland & Wolff.

On her last eastward trip the Arabic arrived in Liverpool on August 6 from New York.

Following the receipt of a cablegram announcing her safe arrival, the bureau of combustibles in New York City allowed the fact to become known that two sticks of dynamite had been discovered on board on July 27, the night before she sailed from New York.

Once before, since the beginning of the war, the Arabic had a close call. A cable message from London on March 27 said the steamer had been pursued by a German submarine in the Irish Sea, on the voyage which ended on that day.

According to this account, a periscope was sighted as the steamer went in from St. George's Channel, and it soon became obvious that a hostile submarine was in pursuit. The Arabic put on full steam and outdistanced the submersible.

On the occasion apparent to dynamite the Arabic last month, the explosive, which was discovered by a private detective, was concealed under a settee in the women's parlor in the cabin amidship. A thorough search of the liner was made by detectives before she sailed on her last eastward trip on July 28, but no explosives were found.

On her recent trips the Arabic has carried far fewer passengers than on normal voyages in times of peace.

The Arabic has been utilized to carry great quantities of war munitions purchased in the United States for great Britain.

Fastnet, off which the Arabic is reported to have gone down, lies close to the lane of steamship traffic between England and America. It is about forty miles west of Old Head of Kinsale, near which the Lusitania was sunk. German submarines have been active in these waters since the declaration by the German government in February of a naval war zone around the British Isles.

The Arabic arrived in New York on her maiden trip on July 6, 1903, having been launched at Belfast on December 18 of the previous year. At that time she was one of the largest steamships engaged in trans-Atlantic trade.

SUBMARINES' HEAVY TOLL EXACTED OF UNITED STATES.

HEAVY toll is exacted of the United States by submarines.

Following is a table of ships attacked by German war craft in which American property or American lives were menaced. With each is given its nationality, the date of the attack, number of lives lost and nature of attack made:

Evelyn—United States, February 19; one American lost; sunk by mine.

Carib—United States, February 23; three Americans lost; sunk by mine.

William P. Frye—United States, February 28; sunk by torpedo.

Falaba—British, March 28; one American and 111 others lost; sunk by torpedo.

Greenbriar—United States, April 3; sunk by torpedo.

Cushing—United States, April 28; bombarded by aeroplane.

Gulflight—United States, May 1; three Americans lost; torpedoed.

Lusitania—British, May 7; 115 Americans and 1141 others lost; sunk by torpedo.

Nebraskan—United States, May 25; torpedoed.

Armenian—Canadian, June 20; twenty-three Americans in crew lost; torpedoed.

Anglo-Californian—British, July 5; two Americans and seven others lost; torpedoed and shelled.

Leelanaw—United States, July 25; torpedoed and shelled.

Iberian—British, July 31; three Americans and three others lost; torpedoed and shelled.

Arabic—British, August 19; torpedoed; lost forty-eight.

ARABIC SINKING SERIOUS, VIEW OF EASTERN PRESS.

'Appeals and Remonstrances Useless, Declares New York "Times," While Subjects of Kaiser Continue to Plot Against Us on Our Own Soil—Is this Answer of Teutons to Wilson, Question of New York "Herald."

THE following editorials on the sinking of the Arabic have been assembled by The Times exclusive wire service:

NEW YORK TIMES—The sinking of the Arabic will have the most serious consideration of the government at Washington. The sending of notes in the friendly tone which has characterized all of our dispatches to Berlin has proved futile. We reason, we appeal, we protest, we remonstrate. The written answer is evasive and irrelevant; the actual answer is a defiant persistence in the provocation. While Germany's agents plot against our peace, our policies and our industries, upon our own soil, German ships of war assail and sink the merchant ships that bear our fellow-countrymen upon the seas. It should be plain even to the most war-mad Germans that friendly relations between the two countries cannot continue to be maintained if these intolerable wrongs continue to be perpetrated.

NEW YORK HERALD—Is the torpedoing of the Arabic Germany's reply?

In the view of the government of the United States those American citizens were where they had a right to be.

Not only did these American citizens have a right to be where they were, but they had every assurance that their government would "omit no word or act" necessary to insure protection to them in that right. The United States has demanded of Germany that these rights be respected. Is Germany's answer one of open defiance?

ST. LOUIS GLOBE-DEMOCRAT—If American lives were lost on the Arabic then the situation is as grave as when the Maine was sunk in the harbor of Havana. Until then let us suspend judgment. President Wilson has shown force and conservatism in his handling of German-American affairs. Let us hope he will prove equal to the present emergency.

NEW YORK WORLD—Some of the essential facts in regard to this attack are not ascertained and no verdict can be pronounced until all the evidence is at hand. But the situation is undeniably serious. It is so serious and the issues involved are so grave that final judgment must be suspended until all the facts are known beyond the possibility of a doubt.

NEW YORK TRIBUNE—In every detail the German attack upon the Arabic fulfills President Wilson's definition of an act "deliberately unfriendly" to the United States.

It is for Congress, not for the President, to decide the question of peace or war with Germany. But it is the duty of Mr. Wilson to preserve national honor and protect national dignity. There is left to him no choice, no alternative. Count Bernstorff should go. Mr. Gerard should come home.

NEW YORK SUN—It is not the constitutional function of the American Executive to declare war on a foreign nation, no matter what the provocation. The power to declare war is solely in the Congress; but it is within the power of the President in the failure of apology and reparation immediately and voluntarily rendered, to recall its representatives at the capital of the deliberately unfriendly government, to break off all diplomatic relations and official intercourse with that unfriendly government and to dismiss peremptorily the representatives which that unfriendly government has accredited to us by handing them their passports. This, supposing the worst, is the obvious and only course consonant with the self-respect of the American people in the present extremely critical juncture.

TORONTO MAIL AND EXPRESS—Surely the sinking of the Arabic will fill to overflowing the cup of humiliation that Germany holds to the lips of the American republic.

ST. PAUL PIONEER PRESS—No one believes Germany means intentionally to affront the United States, but pursuance of her naval policy toward passenger ships regardless of the fact that Americans may be among the sufferers, indicates to many that she cares little whether we are affronted or not.

CINCINNATI COMMERCIAL TRIBUNE: We cannot see why the fatuous gentlemen at Washington should be either surprised or disturbed at the sinking of the Arabic. What does the Wilson administration propose to do about the matter? The making of strong and virile phrases hardly meets the situation.

PHILADELPHIA INQUIRER: It has been a long time since the Lusitania was torpedoed. Many days have gone by since the United States sent an ultimatum to Germany on this subject of murder. Are we to assume from the Arabic incident that there is no intention on the part of Germany to respect the ultimatum? If so, then, the days of friendly relations between the United States and Germany are limited.

PHILADELPHIA RECORD: It suffices to say that the position of the United States is unalterable and the country will back up the President whole-heartedly in maintaining American rights on the seas. That this is clearly understood by Germany is good ground for a cautious attitude toward the presumption that she has repeated on a lesser scale in the case of the Arabic, the Lusitania atrocity.

INDIANAPOLIS STAR — President Wilson has never retracted his original contention in the first note to Germany that the seas are free and that Americans' lives must be respected. Will it be "strict accountability" or another note of protest from the humanitarian standpoint?

CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER—American sentiment, despite the heated assertions of the hyphenated press, is unanimously against a nation which stands sponsor for the policy of stealthy murder. Sentiment which is not against such policy is not American.

BALTIMORE SUN—Perhaps Germany, elated with its recent victories over the Russians, has decided to reply to President Wilson's note by the torpedoing of the Arabic. But, after all, speculation is idle. When we know positively how it happened, then America will know how to act.

BALTIMORE AMERICAN — By sending to the bottom the Arabic, Germany has served notice on this country and on the rest of the world that it will continue to use its submarines for the destruction of enemy shipping. It is up to the President and his advisers to decide what they will do about it.

Answer.

DECLARES GERMANY RIGHT IN SINKING THE ARABIC.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 19.—Henry R. Edmunds, expert in international law, in an interview tonight said that Germany in torpedoing the Arabic had answered President Wilson's last note to the imperial German government and in the interview he also said that Germany had a right to sink the liner.

He was asked what right Germany had to sink the vessel and what new situation was created between the United States and Germany by the sinking. He answered:

"The Arabic was an English vessel and as such Germany had a right to sink her. I don't see that any new situation is created by the act."

"Then isn't a counter move by the United States necessary?" he was asked.

"I don't think there is," he answered. "The case is parallel to that of the Lusitania. There is no cause for this country to do any more than was done in that case."

"But what of the two Americans who are reported to have lost their lives on the Arabic. Doesn't that mean that the United States must take an offensive action; wasn't such action implied in our last note to Germany?" Mr. Edmunds was asked.

"No," he answered. "The Americans were on an English vessel. The vessel was known to have been engaged in carrying munitions of war. The question is what right had the Americans to protection by any country except the country to which the vessel belonged."

PEOPLE BESIEGE LINERS' OFFICES.

News of Sinking Received by Cable in New York.

Fifteen Americans on Board, but Fate is Unknown.

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—The White Star Line received word at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from its Liverpool office that the liner Arabic had been sunk by a German submarine at 9:15 o'clock this morning off the south coast of Ireland. Press dispatches from London had told of the sinking an hour before.

Almost at the same moment that the cables were telling of the sinking, the line received a message from London announcing that the vessel had sailed from Liverpool yesterday afternoon. This was followed in a few minutes by another message stating that the steamer had aboard 130 cabin passengers and 45 in the steerage. For nearly an hour this was the only information that the line could give to the hundreds of inquirers who besieged the office in person and by telephone for news.

Then the story came through, a few words at a time. Fifteen boatloads of survivors, an early dispatch said, were on their way to Queenstown. Nearly four hours after the first message a cablegram was received conveying the information that 375 survivors had been landed at Queenstown; that only forty-eight were to be accounted for and that the captain of the liner, Will Finch, of the Royal Navy Reserve, had wired that his ship was torpedoed without warning and sank in eleven minutes.

NAME OF A SURVIVOR.

At 6 o'clock the line had the name of only one survivor, Mr. De Lorrimer, of Canada, a son-in-law of the Canadian Minister of Marine.

War-time secrecy cloaks all sailings from British ports until the vessels are well on their way out of the German war zone. Steamers slip in and out of British ports unheralded, with darkened lights and shrouded portholes and steam at top speed through the war zone, while the boats are swung outward in momentary readiness for a death blow, the line's reports explained.

Shortly after 6 o'clock press dispatches from London contained the information that the American embassy had received word that there were fifteen Americans on the ship. The White Star Line here had no word as to who they were or whether they were saved.

P. A. S. Franklin, receiver of the International Mercantile Marine Company, which operates the White Star Line, cabled the Liverpool agents of the line, asking that all possible speed be used in forwarding the names of passengers to New York. It was expected that these names would begin to arrive tonight.

LINE WAS UNPREPARED.

The line apparently was unprepared for news of the sinking of the Arabic. Within the past three months there have been instances, notably those of the Adriatic, the Baltic and the Transylvania, when the New York agents of the trans-Atlantic lines have spent many tense moments as their vessels neared the war zone.

Widespread but erroneous rumors were in circulation that German submarines had destroyed the vessels or were lying in wait for them off the Irish coast.

But there was no advance rumor concerning the Arabic's fate. It was not even known officially here that she had left Liverpool until after the word came that she had been sunk and no passenger list had been prepared here for publication.

The Arabic was one of the largest of the few British vessels remaining in the trans-Atlantic service. On her recent trips she has carried far fewer passengers, especially Americans, than in times of peace. When she sailed from this port July 28 she was shielded so far as possible against gunfire, which might destroy the steering gear, by bags of sand piled high above it.

The Arabic sailed on her last outward voyage from this port with 188 passengers and approximately 16,000 tons of cargo, almost all of which was war supplies. Aeroplanes and automobiles formed the chief portion of the cargo.

The numerous sand bags were taken as an indication that in case she were sighted by a U boat, the big liner intended to take a chance at getting away, trusting to her speed.

The crew usually consisted of about 240 men. It was assumed today that she had this number aboard when she left Liverpool yesterday. All the crew, it was said, were of foreign citizenship.

The mail aboard the vessel, it was said at the White Star Line, consisted of 2800 bags of letters and 136 bags of parcel post matter.

A representative of the line pointed out that the life boats would hold a maximum of fifty to sixty persons each. The early report that fifteen boats were making for Queenstown was considered an indication that many persons had been saved. Fifteen boats, it was pointed out, would hold from 750 to 900 persons if filled to capacity.

KITCHENER VIEWS THE WESTERN LINE

PARIS, Aug. 19.—A joint inspection of parts of the western battle line was made Monday by Lord Kitchener, Alexandre Millerand, the French War Minister, Gen. Joffre and Sir John French, the commanders in chief of the French and British armies.

Lord Kitchener and M. Millerand were impressed by the appearance of the troops and their morale.

AGREE COTTON IS CONTRABAND.

Allies to Make Announcement Soon, Says Embassy.

Plan to Minimize Hardships to American Planters.

Reductions of Acreage Have been Made in South.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—"The allied governments have agreed in principle that cotton is contraband of war. The exact date when this announcement shall be made is still under consideration, as well as other details connected with the proclamations."

This statement was authorized today at the British Embassy.

As soon as the official announcement is made it will be disclosed also that the allied governments have prepared to stand behind the market to prevent ruinous depression of prices and minimize hardships to planters.

It was explained here today that the allies refrained from making cotton contraband at the outset of the war because of conditions in the United States, where a large crop had been raised, and a contraband order then would, in their opinion, have been far more serious.

ALLIES' CONTENTION.

Now, the allies contend, the cotton states have been prepared for a change in policy by reductions of acreage. Some of the cotton interests, in other quarters acknowledge, may be affected by the change, and for that reason it has been decided to stand behind the market to minimize embarrassment and to avoid a permanent decrease in American cotton plantings. The principal reason for declaring cotton contraband is that it is one of the principal sources of smokeless powder.

A statement issued by the Comptroller of the Currency during the day referred to the prospect for unusual demands for funds, particularly in the event cotton should be declared contraband by the European belligerents, and declared a survey of the national bank and reserve banks was distinctly encouraging. Never before, Mr. Williams said, had the banks been so strong and thoroughly prepared to handle any problem that might be presented to them.

Just before the statement was issued, the British Embassy had announced the announcement that the allies had agreed on the principle that cotton was contraband. Special restatements which the banks may have to meet in the near future were summarized by Mr. Williams as follows:

First, the yearly recurring demand for funds with which to move the crops, which this year, except as to cotton, are unusually large and commanding full prices.

Second, the unusual demand for funds which may arise to enable cotton growers to meet any congestion in

THE sinking of the Arabic by a German submarine makes the 178th steamship of more than 1000 tons displacement to be destroyed by German submarines.

The new method of warfare brought by the Germans has claimed nearly 1500 non-combatant lives, the largest single disaster being the sinking of the Lusitania, May 7, with 1250 men, women and children, many of them Americans.

The new German method of under-water warfare on enemy merchantmen has not only caused the loss of many innocent lives, but came very near plunging this country and Germany into war over the Lusitania sinking.

The diplomatic controversy that has not yet been definitely settled and the right of American citizens to sail the seas on the ships of neutral nations has not yet been admitted by Germany.

ATTITUDE OF GERMANY.

In spite of the serious questions involved in the sinking of the Lusitania and the utter disregard of the safety of the Americans on board, the German government showed its attitude in the diplomatic controversy, one of its submarines attacked the Cunard steamer Orduna with twenty-two American passengers on board when she was thirty-seven miles south of Queenstown, bound for New York from Liverpool.

Not a month has passed since the destruction of the German "war zone" around Great Britain in February, when a dozen or more vessels have been sunk and the lives of noncombatants sacrificed. The most serious loss of life occurred on the sinking of the Lusitania.

The next largest loss of life occurred on the torpedoing of the Arabic, a British steamship of 4860 tons burden, off the English coast on March 27, when 111 passengers and crew, including Americans, went down.

During the last month, nineteen vessels, two Norwegian, two Italian and four Russian vessels were sunk, a loss of thirty-two lives. None of the ships was less than 1200 tons in burden.

Eight lives were lost when the Italian bark Bardomene, an Italian ship, was torpedoed. Ten were lost on the British steamship Hogarth and eleven on the Russian steamship Leo of 2323 tons burden went down.

In June, seventeen went down with the British steamship Menapier of 4236 tons; twenty-two with the Ikaria, a British 4336-ton ship, and twenty-nine with the Armenian, a British mail steamer of nearly 8000 tons.

"American citizens act within their indisputable rights in taking passage upon the ships and in traveling wherever their legitimate business calls them upon the high seas and exercise those rights in what should be the well-justified confidence that their lives will not be endangered by acts done in clear violation of universally acknowledged international obligations, and certainly in the confidence that their own government will sustain them in the exercise of their rights.

Attorney General of the United States Reports on the Allegations of German Spies Here.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Atty.-Gen. Gregory reported to President Wilson today that investigation into charges of activities of German agents in this country had so far disclosed nothing to lead to action by the Department of Justice.

In an announcement issued by the Navy Department today Secretary Daniels said he had asked John R. Rathom, publisher of the Providence (R. I.) Journal, to submit any evidence he might have to substantiate a published statement credited to him that a civil employee of the Navy Department was in the pay of the German government.

Mr. Daniels also revealed that after a recent conference with Mr. Rathom the department had assigned additional officers and men to the naval force operating the German-owned commercial wireless plant at Sayville, L. I.

Mr. Daniels said that Mr. Rathom intimated that he had information also regarding an alleged German scheme to secure control of all radio stations in South and Central America and even in the Philippines.

ANOTHER RATE RULING.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—Increased rates on iron and steel from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, Chicago and intermediate territory to Utah, Colorado and Kansas points were approved today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The decision makes an exception as to iron bars, steel bars, steel sheets and structural steel in carloads from St. Louis to Denver originating east of the Mississippi.

The decision justifies the proposed readjustment of iron and steel rates from St. Louis and Pittsburgh and other points in central freight association territory to Oklahoma points and to Fort Smith, Ark., and declares that existing rates from Pittsburgh and St. Louis to Hutchinson, Wichita and Topeka, Kansas, "are not shown to be unreasonable or unjustly discriminatory."

The decision follows complaints from shippers and traffic associations in the West.

Twenty ships were sent to the bottom by torpedoes fired from submarines during April. Only four lives were lost this month, when the principle of seizure and search was vigorously enforced by the German submarine commanders. The casualties took place on the City of Bremen, a British coasting steamer of 786 tons.

In March, the second month of the submarine blockade, 211 lives were lost in the sinking of one French, two Dutch and twenty-nine British ships.

The month marked by the inauguration of the submarine blockade, February, saw the foundering of six British, one French and two Norwegian ships as the result of attacks by German submarines. Four men lost their lives, three on the British 5807-ton ship Harpolian and one on the 1008-ton British ship Deptford.

VIENNA HEARS THE TERMS OF ALLEGED TREATY AS TO CONSTANTINOPLE.

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (via London) 9:25 p.m.—Clauses of an alleged contract entered into by Great Britain, France and Russia regarding the future of Constantinople and the Dardanelles are printed by the Vienna Allgemaine Zeitung. The provisions of the agreement as printed by the newspaper were:

"First—England and France will do everything possible to force the Dardanelles, open a way to Constantinople and take the Turkish capital.

"Second—Russia will, whenever possible, support the British and French from the Bosporus.

"Third—Constantinople and the Dardanelles will go to Russia.

"Fourth—This contract is to be kept a secret from Rumania, since its publication might influence Rumania's attitude unfavorably.

"Fifth—Russia contracts to press forward to Berlin by the end of March at the latest."

Hurricane.

HALF OF MISSING BELIEVED DEAD.

Galveston's Loss of Life in Storm is Slight.

People of Outside Counties Suffered the Most.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) Aug. 19.—Known dead outside of Galveston from Monday night's West Indian hurricane were 101, according to reports here tonight. Missing outside of Galveston were 158. Of the missing list it was feared more than half were dead. Communication with Galveston and Texas City, a distance of sixty miles from here, continued to be a matter of many hours. It was known that Galveston's loss of life was comparatively light and it was evident that the island city was not rushing out any appeals for aid.

OUTSIDE OF GALVESTON.

The dead and missing lists outside of Galveston tonight, as recorded here, are:

DEAD.

Morgan Point, six.
Wallaceville, three.
Lynchburg, five.
Port Arthur, five.
Anahuac, five.
Texas City, thirty-two.
Surfside, nineteen.
Houston, four.
Jennings Landing, three.
San Leon, three.
Seabrook, two.
Cedar Bayou, two.
Freeport, one.
Sour Lake, one.
Orange, one.
Alvin, one.
San Jacinto Battleground, one.
Dickinson, one.
Scattered on beaches, six.
Total, 101.

ESTIMATE OF MISSING.

According to the latest estimates there are 158 persons missing.

Remote points on Galveston Bay, a body of water the size of an ordinary county, which penetrates the mainland for fifty miles, began to report today, some of them bringing small quotas of unidentified dead. At Anahuac, on this bay, the loss of the United States dredge boat, No. 12, was confirmed, but there was no loss of life, as reported from Beaumont. The loss of life at Anahuac was placed at five.

The destruction by the storm of the lighthouse at Surfside, Tex., about fifty miles below Galveston, was confirmed by couriers from that section tonight. These couriers said they knew positively that nineteen persons lost their lives in the lighthouse. It collapsed under the impact of huge waves and roaring wind between midnight and 2 a.m. Tuesday.

Inland for 100 miles on each side of Houston, the vast, flat, South Texas prairies are dotted with crushed buildings, many isolated trees have their branches whipped almost bare of foliage and the whole country still is teeming with water from the effects of a rainfall of nearly seven inches, which accompanied the hurricane. Today for the first time since the storm, the intermittent rains, gales and alarming black clouds disappeared and the sun shone brightly.

NEED DISINFECTANTS.

Harris county, where Houston is situated, has provided large quantities of disinfectant materials to use about bodies of domestic animals which perished by hundreds along the edge of the bays. The steamer Honduras, overdue at Freeport, Tex., with thirty-four persons aboard, reported her safe arrival there late today.

Railroads promised by tomorrow to have trains running on regular schedule from here to Texas City and thence by barge about six miles across the bay to Galveston. One road sent two trains to Texas City today, one morning and one evening, both crowded with passengers.

The list of missing in the hurricane was reduced tonight by 106, when men from the dredges Sam Houston and San Jacinto, carrying, respectively, fifty-six and fifty men, reported that all hands were safe. Some of the Sam Houston men escaped to Galveston.

The first boat to leave Houston for Galveston returned here tonight, having taken more than twenty-four hours to make the round trip. It left Houston yesterday and stopped in Galveston today for two hours. Among its passengers were J. E. Farnsworth of Dallas, vice-president of the Southwestern Telegraph Company, who went to Galveston to get Mrs. Farnsworth. They returned here together.

The tug Helen Henderson was found today sunk in the Texas City Channel. What became of her crew of nine was not discovered. The dredge Houston was found today broken in two with no trace of her fifty men.

None of the floating bodies reported seen near the bay resorts have been reported recovered.

WILSON SENDS HIS SYMPATHY.

ASKS TEXAS IF THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT CAN HELP IN ANY WAY.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—President Wilson sent a telegram to Gov. Ferguson of Texas late today expressing the sympathy of the nation over the losses suffered on the Gulf Coast in the tropical hurricane, and inquiring whether the Federal government could render any help.

Anxiety in official circles over the safety of army officers and men stationed near Galveston was relieved during the day by the apparent certainty that there would be no additions to the list of ten soldiers who perished in the destruction of the big camp of the Second Division at Texas City.

Galveston advices to the Treasury Department today describe the storm as equal to that of 1900 and said:

"Only six reported dead, other than on the dredges and towboats. Ten thousand dollars' damage was done to the postoffice."

The reports came from A. J. Rosenthal, deputy Collector of Customs and the superintendent of the Coast Guard, who announced that the Galveston, San Luis and Velasco Coast Guard stations were gone, with losses of life. Rosenthal reported that train service was expected by Friday.

FREE CARRIAGE FOR RELIEF SUPPLIES.

Shipments of food and relief supplies for the flood sufferers of Texas will be carried free by the American Express Company when consigned to the municipal authorities or regularly organized relief committees, according to an announcement made yesterday by F. F. La Rowe, general agent of the company here.

THE WEATHER BACK EAST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 19.—Chicago continues unseasonably chilly with maximum of 69 deg., but the day was clear. Lower temperatures prevailed in all lake cities, the Southeast and Southwest, but Eastern States continue hot. Arkansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Louisiana had drenching rains, Memphis reporting 3.32 inches and Little Rock 2.48. This probably is an aftermath of the Texas coast hurricane. Other temperatures:

NORSE PROTEST AGAINST GERMANS

CHRISTIANIA (Norway) Aug. 19, (via London 12:20 p.m.)—The halting yesterday of the Norwegian mail steamer Haakon VII. and the seizure of mails on board by a German submarine have been followed by a protest to Berlin and a demand for the return of the mails to Norway. The Haakon VII. was bound from Bergen to England.

The postmaster general reports the commander of the German submarine ordered the jettisoning of all printed matter and packages destined to England, France, Italy or other countries hostile to Germany. All letters and remittance moneys are said to have been taken aboard the submarine.

The mail consisted of accumulations since the sailing on Monday of the previous steamer. Included were seven sacks of mail from Denmark.

What the newspapers term the "mail theft" has aroused a storm of resentment.

German submarines are said to be watching every inlet to the important ports of Norway.

TROOPS LANDED AT SUVLA BAY.

LONDON, Aug. 19.—Additional troops have been landed by the British at Suvla Bay, Gallipoli Peninsula. This announcement was made here officially this afternoon.

The War Office admits that after twenty-four hours of heavy fighting, in which no satisfactory progress was made, the British advance was halted. Losses on both sides were very large.

Recent cable dispatches have indicated that the French and British have determined upon a great attempt to capture the Dardanelles as speedily as possible. London reports say that this is being done to influence the wavering Balkan states with a show of force, and if possible, to assist hard-pressed Russia by forwarding to her supplies through the straits.

Galveston.

SEA IS BECOMING NORMAL; DEAD LESS THAN TWENTY.

GALVESTON (Tex.) Aug. 19, 1 p.m. (by boat to Houston.)—The sea has returned to normal here this afternoon and the last rain storm following the hurricane stopped this afternoon. The number of dead here was not known exactly, but was estimated at less than twenty. Eight bodies were seen floating in the bay today, but it was not known whether they came from Galveston or were washed out from the mainland with the flow of the tide.

The city is under martial law with soldiers patrolling the streets and on guard in hotels. Galveston appears to have suffered outwardly much more from wind than from water. The hurricane ripped loose all manner of debris, littering it everywhere.

The city's most serious loss was the partial destruction of the $2,000,000 causeway. Only small boats ran to the mainland, so that the city temporarily is embarrassed for an adequate ferry service.

There is no evidence that there was panic during the storm.

Some of the troops of the Fifth Brigade from Fort Crockett have been quartered on the army transport Buford.

BAR HONORS ELIHU ROOT.

New Yorker is President of American Association.

Frank Lynching Denounced as a Willful Murder.

Admission of Women will be Voted on Next Year.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE (Utah) Aug. 19.—United States Senator Elihu Root of New York was unanimously elected president of the American Bar Association at its closing business session today on recommendation of the general council of the association. Walter George Smith of Philadelphia was a candidate against Senator Root before the council, but his name was not presented to the convention.

Other officers elected were: George Whitelock, Baltimore, Md., secretary; Frederick E. Wadhams, Albany, treasurer; Peter W. Meldrim, Savannah, Ga.; William C. Niblack, Chicago; Selden P. Spencer, St. Louis; William P. Bynum, Greensboro, N. C.; Chapin Brown, Washington, D. C.; Charles N. Potter, Cheyenne, Wyo.; John Lowell, Boston, and C. B. Smith, Topeka, Kan., members of the Executive Committee.

A discussion in which William H. Taft participated followed the introduction of a resolution to enlarge the quarters of the United States Supreme Court. Judge Taft proposed an amendment petitioning Congress to erect a new building for the court. The resolution and the amendment were referred to the Executive Committee with power to draw a measure for presentation to Congress.

A resolution on the Frank lynching, presented by Stephen S. Gregory of Illinois, was adopted unanimously by the association without discussion. It pronounces the lynching "a willful and deliberate murder by mob violence, concerted and accomplished in a spirit of savage and remorseless cruelty unworthy of our age and time," and expresses the hope of the association that the authorities will speedily bring the guilty parties to the bar of public justice.

The question of admitting women to membership in the association went over to the 1916 convention.

COURT ACQUITS VON AUFFENBERG.

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (via Tuckerton, N. J.)—The Austrian general, Moritz von Auffenberg, former Austro-Hungarian Minister of War, has been acquitted after a two-days' trial by court-martial of the charge brought against him, according to a dispatch from Vienna, given out by the Overseas News Agency today.

"The official charge," the agency dispatch says, "read that the general, when War Minister in 1912, communicated army secrets about mobilization of certain parts of the Austrian army, and regarding an increase of the peace status and the disposition of commanding generals, to a retired officer, Col. Von Schwarz, thereby endangering army interests."

SWISS MUNITIONS FOR BOTH SIDES.

GENEVA (via Paris) Aug. 19.—The Lausanne Gazette says that the English government has recently placed large orders for ammunition, especially shells, with Swiss factories, supplying the raw material to the Swiss through France, and that Swiss watch makers by thousands are engaged in making the more delicate parts of projectiles. Germany, the Gazette says, likewise has placed orders for munitions with Swiss manufacturers.

Approximately $3,000,000 was the worth of the 1914 Walnut Crop in Southern California.

Walnut growing forms one of the staple industries of the State—and yet it is in its infancy.

The demand for California walnuts exceeds the supply, and better prices are obtained each succeeding year.

Walnut ranching is profitable, but only for the man who has some capital. You may have an ambition to own a walnut grove, but the only way you will ever realize it is to save money.

The Bank for Everybody

The Essence of Real Banking Service

is to promote the welfare of the community in which the institution is situated.

It is not enough to safeguard deposits and render efficient banking service; far more than this is within the power of the conservative, yet truly progressive bank.

By carefully selecting from the loans and investments offered, those which are most closely related to the progress of the community, a bank can do a great deal toward promoting local interests and developing local resources.

Loans on local real estate for building purposes or other enterprises which increase our community's welfare and activity and furnish employment for labor are thus not only a benefit to those directly interested, but indirectly to all the depositors and other patrons of the bank making these loans.

Such a policy has been followed by this Bank for twenty-five years. This standard of practical service to the entire community has no doubt been largely responsible for the rapid increase in the patronage it has enjoyed during that time.

The Officers and Directors appreciate this patronage and have long determined that the policies which have proved so successful and beneficial to all concerned in the past, shall continue to characterize the activities of this Bank in the future.

BOARD OF PARDONS MEETS.

New Advisers to Governor on Convict Matters Organize at the State Capitol of Sacramento.

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—The State Board of Pardons, consisting of Lieut.-Gov. Eshleman, Atty.-Gen. Webb and Wardens J. A. Johnston of San Quentin and J. J. Smith of Folsom, held its first meeting today in the Capitol.

The pardon board was created at the last Legislature to act in an advisory capacity to the Governor, in considering applications for reprieves, pardons and commutation of sentences.

Frank Fenton, a San Francisco attorney, will be secretary of the new board at a salary of $150 per month.

FOR INSPECTION OF EXPORTS.

RECOMMENDATION IS MADE TO TRADE COMMISSION.

More Support for California Alfalfa Producers is Urged at Hearing in San Francisco—Increase of Traffic with South America is also Considered.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The recommendation that a Federal inspection be maintained to pass on American exports was made to the Federal Trade Commission which concluded its hearings here today.

E. C. Horst and F. A. Somers of San Francisco, large exporters of food products, stated that a Federal stamp of approval on goods increases sale of the goods in foreign countries by giving buyers confidence. All voiced the need of more transportation facilities. Mr. Somers called attention to the fact that California farmers were discouraged in raising barley in California because of the fluctuations in freight rates.

He stated that alfalfa producers of the State were entitled to more support. At present 600,000 acres have an annual yield of 3,000,000 tons. This output, he said, with sufficient transportation facilities, could easily be doubled.

C. H. Bentley, sales manager for a large San Francisco canning concern, said that aside from Great Britain the import tax against all classes of canned goods in other countries were so prohibitive that the business amounted to practically nothing. He believed this was due to retaliatory measures.

"A can of tomatoes," he said, "which cost her 10 cents will cost the Rio Janeiro consumer an American gold dollar. There will be no relief until we can offer reciprocal terms. We should have a permanent, nonpartisan tariff committee as they have in Germany, whose sole purpose is to keep after and adjust this business."

The commission will hold similar hearings at Los Angeles, August 23; San Diego, August 28; Salt Lake City, Utah, September 1, and Denver, September 3.

ELECT JOHNSON HEAD OF N.E.A.

Miss Strachan of New York Gets but Small Vote.

Ella Flagg Young Discusses Vocational Training.

Manufacturing Interests are Pushing the Movement.

OAKLAND, Aug. 19.—David B. Johnson, president of Winthrop Normal and Industrial College, Rock Hill, S. C., was today elected president of the National Education Association by delegates to the fifty-third annual convention.

The election followed several days of political activity, Mr. Johnson was given a vote of 479 against 184 cast for Grace E. Strachan, district superintendent of schools of New York City, whose name was placed before the convention in a minority report from the nominating committee. Officers for the coming year were also elected.

They are:

First vice-president, David Starr Jordan, California; second vice-president, Mrs. J. M. Greenwood, Kansas City, Mo.; third vice-president, Mrs. Mary C. O. Bradford, State Superintendent of Instruction of Colorado; fourth vice-president, John D. Lober, City Superintendent of Schools, Phoenix, Ariz.; fifth vice-president, John E. Bray, Nevada; sixth vice-president, Mrs. Josephine Preston, State Superintendent of Instruction, Washington; seventh vice-president Walter R. Siders, Idaho; eighth vice-president, W. N. Shaths, Florida; ninth vice-president, Mason L. Stone, Vermont; tenth vice-president, J. George Bacht, Pennsylvania; eleventh vice-president, Frank L. Crone, Philippine Islands. Miss Grace M. Shepherd, Boise, Idaho, was re-elected treasurer of the association. There were no contests for these offices.

After his election President Johnson thanked the California delegates for the way they had lived up to the resolution in which they pledged themselves not to take advantage of their numerical strength to set aside the recommendations of the nominating committee.

"The balance of power," he said, rested with the California teachers so far as the election was concerned. I wish to congratulate California on its stand in favor of the dignity of the N.E.A."

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of schools, Chicago, in an address on vocational training, declared that the big manufacturing interests of the country are doing all in their power for the establishment of vocational schools without academic training. She said in part:

"The question of establishing vocational schools has resolved itself into a struggle between the industrial interests of the country and the teaching fraternity.

"The manufacturing interests already are complaining that our graduates from vocational schools have too much academic training and demand advancement shortly after they secure employment.

"I met a very rich man ten days ago who said to me: 'Mrs. Young, when you give children more education than their parents can pay for you are giving them a luxury and because it is a luxury, you and the schools of the United States have no right to give it to them.'

"And this man considers himself a philanthropist."

EPISCOPAD SYNOD OPENS.

Rector Charges 75 Per Cent. of Church Members Only Help in Religious Work by Accident.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

OAKLAND, Aug. 19.—Charging that 75 per cent. of the church members in the United States help in religious work by accident and that the remaining 25 per cent. are not composed of the most intelligent members of the congregation, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Selden Lloyd, D.D., of New York opened the primary synod of the eighth province of the Episcopal Church today with a plea for the get-together spirit among Episcopal dioceses.

The bishop's address marked the organization of the eighth province and was attended by bishops, clerky and lay delegates from seven Pacific Coast States.

"I expect to die," said Bishop Lloyd, "before the East finds out that the strength of a diocese is comparable to the effort it puts forth. You in the West are more American than are the people of the East. This is the great opportunity of the West."

At a business session preceding the address Bishop William Ford Nichols of the diocese of California was elected president of the new district and the Rev. Alfred Lockwood of Spokane secretary of the session.

PRAISE RESERVE ACT.

Speakers at San Francisco Declare It Will Completely Revolutionize Methods in America.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—That the Federal reserve act in time will completely revolutionize banking methods in America was the conviction expressed by speakers at today's session of the thirteenth annual convention of the American Institute of Banking.

Russell Lowry, deputy governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco, declared that the Federal banks had been striving definitely for the accomplishment of two things:

"To improve the quality of the single-name promissory note so that it will be based on ascertained facts of financial condition, and represent a real commercial credit.

"To bring into more general use a higher class of commercial instrument, in form and quality nearly approaching the European standard—paper that will be current outside the community of its origin, and pass from hand to hand, as checks do, at face value and without fear of loss."

CHARLES SCHMIDT GIVEN FREEDOM.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 19.—Charles P. Schmidt, sentenced to life imprisonment at San Quentin Prison from Los Angeles on a charge of criminal assault against his stepdaughter, was granted his freedom on commutation by Gov. Johnson today. Schmidt had served two years. Evidence in the hands of the Governor indicates that Lem Yen, a Chinese, since deported, committed the crime for which Schmidt was sentenced, although Schmidt's conduct toward the girl also was improper.

Gov. Johnson commuted the sentence of Milton Simons, who was serving a two-year term in San Quentin for horse stealing from Mendocino county. Simons was released so he can return home and support his aged wife.

"TIMES" PARTY INVITED GUESTS.

ENJOY "MANHATTAN DAY" AT THE EXPOSITION.

Excursionists from Los Angeles Enter into Celebration with Great Zest and are Having Time of Their Lives at All Big Attractions at the Exposition.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 19.—The members of The Times excursion were guests of the Panama-Pacific Exposition at the City of New York Building, when 100 prominent citizens of the borough of Manhattan and a large number of the members of the New York Society of California celebrated "Manhattan Day" at the fair with a programme which began at 2:30 o'clock in the New York City Building.

Marcus M. Marks, the president of the borough of Manhattan, arrived in San Francisco yesterday to take part in the celebration and make the opening speech.

At the request of the editor of the bureau of exploitation, The Times excursionists were specially-invited guests and entered into the proceedings with the zeal and enthusiasm for which they are becoming noted. There were many attractions for the party to enjoy, among them the international yachting regatta off the Marina, for which the handsome gold loving cup sent by King George of England is offered as a trophy. It is also the Ladies of the Grand Army Day and the Veterans' Day and the Praetorian Day, with band concerts playing at various stands throughout the grounds all day.

The members of The Times party are industrious pleasure seekers and are to be found at all the concessions on the Zone in the evening, when the fun is at its height. They also flock to the Panama Canal, and being very vital and full of the essence of joy they are careful not to miss Toyland and the Scenic Railway and the Jesters' Palace, from whence they can be seen and heard falling in and out of dark and unsuspected places. Of course, they all pursue the studious and educational routine with vigor and earnestness, and they listen to the music with great relish.

They stroll through the Palace of Fine Arts with catalogues, ardently studying the masters and new exponents of the fine arts; they all go to the Southern California exhibits in the California Building, and some of them wander on into the ballroom to dance and have tea. They are having the time of their lives, and the exposition, while it rejoices over all its guests, finds those from The Times excursion the most enthusiastic, generous and appreciative of them all.

Funeral in New York to Take Place Today.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Lester Bauer of Chicago, who was chairman of the Leo Frank committee, and very active in obtaining commutation of Frank's sentence, announced today that $1500 of a $20,000 fund to be offered as a reward for the apprehension of members of the mob which lynched Frank has been raised.

MOTHER EXTENDS THANKS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Mrs. Rudolph Frank, mother of Leo Frank, gave out a statement today in which she thanked the public for the kindness and sympathy extended to the Frank family. She said she and her husband had received a large number of messages of sympathy from southerners during the past two days. She declined to announce when the funeral would take place.

By 10 o'clock a quiet crowd of more than 200 people had gathered in front of the Frank home.

The body of Frank was brought here early today. Detectives and police were on hand to guard against any demonstration, but few persons were gathered at the station. Mrs. Frank, who accompanied the body of her husband on the trip from Atlanta, was greeted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Otto Stern, and others of Frank's relatives.

Frank's body was taken under police guard to an undertaker's establishment near the home of his father, Rudolph Frank.

Otto Stern, brother-in-law of Frank, said the funeral tomorrow would be private.

GOV. HARRIS'S ACTION.

ATLANTA (Ga.) Aug. 19.—Governor Harris today conferred with the State Prison Commission before taking further action for investigation of the lynching of Leo M. Frank. The Governor expects to give out a statement later.

Although the Governor has received many reports of what is alleged to have taken place from the time the mob left Milledgeville until Frank was hanged, he does not credit any of them.

"These reports have no knowable foundation of fact and should not be given credence," Gov. Harris said.

O. B. Keeler, a newspaper man, employed in Atlanta, but residing in Marietta, in a published article today says that Frank's wedding ring was delivered to him at his home late last night by a man unknown to him. Keeler says a note in an envelope with the ring read:

"Frank's dying request was that his wedding ring be given to his wife. Will you not see that this request is carried out? The note will be delivered to you by a man you do not know and who does not know you. Make no effort to find out his identity. You are expected to destroy this after reading it."

Keeler stated he would have the ring delivered to Mrs. Frank.

FRENCH REPORT OF OPERATIONS

PARIS, Aug. 19, 2:08 p.m.—The War Office this evening made public the following communication.

"The artillery fighting continues in Champagne on the greater part of the front, notably on both banks of the Aisne in the region of Ploissis-de Roye and at Vingre, where we hit an enemy train and convoy and also in Champagne and in the southern Woevre.

"In the forest of the Argonne the Germans exploded near Hill 285 a mine which did not disturb our works. In the Vosges the enemy confined himself to violent cannonading on the positions of Linge and Schratzmann hills.

"During an action yesterday which enabled us to realize in Artois a very appreciable gain, we took prisoners and captured five machine guns."

SEVEN HUNDRED KILLED IN BATTLE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LAREDO (Tex.) Aug. 19.—Seven hundred dead and a large number wounded was the result of a battle Tuesday between Carranza and Villa forces near Monterey, according to Monterey advices received at the Nuevo Laredo Carranza headquarters today. The followers of Villa, it is said, were attempting to capture Monterey, which is under Carranza control. They were repulsed and retreated to the westward. Of the dead Villa lost 500 and the Carranza followers 200, according to the report.

ASKS RELEASE OF AMERICANS.

THREE TAKEN PRISONERS BY CARRANZA FORCES.

Frederick Simpich, Consul at Nogales, Receives Word of Arrest of Southern Pacific Superintendent. Calles Captures Magdalena and Large Amount of Booty.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NOGALES (Ariz.) Aug. 19.—Frederick Simpich, American Consul at Nogales, Sonora, received information today that C. E. Cates, an assistant superintendent of the Southern Pacific Railroad of Mexico, and two other Americans had been made prisoners by Carranza forces, which captured Imuris last Monday. A demand was made for their release.

The men taken prisoner with Cates were a conductor named Hamm and an engineer named Miller. With three Mexican railroad employees, according to the report made to Simpich, they were forced to gather the dead on the battlefield on which the Carranza troops had defeated the Villa forces. Afterward, lashed together, the prisoners were taken in the direction of Cananea.

The reports were brought to the border by Americans.

The Carranza force which captured Imuris also took Magdalena, according to an official report to Gen. P. Elias Calles, which also alleges that the booty captured included a military train, 400 head of cattle, 100 horses and several hundred rifles, with a large quantity of ammunition.

Calles now claims to have completed the isolation of Gov. Maytorena, the Villa chief, in Nogales. Gen. Calles telegraphed his representative here tonight that the Americans taken prisoners at Imuris would be sent to Naco tomorrow. The men, according to his message, are not being mistreated. They were taken prisoners, it was stated, because they had ignored Calles's order not to send any more trains into disputed territory.

News of the arrest of the railroad men caused some excitement. Some threats were made against representatives of the Carranza faction.

Calles issued a second warning to Americans not to ride on trains in disputed territory, because of the necessity sometimes of dynamiting military trains.

Arrivals from Cumpas reported today that eighty men of the garrison of Ures had declared for Carranza and were massacred by 400 Yaqui Indians who heard of their change of allegiance.

THE WAY TO PEACE MAY BE VIA ROME.

ROME, Aug. 19 (via Paris) 6 p.m.—Pope Benedict in receiving Minister Regout, who presented his credentials as Dutch envoy accredited to the Holy See, expressed the hope that the decision of the Dutch government again to be represented at the Vatican after the lapse of fifteen years might constitute an important factor in the near future in events leading to the pacification of Europe.

These words are interpreted here as confirming the view that the Dutch legation to the papacy was instituted principally to allow Holland to follow and support papal initiatives in favor of peace, and also to enable the Dutch government to invite the pontiff to the peace conference at the close of the war in case it should be held at the Hague.

Mann, prominent Chicago attorney, who has just returned after a two months' tour of the warring nations. Only unforeseen developments can bring the war to a termination within any reasonable length of time, in the opinion of the lawyer.

Mr. Mann arrived in New York last Saturday on the liner Baltic after a nine-day trip from Liverpool. He sailed for Europe from the same port June 12 on the steamer St. Louis.

"There was no doubt of real danger to the Baltic," he said in describing the trip across the Atlantic. "We were convoyed by torpedo boats for the first twenty-six hours out of Liverpool. All lights were out and the ship zigzagged all the way across the ocean. Sometimes we were going north, sometimes south and sometimes east, doubling back on our course. We were not certain of our safety until the Statue of Liberty was sighted."

VISITS MANY CAPITALS.

On his visit to Europe, Mr. Mann visited the capitals of Russia, Germany, France and England as well as the capital of Sweden. He was in close touch with high government officials andt he Ambassadors and Consuls of the American government at all times. He drew information from the most reliable sources. As a result he sees the far-reaching possibilities of the conflict.

These possibilities are:

Indeterminable conflict, to be ended no one knows how.

Of the powers at war, Russia, England, France and Germany have unlimited resources of men, money and food supplies, Mr. Mann found.

MEN AT FRONT NOT MISSED.

"The men at the front are not missed by the visitor in Petrograd," he said. "One sees men everywhere—on the streets, in the factories, on the rivers. Russia had 7,000,000 men at the front when I was there in June. She was then recruiting another army of 3,000,000. And Petrograd, seemingly, had not been depleted of men in any degree.

"Concerning the future policy of the Russian government, after interviews with several members of the Cabinet and Duma, editors of Pertograd papers, judges, a few bankers and some business men, I became convinced that the internal policy will be based upon the principles af impartial and benevolent regard for the interests of all subjects, without distinction of nationality, language or religion.

"It is quite true that the argument of the Russian officials upon the Jewish question is not altogether without merit. With a good deal of feeling they say that most of the spies about Warsaw and Riga have been recruited from the Russian Jews and that not one Jew has returned to their country to fight. Minister Saxonoff saying that of the many thousand Russian reserves coming from South America, not one Jew returned."

BRITISH DETAIN BOAT FROM HERE.

LONDON (Monday) Aug. 16.—(Delayed by censor.)—The Danish motor boat Jutlandia from San Francisco for Copenhagen with a general cargo has been detained at Kirkwall by the British authorities for examination.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The Danish motor ship Jutlandia, detained at Kirkwall, Scotland, by British authorities, sailed from here June 26 with a cargo of dried fruits and barley, valued at $15,000, shipped by Strauss & Co., of San Francisco, to Acajutla, Salvador. Another cargo was taken aboard there, consigned to Danish ports.

DENIES CLAIM ON ARMENIAN

No Liability Exists When Vessels are Torpedoed with Warning.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—The decision of the United States to refuse all claims for life or property lost aboard ships torpedoed with due warning, was made clear today when it became known that a claim in the case of John Wall, a muleteer killed when the Armenian was sunk, would not be taken up by the State Department. The department holds that there can be no legal claim in cases like the Armenian where ample warning was given and the ship refused to obey even when subjected to shell fire.

FORCE A PASSSAGE ACROSS THE BUG.

VIENNA, Aug. 19, (via London, 11:40 p.m.)—The following official statement was issued today at the Austrian War Office:

"Hungarian troops under Archduke Joseph Ferdinand and Gen. Von Koeyess have forced passage across the Bug north of Janow and Konstanynow. Niemirow and other places on the north bank were stormed and the enemy who was thrown back, now is being pursued.

"The troops investing Brest-Litovsk, in whose midst are the divisions of Field Marshal Von Arz, snatched from the enemy some advanced field positions.

"At Vladimir-Volynskyi and in East Galicia there is nothing new to report.

"Italian war theater: Italian heavy artillery fire was continued yesterday and last night against our Tyrolean fortifications.

"An attack by two hostile battalions against our advanced field positions on the Folgaria plateau was repulsed.

"Vigorous fighting continues in the northern section of the coastal front. A strong attack against Hrali failed, like all previous attacks against the southern portion of the Tolmino bridgehead. The Italians attacked unavailingly six times during the afternoon and evening and there also was bitter fighting during the night but the bridgehead is as firmly in our hands as before.

DRIVING TURKS ACROSS THE RIVER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, (via London, Aug. 19, 10:42 p.m.)—Th following official statement was issued today at the headquarters of the army of the Caucasus:

"In the direction of Oliti our scouts drove Turkish outposts across the Tchoruk River.

"In the Passine Valley the Turks kept up a cannonade all day and in the evening began an advance against our Tarkodpa position. We allowed them to approach to within a short distance of our line where we received them with an intense machine gun fire and then put them to disorderly flight with a swift bayonet attack.

"In the mountain region of Khochmongan all attacks of the Turks were repulsed."

Progress.

MORE FORTS CAPTURED BY HINDENBURG'S MEN.

Germans are Concentrating Their Efforts on Brest-Litovsk, According to the Official Statement from Berlin — Slavs are Beginning to Feel the Effects of the Loss of Kovno.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Aug. 19 (via London, 3:26 p.m.)—A further advance on the part of the German army which is attempting to capture the important Russian fortress of Brest-Litovsk was announced here officially today. The statement says that outer positions of the fortress near Rokitno, before Brest-Litovsk, were penetrated.

Announcement also was made of the capture of two forts north of Novogeorgievsk, which has been invested by the Germans for several days. In taking these forts 1000 prisoners and 125 cannon were captured.

North of Bielsk German troops have reached the railway from Bialystok to Brest-Litovsk, it is declared.

The text of the German official statement dealing with the operations on the eastern front is as follows:

"Army group of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg: On the occasion of capturing Kovno, an additional thirty officers and 3900 men were taken prisoners.

"Under pressure of the loss of Kovno, the Russians were obliged to evacuate their positions opposite Kalwarya and Suwalki. Our troops are pursuing them.

"Further south German troops crossed the Narew, west of Tyntocin. They captured 800 Russians.

"The army of Gen. Von Gallwitz has made progress in an easterly direction. North of Bielsk, our troops reached the railway from Bialystok to Brest-Litovsk. Three thousand Russians were taken prisoners.

"In the northeastern section of Novogeorgievsk our troops captured the Wkri crossing. Two forts on the north front were taken by storm, more than 1000 prisoners and 125 cannon falling into our hands.

"Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria: The left wing drove the enemy, continuously fighting, before it and in the evening reached the district west and southwest of Nieljcyce. The right wing, breaking forward across the Bug at Melnik, drove the enemy out of his strong positions in the north of this section and is progressing further.

"Army group of Field Marshal Von Mackensen: The crossing over the Bug between Niemirow and Janow has been taken possession of by allied troops.

"Before Brest-Litovsk German troops penetrated into outer positions of the fortress near Bokitno, southeast of Janow.

"South of Vladova our troops are pursuing the defeated enemy. Under pressure of our advance the enemy evacuated the eastern bank of the Bug above and below Vladova. He is being pursued."

FROM THE STATEMENT.

The text of that part of the statement of the German army headquarters dealing with operations in the western theater of war read:

"Between Angres and Souchez the enemy carried out an attack last night for which he prepared during the entire day with artillery fire. At certain places our opponents penetrated our outermost trenches and still hold that part of them which occupies the center of the attacked section. On the remainder of the front, however, they have already been driven back.

"In the Vosges the enemy renewed attacks yesterday north of Muenster against our positions on Lingekopf and Schratzmannele.

"After a temporary advance into some of our trenches on Lingekopf the opposing forces nearly everywhere were dislodged from the positions won. On Schratzmanelle the fighting continues."

Alert.

FAST ITALIAN CRUISERS MAY GO AGAINST TURKEY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

TARANTO (Italy) Aug. 19 (via Paris, Aug. 20.)—A strong squadron of fast cruisers is being held in readiness to steam from here at a moment's notice. It is expected that the warships will be sent against Turkey if that country declines to satisfy Italy's demands for the release of Italian subjects held in the Ottoman empire.

ARMY CORPS CONCENTRATED.

BRINDISI (Italy) Aug. 19 (via Paris, Aug. 20.)—Five army corps concentrated at Apulia have been ordered to be prepared to leave for an unknown destination.

Extent of Operation of Jitneys.

Information obtained from mayors, bankers, and railway authorities in various municipalities, states E. Gordon Lee in the August Case and Comment, discloses that out of 138 cities representing 45 States, the District of Columbia, and 8 of the principal cities of the Dominion of Canada, jitney busses are operated at present in 106, leaving 32 in which there is no traffic of this character. Of the 106 cities in which the jitney bus lines are established, 10 report that the number of jitneys in operation is decreasing, and of the 32 cities reporting no jitney service 7 advise that the "jitneys" appeared, but were discontinued, either because they proved unprofitable or by reason of unfavorable public sentiment, reflected in ordinances for their regulation or extinction.

Baltic.

GERMANS THREATEN RIGA, ADMISSION OF PETROGRAD.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Aug. 19 (via London, Aug. 20.)—That German warships again are menacing Riga, the big Russian port on the Baltic, is indicated by an official communication issued here tonight. The communication says:

"Our warships protecting the entrance to the Gulf of Riga yesterday drew closer in after a fight, owing to the great superiority of the enemy's fleet.

"On the whole front from Riga to Janow there has been no important change. At Kovno the enemy continues to develop vigorously the success he already has attained. He succeeded in occupying the town and, advancing farther, has established himself in the adjoining district, which forms the isthmus between the Niemen and the Wilia.

"At Ossowets during the night of the 17th and in the course of the following day German attacks on our positions were repulsed by our fire. On the front from Ossowets to Brest and further south the fighting continues. It has been characterized in certain sectors by extreme tenacity. The enemy displayed particular obstinacy on the 17th and the 18th in his attack on our troops in the direction of Bielsk, along the Tcheremkha Railway and near Vladova.

"On the Galician front there has been no change.

"At Novogeorgievsk the enemy is attacking the fortifications on the right bank of the Vistula and on the Narew with increasing vigor. The fighting is of a most determined character. Our wire entanglements are covered with heaps of German dead. Nevertheless the German artillery, which developed a maximum intensity of fire, succeeded in silencing our guns and demolishing the fortifications in the sector between the Wkra and the Narew after which our defenders, in spite of all their efforts, were obliged to fall back to the right bank of the Wkra. This enabled the Germans to concentrate the subsequent efforts on the northern sector between the Wkra and the Vistula."

Lime-Loss in Tuberculosis.

In the Journal of the American Medical Association (January 17, 1914,) was the following:

"It has been many times stated that in tuberculosis or in the pretuberculosis stage an increased amount of calcium (lime) is lost both in the urine and feces. In fact, a demineralization has been thought to be a forerunner of the development of tuberculosis."

If tuberculosis is due to lime loss, the success of Eckman's Alterative in its treatment may be due, in part, to its content of a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated.

Always we have urged consumptives to attend strictly to matters of food, but often some effective remedial agent is needed. In many cases of apparent recovery Eckman's Alterative seems to have supplied this need. It contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, so is safe to try. From your druggist or direct.

Classified Liners.

AGATE TYPE ONLY.

Accepted subject to the following rates and rules: Rates: The rate for inserting Want Ads in the Daily Times is 1c per word each insertion; in the Sunday issue 1½c per word each insertion; minimum charge applicable to a single insertion and to each non-consecutive insertion, 25c; except under the following classifications, the rate for which is 2c per word daily, 2½c per word Sunday, minimum charge, applicable to a single insertion and to each non-consecutive insertion, 30c daily, 35c Sunday: "Society Meetings," "Personals," "Spe cial Notices," "Church Notices," "Miscellaneous," "Stocks and Bonds," "Money to Loan, Salary and Chattels," "Physicians," "Medical," "Detectives," "Entertainment" and "Baths and Massage."

An extra charge of 25 per cent, is made for the use of capital letters.

Minimum space for classified advertisements ordered for more than one insertion, 14 words.

White space and dashes are charged for on the basis of seven words to a line.

Ads set solid are counted strictly by the word.

For paragraphed or lined-up matter set in caps, estimate five (5) average words to the line; set in caps, estimate five (5) average words to each the first line and eight (8) average words to each additional line in this kind of advertising. The actual number of words set solid is counted, and eight (8) words added for each unfilled line.

The Times cannot guarantee accuracy or assume responsibility for errors of any kind occurring in telephoned advertisements.

The Times will not be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion of any advertisement ordered for more than one time.

Errors not the fault of the advertiser, which clearly lessen the value of an advertisement, will be rectified only by republication without extra charge, on presentation of receipt within five days after insertion. No allowance will be made where the error does not materially affect the value of the advertisement.

No adjustment will be made for advertising items not affected by an error or errors which may occur in other items in the same advertisement.

Advertisers should retain receipts given by The Times as payment for "liners," as no mistake can be rectified without them.

The Times will not accept phone or verbal orders for discontinue or change "till forbid" advertisements.

Telephoned orders to discontinue advertising in The Times are numbered in the order of their receipt, and in each instance the number of the order is given to the advertiser, who should make a record thereof. In case of dispute no charge for advertising will be rebated unless the "stop order" number is presented to The Times by the advertiser.

Sunday real estate advertisements, to be classified properly, must be in The Times office before 8 o'clock Saturday night. Other classified "Wants," "To Lets," etc., received over counter or by telephone until 12 p.m. Saturday. Ads received after Sunday issue for each division will be inserted under heading "Too Late to Classify." Rate 1½ cents per word.

The Sunday circulation of The Times exceeds 90,000 copies, and more "liners" are regularly published in its columns than in the five other Los Angeles newspapers combined.

Telephone your want advertisements. Ring up "The Times." Main 8200, Home 10091, any time of day or night, and secure prompt and careful attention.

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Sees Improvement.

Myer Siegel of Myer Siegel & Co., who has just returned from an extensive eastern trip, says that in New York he observed financial conditions are materially improving.

Marriage Licenses North.

Marriage licenses were obtained yesterday in San Francisco by Marlowe Martin, 29, of this city and Mary Jackson, 29, of Chicago; and Leny B. Isbell, 33, and Clara E. McHary, 37, both of this city.

Women's Republican League.

The Women's Republican League will meet in the Title Guarantee Building at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. F. C. Prescott will speak "On National Defenses." Mrs. Morrison will be hostess at tea after the meeting.

Japanese Fair Chief Here.

M. Wakabayastu, chief of the department of exhibits of the Japanese government, arrived here yesterday from Tokyo on the liner Kiyo Maru. He will spend several days as the guest of U. Oyama, Japanese vice-consul, No. 1512 Hobart boulevard, and will then visit the two expositions. Later he will tour the country.

Children Entertain.

A club formed of children living in the southwest gave an entertainment last night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. William Behr, No. 2081 West Twenty-ninth street, for the benefit of the Maude Booth Orphan Home. More than 100 persons were present and a large amount of money was taken in for the home. The programme will be repeated at 8 o'clock this evening at the same address.

Indian Commissioner Coming.

Hon. Cato Sells, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, accompanied by his private secretary, Paul Hoffman, will be in the city today and pay a visit to the offices in the Federal Building devoted to the uses of the Indian service. Commissioner Sells has just returned from an extensive tour of inspection of the Indian reservations in Arizona and the Southwest.

Customs Chief Due.

F. M. Halstead, chief of the United States custom service, with headquarters in Washington, will be in Los Angeles today, to make a trip over the local collection district, beginning at San Pedro and extending down to Calexico and the Mexican boundary line. Beginning with Saturday, he will spend three days making the trip of inspection.

Reunion of Ohio Societies.

The Federation of the Ohio Societies of Southern California will hold its reunion and picnic at Bixby Park, Long Beach, next Thursday. The Committee on Arrangements has announced an interesting programme. Free coffee will be served and half-rate admission to all concessions on the Pike granted to those wearing the official Ohio badge. S. M. Cooper is president and George C. Diehl secretary of the federation.

To Discuss Reclamation.

California as the paradise for the average man will be the subject of the first noonday lecture at the Chamber of Commerce Monday by George H. Maxwell, managing director of the National Reclamation Association. Mr. Maxwell will follow this lecture by others on the inauguration of the reclamation movement in the Southwest, and the field for future effort in this line.

She Ran Away.

When Rosebud Christ, 16 years of age, whose home is with her mother at No. 116 West Eighty-fifth place, failed to return at the regular time Wednesday night, Mrs. Christ notified the police, fearing the girl had been kidnaped. Detectives yesterday located the missing girl at the Ponet apartments, where she was registered under an assumed name. She claimed her failure to return to her home was due to trouble with her mother. She is held by the juvenile authorities.

TWO TRAINS MAROONED.

Several Hundred Passengers on the Denver and Rio Grande Detained at Buena Vista, Colo.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUENA VISTA (Colo.) Aug. 19.—Two Denver and Rio Grande through trains, with several hundred passengers, were marooned here today when several cars of one of the trains were derailed on account of soft tracks. The trains had been detoured over the Colorado Midland, the Rio Grande line being blocked by washouts.

Another Denver and Rio Grange train is held at Newett, Colo., and another at Hartzell. No passengers were injured in the derailment here.

Heavy rains washed out the Rio Grande tracks west of Pueblo. Trains then were sent over the Midland tracks, which in turn were blocked when six cars went off the track here.

LAND MARINES AT ST. MARC.

MEN FROM THE CASTINE TAKE POSSESSION OF ANOTHER TOWN IN HAITI.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 19.—One company of American marines has landed at St. Marc, Haiti, and taken control of the town. An attempt to oppose the landing failed.

The Navy Department issued this statement:

"Admiral Caperton has reported that the United States steamer Castine landed one company of marines at St. Marc, Haiti, and has assumed control of that town. The occupation of St. Marc will serve to guard the food supply for the city of Port au Prince. An attempt was made to organize an armed opposition to the landing force, but this effort was not successful, and some dissatisfied Haitiens with arms left for the mountains before the landing occurred."

CARDINAL VANNUTELLI.

ROME, Aug. 19.—Cardinal Serafino Vannutelli, dean of the Sacred College, is dead at the age of 81.

Cardinal Vannutelli was one of the most influential of those members of the Sacred College eligible to the papacy. He was one of the six cardinal bishops who take their title from the suburban sees of Rome. He was bishop of Porto, Santa Rufina and Ostia. He was created and proclaimed Cardinal by Pope Leo XIII, March 14, 1887.

The Cardinal was born November 26, 1834 at Genazzano in the diocese of Palastrina. His early education was obtained in the seminary of Genazzano and he received degrees in philosophy and theology in the Capranica College at Rome.

After teaching theology in the Pontifical Seminary he embarked upon a diplomatic career and was successively secretary to the Papal Nuncio in Bavaria, apostolic delegate to Ecuador and Peru and Nuncio at Brussels and Vienna.

PERSONALS

Chancellor and Mrs. Avery of the University of Nebraska left yesterday for San Francisco after a delightful week's visit at the home of their long-time friends, Mrs. F. C. Porter and daughter, No. 821 West Fifth street, Glendale.

Dr. Charles G. Pease of New York City, president of the Non-Smokers' Protective League of America and an ardent enemy of the "weed," who has been lecturing at various points in Southern California, returned to the city yesterday and is registered at the Alexandria.

Among the interesting guests at the Clark are George A. Smith, sugar manufacturer of Salt Lake City; W. L. Truesdale, president of the Dental Manufacturing Company of New York City, and H. C. Ney, capitalist of Hartford, Ct.

Thomas Nelson, a retired merchant of San Francisco, and his family, who are making a journey by motor car to San Diego, are at the Hollenbeck. They will spend several days on the good roads of Los Angeles county before proceeding to the southern city.

Attorney James R. Dunsheath of Tucson and J. C. Cushing, powder manufacturer of San Francisco, were among the arrivals at the Van Nuys yesterday.

George Hooper, lumber dealer, and Mrs. Hooper of Seattle are passing several days at the Angelus. J. R. Shamper, carpet manufacturer of Boston, is at the same hotel.

Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Rannell and their daughter of Bartlesville, Okla., who are here on an extended pleasure trip, are making their temporary headquarters at the Hayward.

J. H. McGigert and A. B. Peckinbaugh, members of the Ohio State Tax Commission, are guests at the Melrose. They are in California to visit both expositions and take a number of interesting side trips.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kemp of No. 1217 West Fifty-first street will leave today on a tour, taking in both expositions.

HAIR IS GRAY; YOU LOOK OLD
Look Young by Darkening Gray Hair With Q-Ban—No Dye, Harmless.

If your hair is gray, faded, wispy, thin, prematurely gray, or streaked with gray, you will look twelve or fifteen years younger if you darken your gray hair by shampooing your hair and scalp a few times with Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer. It is not a dye, but acts on the roots, makes gray hair healthy, turning your gray hair to a beautiful, lustrous, soft, natural dark shade, darkening your gray hair and entire head of hair so evenly that no one need suspect you use Q-Ban. Besides Q-Ban stops dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair, promotes its growth, makes hair and scalp clean and feel fine and always darkens gray hair. Try it at our risk. Only 50c for a big 7-oz. bottle at McKay & Monkman's Drug Stores, Bdwy. and Ninth; Pico and Flower; Daly and North Bdwy., Los Angeles. Out-of-town folks supplied by mail. Call or write asking for Q-Ban Hair Color Restorer.—[Advertisement.

AN EASY WAY TO HEAL YOUR SKIN-TROUBLE

Resinol ointment, with resinol soap, stops itching instantly, quickly and easily heals the most distressing cases of eczema, heat-rash, ringworm or similar tormenting skin or scalp eruptions, and clears away pimples, blackheads, redness, roughness and dandruff, when other treatments have proven only a waste of time and money.

Physicians have prescribed this resinol treatment for twenty years, while thousands who have been cured say, "What resinol did for us it will do for you." Every druggist sells resinol soap and resinol ointment. Samples free, Dept. 27-R, Resinol, Baltimore, Md.

DANDRUFF CAME IN BIG SCALES
On Scalp. Itching Terrible. Hair Dry and Lifeless. Dandruff All Over Coat Collar.

HEALED BY CUTICURA SOAP AND OINTMENT

"I had been troubled with dandruff for years and it got so bad that there was a regular crust formed on my scalp that would come off in big scales. The itching at times was terrible especially at night, and scratching irritated my scalp. My hair was dry and lifeless and fell out every time I combed it. The dandruff would be all over my coat collar.

"Nothing seemed to help until I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using them a few weeks my scalp and hair were in fine shape and I have no more itching or dandruff." (Signed) Wm. H. Dahl, 912 S. Washington St., Denver, Colo., March 18, 1915.

SHIP SALE APPROVED.

Estimated Cost of the Five Liners of the Pacific Mail Company Over Ten Million Dollars.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Federal Judge Hough, in an order filed today in the United States District Court approved the purchase by the Atlantic Transport Company of West Virginia, one of the companies composing the International Mercantile Marine Company, of the five liners owned by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company. The steamers cost the Atlantic Transport Company, $5,250,000.

The approximate cost of the five Pacific Mail liners, according to a petition filed at the court, was $10,400,000, but the purchase price authorized by Judge Hough amounts to $5,250,000, apportioned to each ship, respectively, as follows:

Korea, 11,276 tons, built in 1902, $1,000,000; Siberia, 11,284 tons, built in 1902, $1,000,000; China, 5060 tons, built in 1889, $250,000; Manchuria, 13,639 tons, built in 1904, $1,500,000, with interest at 5 per cent. per annum from July 31, 1915, and Mongolia, 13,639 tons, built in 1904, $1,500,000, with interest on $1,400,000 thereof at 5 per cent. per annum from August 25, 1915.

The order was made on the petition of the New York Trust Company, complainant in the receivership suit against the International Mercantile Marine Company, and its subsidiary companies have lost three vessels and sold two ships.

It further stated that the International Mercantile Marine Company, during the same time, has not acquired any new vessels and that the ship yards of Europe are now so busy on war orders that they are unable to build merchantmen.

The petitioning company also recited that it had been informed by Federal Receiver Philip A. S. Franklin that in his best judgment it would take at least three years to build a new vessel of substantial size, and it is therefore highly desirable that the Atlantic Transport Company acquire the Pacific Mail boats now under charter to it, and two of which can be profitably operated in service between New York and London and two others between New York and San Francisco by way of the Panama Canal.

Judge Hough, in his order, empowered Receiver Franklin, if necessary, to make modification of the contract and directed him and the New York Trust Company to give their consent to the purchase and to assist in all proper ways to bring it about. The order was signed by Judge Hough while on vacation at Hanover, N. H. Receiver Franklin joined in the petition of the New York Trust Company for the instructions given in the order.

BOMB PLOT FAILS.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

SHANGHAI (China) Aug. 19.—An unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Admiral Tseng Ju Cheng, Military Governor of Shanghai, and director of the Kiangnan arsenal, by means of a bomb, was made last night.

The admiral was at the China Merchants' wharf at midnight bidding farewell to his wife, who was leaving for Tien-tsin, when the bomb was thrown, narrowly missing its mark. The bomb exploded with a deafening report but the admiral was not injured. His rickshaw coolie was seriously hurt.

A French detective afterwards arrested a suspect who stated he was a former soldier from Tien-tsin.

District Attorney to go Deep into the Case.

Fred L. Baker, of Huntington Park, a registered pharmacist clerk, who is alleged to have compounded the fatal prescription which caused the torturing death of Mrs. Fannie White of Roswell, N. M., on Wednesday, covered his face with his hands yesterday when called before the Coroner's jury to testify. He refused to answer any questions, because, he said, "I might incriminate myself." He was writhing with a nervous ague, shaking so he could not keep his legs crossed, and his face was drawn in a shocked, frightened expression. He was accompanied by Atty. W. A. Bowen.

As a result of his failure to testify, Coroner Hartwell had a long conference with Deputy District Attorney Claire Woolwine, immediately after the inquest. The deputy will make a full investigation of the case today, with a view to issuing a complaint on a serious charge if sufficient evidence is at hand.

The city chemist will be asked to make a chemical analysis of Mrs. White's stomach to determine beyond all question that she came to her death from barium sulphide poisoning.

Attorney E. E. Leighton, prosecutor for the State Board of Pharmacy, has begun an independent investigation on the part of the board to determine Mr. Baker's responsibility. If it is shown that the clerk made an error in filling the prescription, charges will be filed to have his license as a registered pharmacist revoked.

OPEN VERDICT.

The result of the Coroner's inquest was an open verdict on the part of a coroner's jury, reporting that Mrs. White had come to her death "from barium sulphide poisoning."

When Coroner Hartwell read the verdict he summoned the jury into session again.

"Gentlemen you have said nothing in this verdict," he said. "I think you have neglected to make some definite statement."

The jury came back, confused and embarrassed. They said they had not been shown positive proof Mrs. White came to her death from any mistake on the part of Mr. Baker.

Coroner Hartwell looked at them in amazement.

"You are technical, gentlemen," he said, "most extremely technical."

The jurors hurried out the door.

Mr. Baker is employed in the prescription department of the American Drug Company's store at Eighth and Spring streets, where the fatal prescription was filled. He is a tall, slender man, with protruding jaw, startled eyes rather widely set, and wears his hair in pompadour fashion. His mouth is wide and drawn in hard lines.

When he entered the jury room at the Garnett mortuary, No. 1237 South Flower street, he was accompanied by his attorney.

OPEN VERDICT.

As a result of the Coroner's inquest an open verdict on the part of a coroner's jury, reporting that Mrs. White did come to her death "from barium sulphide poisoning."

When Coroner Hartwell read the verdict, he summoned the jury into session again.

"Gentlemen you have said nothing in your verdict," he said. "I think you neglected to make some definite statement."

The jury came back, confused and embarrassed. They said they had not found positive proof Mrs. White came to her death from any mistake on the part of Mr. Baker.

Coroner Hartwell looked at them sternly.

"I see no technical, gentlemen," he said, "I am extremely technical."

The jurors hurried out the door.

Mr. Baker is employed in the prescription department of the American Drug Company's store at Eighth and Broadway, where the fatal prescription was filled. He is a tall, slender man, with protruding jaw, wears his hair rather widely set, and combs it back in pompadour fashion. His mouth is wide and drawn in hard lines.

When he entered the jury room at the coroner's mortuary, No. 1237 South Main street, he was accompanied by Attorney Bowen.

Dr. Edgar Rider Wessels, a stomach specialist who was preparing to operate on Mrs. White for stomach trouble, was called to identify the dead woman. He said she was 59 years old, was born in Shelbyville, Ill., had gone to Roswell, N. M., for her health. She came on to Los Angeles in June to seek surgical relief from her trouble. She was a widow.

He introduced his prescription book, bearing a carbon copy of the prescription that caused the death of the woman. It was shown to the jury. Distinctly, plainly and legibly, it read "Barium Sulphatis, use as directed, for X Ray."

Dr. Wessels said he had prescribed the barium sulphate for the purpose of coating Mrs. White's stomach, so it would outline in the X-ray photograph. It was the usual chemical employed for such work, he said, and has been widely used for the past eighteen months by surgeons.

County Autopsy Surgeon Wagner then testified he had made an examination of Mrs. White's stomach, and found it terribly irritated from barium sulphide, the irritation having caused death from convulsions. In answer to interrogations from Attorney Bowen, Dr. Wagner said he was positive the substance in Mrs. White's stomach was barium sulphide, and in a quantity to cause immediate death.

The jury was then informed that barium sulphate is non-soluble, being proof against the dissolving influences of either water or acids created in the stomach. Barium sulphide they were told, was soluble, and as soon as it entered the stomach, would create fatal gases.

Fred L. Baker was then called. He LOST HEAD IN DESERT GLARE.

Man Who Fled on Fatal Trip Tells His Story.

Says Farmer Misunderstood His Directions.

Obsessed with Fear of Shock to His Bride.

Frankly admitting that he had lost his head, but protesting against the accusations that he had not done all he could to save his companions, James G. Clark, the real estate operator who accompanied John H. Welsh and James S. Roche, attorneys, on the fatal trip to the Imperial Valley three weeks ago, when Mr. Welsh perished from thirst, explained his actions on that tragic excursion yesterday afternoon at his residence, No. 1726 West Thirty-ninth place. It would appear from Mr. Clark's narrative that his principal error was in not staying on the ground and seeing that the orders he issued for the rescue work were carried out immediately. He admitted yesterday that it is unfortunate he did not do so, but explained that his trying experience had rendered him temporarily incapacitated in so far as his mind was concerned, so that he did not know what he was doing. Mr. Clark, when he read in The Times that there was adverse criticism of his actions, called for a reporter and made a voluntary statement.

Through all his mental aberration one thing remained fixed in his brain, namely, the possibility of news of an accident to himself reaching the ears of his bride, the shock of which might have killed her, she having lost her former husband through a disaster. Mr. and Mrs. Clark had just completed their honeymoon prior to the desert trip. She was Mrs. Elizabeth D. Tillitt until July 1, when they were married at the Cathedral of St. Vibiana, and one of her parting admonitions was to be careful, lest some misfortune occur.

"TERRIBLE NIGHTMARE."

"My journey across the desert was a terrible nightmare," Mr. Clark said yesterday. "If I had only been able to save both of those fine men I would have been a hero. But to have one of them die — God! I would rather have died myself.

"Mr. Welsh was a man—all man. He was stronger than Mr. Roche, and I have no doubt he forced the latter to drink what little water remained to them in the radiator of the car. Else how could he have died, and Mr. Roche lived?

"If Mr. Roche had died also I would have killed myself. It would have been too much for me to live had both my companions died out there on the desert.

"It seemed to me that I walked fifty miles before I reached Kane Springs on my trip for help. My brain was doing the strangest things and my right eye seemed to be up in my forehead. I do not know how long I stayed at the springs, for I fainted after I had satiated myself with the wonderful water. My watch stopped at 5:10 o'clock.

"When I reached the Bohemian farmer's ranch I tried to make him understand that he should start at once for Mr. Roche and Mr. Welsh. He said he would send his boys right out. All this time I had an idea that if I could only get to Mecca I could send more help to the stranded men. So I asked him to take me to Westmoreland. When we left the ranch house the two boys were starting to get the wagon ready to go after my companions. Evidently they never started until the farmer himself returned from Westmoreland.

"When I reached Westmoreland I met Mr. McLean, the storekeeper. My obsession to get to Mecca and from there send help was still with me, and I boarded the first train. I also wanted to tell my wife that I was safe. I was afraid that the shock might kill her if she thought I was dead.

CANNOT REMEMBER.

"I really do not remember what I said to Mr. McLean, or what I did. I don't even remember buying my railroad ticket. I know that I had to get that train.

"Once the train started I must have

LIGHTS VALLEY OF THE NIGHT.

Woman's Sight is Restored After Thirty Years.

Hope Dawns Anew for Blind Child of Misfortune.

Destitute Still and Unable to Support Herself.

BY VIRGINIA WOODS.

Living without hope in darkness for thirty years, the pall of gloom was yesterday lifted from the eyes of Miss Jennie Olsen of Pasadena and she looked out once again on the glories of a myriad-hued garden.

Jennie Olsen is an old woman. She is a college graduate. She is destitute, but the proud blood of her Norse ancestry makes her prefer to starve rather than beg.

Although she has recovered her eyesight, it will be several months before she will be able to earn her own living. Until that time she will be dependent upon those who out of the goodness of their hearts may see fit to help her.

When I first saw her four months ago she had come to the point where it was either the poorhouse or a self-made grave. So weak she could hardly stand—for she had had nothing to eat but mouldy bread for two days—she stumbled into The Times office in Pasadena late one Sunday night and asked me if I would look over the "want ads" and see if there was any position that she could hold.

Little by little the story of her pitiable condition came to light. Her sightless eyes staring vacantly into mine, her starved and shrunken frame huddled up against the counter, her voice broken with sobs, the pent-up misery of thirty lonely years in darkness was poured forth.

Jennie Olsen had been on her knees many hours that day, praying to God to show her some way out of her misery. So-called "charitable" institutions had turned her away empty-handed. She had come to the end of her resources.

AN ANSWERED PRAYER.

To one living in the darkness of despair, the faintest ray of light will shine like the tropic sun. Jennie Olsen left the office feeling that her prayer had been answered. On her arrival home she found awaiting her what she described as a regular "Thanksgiving dinner" which, it ap-

EAGERLY SEEK CITIZENSHIP.

The Naturalization Business is Trebled Since the Great War Started.

By reason of the great increase of the naturalization business in Los Angeles, W. M. Van Dyke, clerk of the United States District Court, has found it necessary to set aside the old office of the clerk of the Circuit Court for this work. There has been an increase of more than 200 per cent. in the number of applications for citizenship and the crowds of aliens were encroaching upon the other business of the Federal Court. An extra set of clerks to attend to that business alone has been installed.

The great European war has given the American citizen-factory a wonderful impetus. Beginning with September there will be no more naturalizations by the State courts, but all proceedings must take place in the Federal Court.

"HERE IS YOUR MONEY AND KID."

"CAN'T SUPPORT IT ON THREE-FIFTY PER WEEK," SAYS THE MOTHER.

"I can't support this kid on $3.50 a week. Here's your money and here's your kid," and suiting the action to the words, Mrs. Myrtle Taggart thrust the chubby boy, 2 years old, into the arms of her astonished husband, Stanley Taggart, tossed him the money, which he had just been ordered to give her, and walked swiftly down the corridor leading from Judge Monroe's twilight court, yesterday.

Judge Monroe was equally as astonished when Mr. Taggart came back into the courtroom and related what his wife had done. Solomon-like the court solved the dilemma. Obviously Mr. Taggart, being a man and working as a printer, could not care for the baby. Perforce, someone else must be selected.

"I will order you to pay $3.50 a week to your mother and your mother will care for the child," said the court.

The money Mrs. Taggart had tossed back to Mr. Taggart was $5, which was half the sum he had in his pockets when he was brought before the court on a failure to provide charge. The court ordered the amount divided. From the story as it unfolded to the court, it was a case of mother-in-law. The couple were living at the home of the husband's parents. Then a domestic squall arose, and she took the baby and left. Their next meeting was in court.

JAIL FOR FORGERY.

Nephew of Steel Magnate Sentenced to Eighteen Months for His Second Offense.

Carlton N. Gary, a nephew of Elbert H. Gary, head of the United States Steel Corporation, was sentenced to eighteen months in San Quentin yesterday by Judge Craig, after pleading guilty to a charge of forgery.

Gary was accused of having uttered a forged check for $30 upon the clerk of the United States Court. It is his second offense, so far as the authorities know, having been admitted to probation upon a former charge.

Gary's home is at Wheaton, Ill., the seat of the celebrated Gary family, of which former Judge Gary is the head.

He has been a heavy drinker, and, while his friends and relatives have often come to his rescue when he was in trouble, little effort was made to save him for the last offense.

"Aunty Over."

T'OTHER SIDE OF "STOLEN CHURCH"

FOUNDER FIRED AND PIANO MOVED, SAYS HEAD.

Ecclesiastico - Spiritualistic Imbroglio at Graham Station Clarified by President, Who Says it was the Congregation, not the "Mother," Who was Taken In.

Considerable light on the famous "Mystery of the Missing Church, or, Who Purloined the Piano?" which has been stirring up Graham Station of late, was shed yesterday when Charles E. Malmgren, president of the Graham Station Bible Spiritualistic Church of Light, appeared at the District Attorney's office to answer the charge preferred by Mrs. Frances Fullmer, founder of the cult, that he had stolen the church.

Aside from the coincidence of names, Mr. Malmgren's story does not in the least resemble that of Mrs. Fullmer. He not only denies all of her charges but makes some on his own account, the principal one of which is that the congregation of the Graham Station church was deceived into believing that they were operating under a charter of their own, whereas, according to Mr. Malmgren, the document was merely a rather poor copy of the one issued to the Los Angeles or "mother" church.

As to stealing things, Mr. Malmgren told Deputy District Attorney Claire Woolwine that if Mrs. Fullmer considers herself the owner of the peregrinating piano and other assets of the church she is mistaken. The congregation itself owns the property, says Mr. Malmgren, and owning it, felt at liberty to remove the same to a rent-free place of worship when hard times descended upon the church and the wherewithal to pay the rent was not forthcoming.

According to Mr. Malmgren, Mrs. Fullmer founded the Graham Station church two years ago as a sort of branch to the "mother church," located on South Hill street, this city. She held meetings for a year, he says, took up collections and paid the hall rent out of them. At the end of a year the church society was formally organized and Mr. Malmgren named president by the founder. Partly through the intercession of Mrs. Fullmer the society got a liberal discount on the purchase price of a piano and, paying a certain sum down, is now buying it on installments. These sums, says Mr. Malmgren, are being paid, not by Mrs. Fullmer, but by the congregation.

Amuck.

WILD RED ON A TRAIN WOULD KILL EVERYBODY.

A RABID Socialist, one of Job Harriman's proteges, who went to Palmdale several months ago and joined the latter's "model colony," ran amuck while coming in on Southern Pacific train No. 103 late yesterday afternoon, and spread terror among the six coaches of passengers. Before the man, who gave his name as L. S. Taylor, was overpowered, he tried to strangle an elderly woman, attacked several men, and threatened to kill every one in sight.

When the train arrived in the city at 7:15 o'clock Taylor was turned over to Patrolman Dutton and taken to the Central Police Station. He is held in the Receiving Hospital on suspicion of insanity, but surgeons said last night he appeared to be of normal mind.

Taylor, a blacksmith, became infuriated, according to Conductor T. J. Doyle's report, when the latter asked him for his ticket. Mumbling something about the railroad having made more money than is due it, and that a workingman ought to ride for nothing, the burly passenger dashed away, and commenced howling at the top of his voice. At the end of the coach sat a well-dressed woman, well up in years, with gray hair and a kindly face.

"There she is. I want to see her," Taylor cried, and while other women and children screamed from fright and men started in pursuit of him, he dashed to the lady, seized her viciously by the arm and throat, and demanded that she give him $50. She fainted, and he allowed her to fall back into her seat.

Conductor Doyle, joined by a number of strong men, was bearing down upon Taylor when he made another dash for the coach ahead. In it he attempted to wrest a knife from a passenger, and created such a panic that several women swooned, and all shrieked for help.

"I'll get you all yet," he is reported to have howled, as he darted toward the seat he had been occupying. "I've got something in my suit case that will give me protection."

He reached the suit case and was opening it when the conductor, brakeman and others pounced upon him. After a terrific struggle they overpowered him.

A search of the suit case revealed a revolver, and when Taylor saw the conductor remove it he made a frantic effort to reach it.

While the guard of half a dozen men kept Taylor from doing further harm the women and children passengers did not breathe easily until he had been taken from the train.

STANDING PAT ON ANNEXATION.

COMMISSION TURNS DOWN THE WHIFFEN PROPOSAL.

Citizens Representing Ten Thousand Acres, Extending from The Palms District to the Sea North of Santa Monica, Seeking Admission to Los Angeles.

Citizens representing 10,000 to 12,000 acres extending from the Palms district, around Sawtelle and to the sea, north of Santa Monica, appeared before the Annexation Commission yesterday and sought advice as to the proper procedure to bring about annexation to Los Angeles as soon as possible.

The first official act of the commission yesterday was to go on record disapproving the application of former Councilman Whiffen, who is asking the Council to pass an ordinance providing for the sale of water in Franklin Canyon for irrigation on land outside the city. Mr. Whiffen said the city has been following the idea of no water without annexation for two years "without success." George Dunlop challenged this statement, asserting that in less than two years the city has annexed territory that will use at least one-half of the city's supply. The only reason Mr. Whiffen offered against the annexation of the territory was that the owners preferred to stay out.

The question of the second largest annexation to the city was presented to the commission by H. W. Keller, representing the Los Angeles Country Club, and Gilbert S. Wright, representing other property owners west of Santa Monica. They filed with the commission a map showing territory of about 10,000 acres extending from the Palms, recently annexed, around Sawtelle and on three sides of the Soldiers' Home and on to the sea, embracing the entrance to Santa Monica Canyon. Westgate, adjoining Santa Monica, was not included in their map, but S. L. McCrory told the commission that he believes a majority of residents of that district favor annexation and asked the commission to call a mass meeting to discuss the question and sound the sentiment. All of the members of the commission agreed to attend a meeting at Westgate for this purpose next Monday evening.

Mr. Whiffen's proposed ordinance, which was referred to the Council yesterday, went to the Public Service Committee.

The Annexation Commission reorganized yesterday by re-electing Martin Betkouski president and Miles S. Gregory, secretary. C. C. Colyear and R. D. Sepulveda, new members, attended for the first time.

HER HEARTACHE VALUED HIGHLY.

WEALTHY ARIZONA MAN SUED FOR HUNDRED THOUSAND. FRIEND SAYS "HOLD-UP."

A peculiar story of an alleged deception and a very expensive heartache is contained in the $100,000 suit filed by Anna Bursell against Mons Ellingson, a wealthy Arizona man. Mrs. Bursell, a figure in the social circles of San Francisco and St. Joseph, was introduced to Mr. Ellingson at Tempe, Ariz., December 8, 1912. She alleges he represented himself as a single man, and when he made love to her he said he had ample means. By his alleged assiduous attentions he won her love. Eight days later his courtship took the form of a promise to marry her, she sets out.

Then she asserts he importuned her, and, relying upon his promise, she capitulated. The scene was the Casa Loma Hotel, Tempe. During the years that followed the elderly suitor and the buxom divorcee visited many hotels, rooming-houses and apartments. They led the tent life at Catalina, enjoyed themselves at San Diego, San Bernardino, San Francisco, and, even in San Pedro.

The promise to make her his wife was impossible to keep, alleges Mrs. Bursell, as she discovered he was married and had a family in Tempe. Hence the suit. By the alleged seduction Mrs. Bursell says she has been injured in her social standing, and deprived of friends and acquaintances. She was formerly the wife of John L. Bursell of St. Joseph, Mo., a cattleman. When he died she came to California and married a Mr. Stevens in San Francisco. She obtained a divorce in 1911 and resumed her former name of Bursell.

Mr. Ellingson, a Dane, who came to the Southwest about thirty years ago, owns most of the property on the main street of Tempe, a business block in Phoenix, and 1000 acres of fine land south of Tempe. His financial rating, according to friends, is about $350,000, and he made it all out of farming, specializing in alfalfa. He has been married many years, and his son is manager of a large warehouse in Tempe.

One of Mr. Ellingson's Arizona friends now in Los Angeles declares that the suit of Mrs. Bursell is an "attempted hold-up."

ADDED ATTRACTIONS.

New Features Obtained for the San Diego Exposition Isthmus Amusements.

As a first move toward putting more life into the San Diego exposition, H. F. McGarvie, the new director of exploitation and amusements, announced yesterday that he had secured six new attractions for the Isthmus. One of these is to be a trained wild animal show, secured from a Los Angeles zoo, while the others include duplicates of those attractions that have proved most popular at the northern fair, and two novelties on the Coast.

The attractions secured in the north are the Baby Incubator, Willard's Melodia, a spectacular musical offering, and Sasso's Beautiful Orient. The novelties are Don Fulano, the world's greatest educated horse, and a collection of freaks which will include Don Carlos's much discussed "missing link."

As soon as the amusements have been brought up to their full strength, the department will turn its attention to big special days, the first of which to follow Labor Day will be Moving Picture Day—in honor of Southern California's foremost industry. In connection with this event the exposition already has secured the co-operation of the foremost producers of Los Angeles and vicinity. Each of these big firms will be represented upon the special committee having the arrangements for the day in hand, and the result should be something startlingly new in the way of entertainment.

HIT BY TRAIN; ONLY SPRAINS.

THREE OTHER ACCIDENTS QUITE UNUSUAL REPORTED AT CITY HOSPITAL.

Four accidents that are quite out of the ordinary were reported almost simultaneously yesterday afternoon at the Receiving Hospital. George Kline of No. 403 East Fifth street was the first victim. As he tried to push his way through a throng at Second and Spring streets, an elderly man of excessive girth stepped upon his foot, breaking the bones in four toes.

George Taft, 52 years of age, a lineman, living at No. 526 Maple avenue, was next. As he was working on an electric light pole in front of No. 4500 Sunset boulevard he lost his hold and fell thirty feet to the ground. Despite his age and the distance of the fall, the attendant at the Receiving Hospital failed to find more than a few minor bruises.

Struck by a train at Bay street and the Salt Lake tracks, J. W. Hall, 55 years of age, a steelworker living at No. 111 South Olive street, escaped with no injuries other than sprained ankles.

When the selfstarter failed to work, Charles Chandler, who lives at Third and Figueroa streets, tried to crank the engine of his automobile by hand. The crank broke, Chandler's right elbow went through one headlight, he lost his balance, and in falling struck the back of his head against the other lamp and smashed it. At the hospital he was treated for cuts received from the broken glass.

HOMESEEKERS RUSH.

Long Line Awaits Opening of Land Office to File Claims on Castaic Country.

When the doors of the local Land Office opened up for business yesterday morning at 9 o'clock there was a line of persons ready and eager to file on the public land, located in what is known as the Castaic Creek country, in the vicinity of Newhall, and a part of the forest reserve thrown open to settlement by President Wilson. It is all located in Los Angeles county, and has an area of about 3000 acres. But little available land for agricultural purposes is in evidence, but there seems to be a grand rush to get the soil, no matter what sort it is.

Parties desiring to apply for this land have until September 8 to do so and all applicants who filed between the 19th inst. and September 8, are to be treated as having been filed simultaneously, so that there is no advantage in getting in early.

Those who have filed or intend filing, are warned that as soon as they have done so they should return immediately to the land, so that no advantage could be taken of their absence from their new homes, and this request applies to all who file applications.

On September 8, the real contest for the various tracts of land will begin, and it will then simmer down to the various contestants for the same piece of land. It will then be a question of how much work has been done. In some instances a few of the more forehanded applicants will buy off contesting claimants, and in cases where all parties are willing, Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell will organize a lottery and the luckiest man will win the land. Every claimant will stand on equal terms with every other one when the determination of the rights of the various parties is to be made.

The entries so far made cover tracts of forty, eighty and 160 acres, the majority being of the smallest areas, made by men who think forty acres is the limit of their financial and physical ambition.

THEIR WIRES CROSS.

State and County Humane Societies Introduced to Each Other After Odd Misunderstanding.

A curious mix-up which resulted in warnings being sent broadcast branding as a fake a duly qualified State humane officer was finally ironed out yesterday when the State and county Humane Societies for Children were formally introduced to each other. Until that time the county organization had been unaware of the existence here of officers of the State body and consequently, when reports came in of their activity, the county officials not unnaturally declared them fictitious.

The supposedly-mysterious man with the "large, smooth face driving a Ford runabout"—so described by Mrs. J. W. McKeral, of Lamanda Park, who made the complaint—turns out to be State Humane Officer J. W. Kelly, who has headquarters in Pasadena. In calling upon Mrs. McKeral and pointing out to her the disadvantages of tying her child to a small and rather shadeless tree on a hot day Mr. Kelly was doing his duty as he saw it. In reporting Mr. Kelly's call upon her, Mrs. McKeral told Mrs. Forrestine Hooker, according to the latter, that he said he represented the Los Angeles Human Society for Children, of which Mrs. Hooker is manager. As there are no men on the staff of the Los Angeles society, Mrs. Hooker at once notified the newspapers of what appeared to be an effort to masquerade under the credentials of an officer. Mr. Kelly says that Mrs. McKeral is mistaken in what he told her.

Other reports have reached Mrs. Hooker of what is evidently another pair of men who have been driving about the country and seeking to inflict indignities upon unprotected women, but neither of these is a man with a "large, smooth face driving a Ford runabout."

DEPARTMENT STORE PICNIC.

Employees of Many Downtown Emporiums to Have a Good Time Tomorrow at Selig Zoo Park.

The Associated Department Stores of Los Angeles, including about a dozen of the principal institutions of this character in Los Angeles, will hold their annual employees' picnic tomorrow at Selig's Zoo. From noon to midnight, the affair will be crowded with special features.

On arrival, the clerks, department managers, cash girls, errand boys, office help and even the proprietors of several of the stores will be given a luncheon of sandwiches and soft drinks on the lawns of the park. Free open air dancing will be a pleasant portion of the entertainment. To this will be added a number of special professional dancing acts, with a prize dance for all amateurs at 10 o'clock in the evening.

Moving picture feature productions will be staged for the guests and there will be all sorts of wild animal acts, among them Madame Madione singing in the leopards' cage at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Races and games of the ordinary picnic will not be overlooked and the prizes for winners are numerous and valuable.

looked at his attorney, half arose, sat down again, and then stepped over to the witness chair. He kept crossing and recrossing his legs, his limbs shaking with nervousness.

DECLINES TO TESTIFY.

He said he didn't wish to testify. His attorney said it was unfair for Mr. Baker to give testimony that might incriminate him. The statutory provisions affecting such a situation were read. Mr. Baker sat with his hands over his face, twisting at his nose, drawing at his chin. One ear kept twitching.

When Coroner Hartwell looked up and said to him: "Are you willing to testify," Mr. Baker looked at his attorney. The attorney said nothing. Mr. Baker hunched forth in his chair, wrapped his legs around the chair legs, and looked again at his attorney.

"Shall I?" he asked the attorney.

"I would advise you not to."

With a deep sigh, Mr. Baker leaped out of the chair and resumed his seat.

The jury went into session.

"I've done enough now, I've done enough now, I don't want anything in the papers about it," Mr. Baker said.

The jury which returned the blank verdict was composed of G. E. Collins, J. B. Windsor, R. D. Wennig, Hal Clements, W. W. Cohanan, and Clarke Prebble.

No disposition of Mrs. White's remains has yet been arranged.

NO JUDGE FOR HIM.

Express Messenger, Confessed Thief, Must Await Until Federal Court Returns.

Some men have a preference for jails they are expected to occupy under the operations of the law. Some are sent where they are satisfied, others are not, and in the latter class is Leonard W. Asher, the American Express Company messenger, who confessed stealing $5000 while en route from Cheyenne, Wyo., to Ogden, Utah, and who was captured at El Centro, last Saturday.

Asher was brought to Los Angeles for his arraignment before United States Commissioner Williams yesterday, on removal proceedings, and stated that he would not resist his extradition to Utah; he was ready and willing to be removed to Salt Lake, where his wife and baby boy are awaiting his coming.

Then an unlooked for situation arose. There is no United States district judge in Los Angeles, to sign the order for the young man's removal. In order that the accused might be accommodated and get near his little family, Circuit Judge Erskine M. Ross was asked to sign the order, but he refused, indicating that in his opinion he had no such authority. It was then suggested that Presiding Judge Gilbert of the United States Circuit bench in San Francisco be appealed to, that he might designate Judge Ross under the circumstances to act, but this was abandoned, and Asher will be compelled to remain in jail here until either Judge Bledsoe or Judge Trippet returns to the city, which will not be for about three weeks.

"Pretty tough when a man cannot even go to the jail he wants," remarked Asher. Discussing his crime he said he did not know what induced him to take the money; that he had been in the employ of the American Express Company and ran over the Union Pacific Railway routes for years, and had never before been tempted to steal, although he had handled hundreds of thousands of dollars. He expresses the greatest contrition for his act.

THIRTY WATCHES STOLEN.

I. Vener, who conducts a second-hand store at No. 130 East First street, reported to the police yesterday that his store had been entered and robbed of thirty watches and watch chains, a suit case, two suits of clothes, a pair of shoes, physician's medicine case, twelve knives and a revolver. No clew to the robbers was found by detectives who investigated the case.

FUSSY WHIMS BREED CLASH.

SUPERVISORS INDULGE IN WARM ARGUMENT.

Secret Session on Discussion of Taxes in Flood Control Matter Sought by Hamilton and Norton, Who Would Conceal from Public How They Stand.

If the fussy whims of Supervisors Hamilton and Norton are to be satisfied the administration of affairs in Los Angeles county will have to undergo a long period of petty disturbances, as forecast yesterday when an open clash occurred between Chairman Pridham and Supervisor Hamilton.

The discord in the Supervisors, which was first brought to public attention when S. A. Butler resigned, is more acute today than it was at that time. The successor of Mr. Butler, Supervisor Woodley, has proved a winning ally for Supervisors Norton and Hamilton, who manage to keep the board's affairs in constant turmoil.

Supervisor Hamilton yesterday called for an executive session of the board, the executive session being an institution which was sadly decried during campaigns, only to be utilised afterward when secrecy was to be served and the public to be blindfolded. The Supervisor wanted a private conference over the flood control situation.

Chairman Pridham charged that Mr. Hamilton and his colleague, Mr. Norton, had a "slate" fixed up of certain engineers who were to have charge of the flood control plans.

"I have not been consulted with regard to this slate," said Mr. Pridham, "and I don't propose to go into private conference to discuss it."

Mr. Norton denied that there was a "slate" and Mr. Hamilton asserted that he merely wanted to discuss in private the tax that is to be fixed. Just why so public a matter as taxes should be discussed behind closed doors was a mystery to Mr. Pridham, and he insisted that there be no executive session.

Mr. Pridham called attention to the attempt to settle the controversy over Registrar of Voters by holding a private conference, and Mr. Hamilton chided him for not attending it.

"I refused to come down to a night session," said Mr. Pridham. "My wife was ill and I would not leave her."

"Your refusal to discuss the matter in private session was because you wanted delay," said Mr. Hamilton. "I never heard anything about your wife being ill."

"You are stating what is not true, and I challenge your veracity," said Mr. Pridham.

Having been successful in nagging Mr. Butler until he no longer could tolerate the constant turmoil, Supervisor Norton's plan is to force the retirement of others on the board who are not in sympathy with his policies and obtain men more to his liking through appointment by Gov. Johnson.

Although Mr. Norton some days ago said that the question of who is Registrar of Voters is not legal, he acquiesced yesterday in the suggestion of Chairman Pridham that the matter be held in abeyance by the board, since D. B. Lyons has gone into court with a petition to be installed in the place of Thomas McAleer, the incumbent.

SLEEPS WHILE ROBBED.

So deeply did George Kobayaski sleep during the early hours of the morning he failed to awaken when a pass-key thief entered his room at No. 647 San Fernando street yesterday, and stole a suit case containing watches and jewelry valued at $150. A purse containing $35 in cash was also taken.

peared, had also mysteriously come in answer to her prayer.

Oculists had declared that her sight could never be restored and that grave danger would attend an operation, so, when she found in Pasadena a young doctor who told her that sight was possible, she refused to believe it. It took a great deal of subtle persuasion to get her to submit to an operation. The only fee the doctor would accept was the fee of professional satisfaction in the triumph of his skill.

It was two weeks ago that Jennie was taken to the Pasadena Hospital and today, after thirty years in darkness, she looks once more on the glories of a myriad-hued garden—and smiles.

Fifty-nine years ago Jennie Olsen was born in Christiania, Norway. She was ambitious and before she was 18 had graduated from college. Her mother was head nurse in the biggest hospital in the city and Jennie had become interested in medicine and wanted to be a physician.

CHILD OF MISFORTUNE.

Young and full of the joy of life, she went to Chicago when she was barely 21. She had already lost one eye as a result of an attack of measles when she was a child. Hardly had she reached Chicago, where she had gone to study medicine, when the hand of misfortune struck her. She lost her mother and was left without the means of pursuing her studies. Her mind then turned to cooking and she took a course in domestic science, winning the prize in the biggest school in Chicago. Soon she became famous as a cook and drew a salary of from $75 to $125 a month, but on the day she was 29 a little 3-year-old boy in a wealthy Chicago home where she was employed accidentally shot her in the eye with a bow and arrow. She was ill for weeks and from that time on lived a miserable existence in darkness and despair.

Although worth millions, the family turned her out when she could no longer be of service to them. Nine years later this same little boy, when on his death bed begged his mother to look after poor Jennie. But even this dying request did not soften her heart. One after another the four children of the family died and today not one member of the family lives to enjoy the gold, a little of which would have made Jennie independent for life.

FALSTAFF
"The choicest product of the brewer's art"

—for its perfect character has lifted it far above the level of the ordinary beer; to the very highest place in public appreciation.

Its flavor—so exceptionally fine; its color—so beautifully clear; its character—so perfectly balanced—proves the seventy-five years' brewing experience that has gone into its making.

Beer is a Food. Bread and beer are made of the same materials: cereals, yeast and water. Bread is solid; beer is liquid—both are highly nourishing. Physicians prescribe beer to produce energy, build tissue and strengthen nerves.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

The Times invites strong, clear, bright expression of views on current subjects, timely, pertinent and concise. Brevity should be lived to right. Essays will be published and personal controversies also declined. Preference will be given to such letters by the persons whose true names, which will be either published or withheld at the writer's request, must be given for publication. Letters should be in "particularly" form and are subject to editorial supervision.

Lynching, a Federal Offense.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Through your valuable columns I wish to make an appeal to the Christian people of our great nation, regardless of race, creed or color, to make lynching a Federal offense. Our government years ago wisely made peonage such, thereby protecting the work of the laborer. Why not go a step farther and protect the life of the human family? The disregard for one law brings about the disrespect for all laws. Under the Constitution of the United States the American negro is a citizen. As a citizen he is entitled to all the constitutional rights as any other citizen. Among these rights are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. His pursuit of happiness is badly handicapped by wicked discrimination and outrageous oppression. His liberty is made largely a mockery by bitter prejudice until in many respects his condition is a little better than the slavery of old. His life, highest and most sabred of all privileges, given by the Creator, and His only to take away—his life is at the pleasure of the mob. Guilty or innocent of any wrong, it matters not; it only depends upon whether the gentlemen and cavaliers, who chance to have white skin, are in mood for bloodshed. If so, a lynching bee is an easy and convenient outlet. One nigger less, much the better. I do not stop to express my opinion of lynching. I do not dwell on its un-Christian character, its aspects of plain barbarism, its disgrace in an enlightened age and country, and its parody on American freedom. Yet all these points might be enlarged upon, in view of the fact that every country claims to be the typical Christian country of the world, boasts of its civilization, is proud of its enlightenment and calls itself "The Land of the Free and the Home of the Brave." Freedom! Where? Bravery! How? As a mere physical matter it is as easy to lynch a negro as it is to slaughter a lamb, and as for shooting the body full of holes, why, children could do that. Bravery indeed! The government, either State or national, which permits these recurring lynchings and lifts not a finger to stop them forever, is lacking in every sense of moral courage. When you consider the treatment of the negro in this country, his only and native country, for which he has lived and labored and fought and suffered and died—and when you add to this a consideration of the nation's cringing attitude in its foreign relations—its appropriate motto comes nearer being "The Land of the Slave and the Home of the Coward." But I am diverging somewhat. I started to say something about lynching, and it is this:

Lynching is clearly a violation of the Federal Constitution, therefore it should be made a Federal offense. I do not go so far as to say "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," therefore the lyncher should be lynched by mistake or otherwise forfeit his life. Though that would be perfectly fair. I do say this: Any person or body of persons who take the law into their own hands and sacrifice a life should be mercilessly whipped by justice, and the whipper should be your Uncle Sam. Why? Because, first, lynch law is an insult to the justice, moral sense and peace of the nation and should rank with treason; second, because the life of every citizen belongs to the nation and he can be compelled in time of need to lay his life down in the defense of his country. Every man lynched, be he white or black, Jew or Gentile, means just two things—an insulting slap in the face of the nation and the absolute theft of a life that belongs to the nation.

Now is your time, Mr. Christian Congressman, to show your higher civilization and prove to the world that there can never be two standards of justice. There can never be but one that God, conscience and history will approve.

FOR NEW PROSPERITY.

Federal Trade Commission Will Open Hearing Here Monday on Foreign Commerce Move.

Foreign trade, its status and possibilities, will be the subject considered by the Federal Trade Commission at its hearing in this city, Monday, at 10 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce, according to a representative of the body, who arrived here yesterday to complete arrangements for the visit.

With half the civilized world involved in war, the possibility of consequent action which will make American goods a factor in international trade, particularly with the Far East and Latin-America, is patent, according to an advance statement sent out by the commission. The hearing in this city follows similar hearings in New York, Chicago, Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and other important manufacturing and shipping centers.

The hearing will be strictly informal. All persons now engaged in foreign trade or familiar with any of the phases of international exchange are invited to appear before the commission. The object is to get the best thought on the subject for incorporation in a report which the commission will issue this fall.

The Federal Trade Commission came into existence under an act of the last Congress and is invested with the powers of investigating all trade conditions and of enforcing the so-called anti-trust laws. Joseph E. Davies of Wisconsin, former United States Commissioner of Corporations, is chairman of the commission.

BOLD ROBBERY.

Two Men Enter Oil Station and Rob Attendant While Cars and Autos Pass.

While automobiles and street cars were going by and many pedestrians were in the vicinity, two Italians entered the oil station at Sixteenth and Peoria streets early last night and held up J. L. Guinney at the point of a gun. After taking $32 and an automatic revolver from their victim, the men disappeared.

When the men walked into the station they told Mr. Guinney they wanted to purchase a gallon of oil. He turned down to serve them when one of the bandits clutched his throat from the other shoved a gun into his face and rifled his pockets.

In broken English the men warned Guinney to make no outcry unless he wanted to die and they rushed out the place. Detectives Zeigler and Cline searched the neighborhood for the bandits, who are described as being about 25 years old and shabbily dressed.

CROSS COUNTRY IN GREAT STYLE.

SUPREME OFFICERS OF FORESTERS ARRIVE ON LUXURIOUS SPECIAL TRAIN.

One of the most luxuriously-equipped special trains which has arrived in Los Angeles during the present season of special parties brought 100 officers and members of the Foresters of America to the city yesterday on the way to the fraternity's supreme convention in San Francisco. The visitors established headquarters at the Clark, where they will remain until Sunday.

The all-steel train, composed of baggage car, diner, smoker, drawing-room and observation car and three Pullman sleeping cars, left Jersey City on an itinerary of nearly 10,000 miles through seventeen States of the Union and four provinces of Canada. Before the train reaches its return destination it will have traveled over thirteen different railway systems.

The "special conducted and official train tour" was arranged by Supreme Secretary T. M. Donnelly and Supreme Financial Secretary Annie E. Poth of the order. Special credit is given to Mrs. Poth for the success of the journey in the following semi-official statement:

"The Companions of the Forest of America owe a debt of gratitude to their loyal leader, Mrs. Annie E. Poth for her untiring and unselsh efforts in making the magnicent trip possible."

The visiting Foresters have planned to visit numerous places of interest in and near Los Angeles during their stay. Several other parties of Foresters will arrive during the next few days en route to San Francisco.

JUMPED FROM AUTO.

Boy Near Death in Jumping from Auto in Which the Lad had Begged for a Ride.

Leaping from a moving automobile, in which he had begged a ride, 7-year-old Irving Goldberg of No. 354 Cornwell place sustained a fractured skull and other injuries yesterday afternoon.

E. E. Knapp, No. 217 North Gage street, who was driving the car, stated that the boy asked to ride with him. He granted the request and, as the car neared the boy's home, traveling at about fifteen miles per hour, the youth jumped off. He was rushed to the Receiving Hospital, where it is feared his injuries may result fatally.

THROWN FROM HORSE.

Girl Seriously Injured in Plunge from Animal Frightened by a Barking Dog.

Thrown from a runaway horse, Miss Harriet Adams, 21 years old, who lives at the Bible Institute, was seriously injured early last night. She sustained a concussion of the brain, many cuts and bruises about the face and body and was removed to the Receiving Hospital.

Miss Adams, accompanied by Miss Mary Moorehead and Miss Ethel Weeser, were riding when the former's mount became frightened at a barking dog. The horse became unmanageable and dashed down the street at breakneck speed. In front of No. 1042 Kensington road Miss Adams was hurled to the curb and rendered unconscious.

The victim's companions hurried to her side and, while they were trying to revive her, Miss Moorehead's horse became frightened and ran off. Neither horse was recovered late last night.

SEEKS MISSING HUSBAND.

Fearing her husband has met with foul play or is wandering about the streets of the city suffering from loss of memory, Mrs. H. E. Gardner of Anaheim yesterday appealed to the police here for aid in locating him. Mr. Gardner was employed in a packing-house at Anaheim and has been missing for several days. Mrs. Gardner could offer no explanation for her husband's disappearance. It was said that he carried a considerable sum of money with him.

SURPLUS OF OIL IS REGISTERED.

SLIGHT CHANGE IN CONDITION IS REVEALED IN FIGURES FOR JULY.

There was a slight reversal of oil conditions in the State during the month of July, in that a surplus of some 3000 barrels was shown, as against a shortage of about 5000 for the previous month. Figures made public yesterday by the statistical bureau of the Independent Oil Producers' Agency reveal a total production for last month of approximately 250,000 barrels, daily average, an increase of about 1500 barrels, compared with June. Shipments were about 6000 barrels less per day than for June, however.

Comparatively little change in the production of the individual fields is to be noted. The most important increase was about 1000 barrels daily average in Fullerton. Midway showed a decrease of about the same amount. The total production in the State for the entire month was 7,738,643 barrels.

The number of producing wells was greater by thirty-four than during June, rigs completed showing an increase of five and wells drilling two, while the number of wells completed (thirty) was less by six than during June.

The daily average production still remains more than 30,000 barrels less than what it was for the whole of 1914. Shipments are smaller by about 12,000 barrels daily average. Oil shut in now amounts to about 19,000 barrels daily; consequently the potential surplus in the State is over 22,000 barrels.

BITTEN BY FLY.

Little Finger Swells to Double Size and Man Nearly Loses His Whole Hand.

"A fly bit me," declared R. Sawyer of No. 327 South Hope street as he held up a badly-swollen little finger Wednesday night to the gaze of Dr. Kane of the Receiving Hospital.

Several days ago Mr. Sawyer, while working at his trade of boilermaking, cut the little finger of his left hand. The wound was so slight that he did not have it attended to by a doctor.

Wednesday morning while reading a newspaper a large fly settled upon the injured finger and, according to Mr. Sawyer, bit him. Before night the finger had become infected and increased in size almost double.

Dr. Kane declared that if Mr. Sawyer had delayed another day he might have lost his hand as the result of the almost painless bite of the fly.

VICTIM OF PICKPOCKET.

As Alexander Wildrick of No. 533 West Fifty-seventh street walked down Main street yesterday a pickpocket abstracted his purse containing $85 in cash from his hip pocket and escaped before the loss was discovered.

Germany's Greatest Guns.

[The Atlantic:] Germany's weapon is the almost mythical 16.8-inch gun or howitzer, supposed to throw a 2000-pound shell something between seven and nine miles. Doubts have been expressed as to this monster's existence, and, according to one high authority, only two at most have been made, and perhaps these have not yet been fired. For they require to be bolted down to a solid cement platform, prepared long beforehand. To be sure, our spy-maniacs have discovered numerous platforms of the kind ready prepared and scattered up and down our own country under the pretext of house foundations and factory floors. But spy-maniacs see Germans in the moon to which they bay. We have seen, however, an apparently genuine photograph of an Austrian twelve-inch siege howitzer, weighing twenty-eight tons with its carriage, and throwing a shell of over 1000 pounds. We also hear of a Krupp 11.2-inch mortar used on the field, a ten-inch howitzer throwing a 760-pound shell at a range of about six miles, an 8.4-inch, 4.13-inch (apparently one of the most commonest,) and various other sizes.

"Stolen Church."

further deposes Mr. Malmgren, relations between the Graham Station church and the "mother church" became somewhat strained owing to the alleged failure of Mrs. Fullmer to attend any of their meetings, even upon urgent invitation. Hard times came to them of the faith at Graham Station and they finally decided to discontinue the activities of the church until a new leader should appear. In the meantime Mrs. Fullmer was notified by letter that she needn't come any more at all.

The disappearance of the visible assets of the church, says Mr. Malmgren, is really very simple. Their lease on the hall ran out and they moved the piano and other chattels to the residence of one of the congregation. It was merely a coincidence that Mrs. Fullmer should appear the next day and find the cupboard bare.

It is unlikely that the District Attorney will issue any complaint charging that a church has been stolen.

With God's Help.

[Kansas City Journal:] This is a remarkable war in several respects. None of the belligerents started it and all of them are going to win with God's help.

Lost His Head.

fallen asleep, for I did not come to my real senses until we were way past Mecca. I realize now that it was unfortunate I did not stay on the ground. The desert must have turned my head completely. I thought I was doing everything in my power to help those two fine men. If the farmer's boys had only started when they said they would, Mr. Welsh would undoubtedly have been saved.

"The next day I was very sick and barely managed to get down to the train to meet Mr. Roche. It would only have added to Mrs. Welsh's grief if I had gone to her that day.

"I have never been a religious man. But when I found that water at Kane Springs a great change came over me, one that has changed my entire life."

Mrs. Welsh did not appear to be impressed with Mr. Clark's explanation last night.

"I will not decide what I will do until next week," she said. "He has not yet explained why he did not wire me from Westmoreland when he wired his own wife. I could have had a fast machine start out from here that undoubtedly would have arrived in time to save my husband. I have suffered terribly, and I am the loser."

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) There was a general bearish movement of stocks yesterday due to the news of the sinking of the Arabic, presumably by a German submarine. Of course the so-called war issues were the most affected, principally United States Steel, which has been weak for some time. This reminder that a war is in progress had a subduing influence on all kinds of speculation. Foreign exchange played but little part in the financial transactions of Wall street during the day.

(Abroad:) Official advices which have come from New South Wales indicate that the wheat crop of Australia this year will reach 60,000,000 bushels, which cannot but have an encouraging influence on European countries if the question of transportation is solved.

(For details see financial pages.)

SUDDEN SENTIMENT.

Seven soldiers who were to have been executed in Sonora have been pardoned by Gov. Maytorena, or at least they have been reprieved. We are at a loss to account for this unseemly sentiment. Since when has human life become a subject of consideration in Mexico?

CAN STAND IT.

Somebody criticises the rural schools for their bad ventilation and general lack of healthful surroundings. In many cases the issue is well taken, and as a rule the very fact that the communities in which these schools are located are rural is a sufficient guarantee of the health of the pupils. A room may be a little close for an hour, but these are children of the out-of-doors. They live in the open and their schools would have to be much worse than they are to be a menace to their robustness.

SOME ONE TO BLAME.

Gambling is said to have been stopped in Panama on account of recent charges of graft in the police department. They mean that its protection has been stopped. They mean that for the minute they have stopped telling themselves the old sick lies that every city does tell itself about gambling. This vice flourishes in all cities and it pays somebody in all cities for the privilege. It is not true, either, that this is not known, nor is it true that it cannot be stopped. Somebody knows, and somebody is paid, everywhere! The proposition has this delicate angle, however, for whereas we can always prove its existence, it is almost impossible to locate the source of its tolerance. You can't prove who pays or who gets the money, but your common sense tells you that their existence is not merely taken for granted.

OUR HONEST NEIGHBORS.

There is one man in Los Angeles at present who has a great faith in the honesty of the common run of humanity. Mr. Lewis T. Carpenter is here for the summer with his wife and his daughter. Mr. Carpenter is the Internal Revenue Collector of Arizona and New Mexico. It is his business to collect the income tax in that territory for the United States government. He tells us that such a thing as tax dodging is almost unheard of in those two States and that he has not had a single man entitled to pay an income tax who was disposed to avoid the responsibility or to misstate his sources of revenue. Furthermore, Mr. Carpenter finds an agreeable and even a surprising number of wage-earners in those States who make more than $4000 a year, which a married man is allowed before he must pay. He has two men in Arizona whose salaries are $25,000 each. Both are smelter experts. We are pleased to hear of the prosperity of our neighbors; their honesty we never doubted.

DOWN TO CASES.

At last we have the real reason for the cancellation of those wheat orders. America in borrowing from itself to pay itself has reached the point of suspicion. Wall street loans money to the allies with the understanding that the allies' money remains in Wall street. In other words, any money which the allies can raise in America is solely for the purpose of paying American manufacturers for their products. Wall street does not do this because it loves the allies, but because it gets a cut both ways. It gets interest on loans that immediately become deposits. This worked very well for a while. The allies were willing to borrow, and the American factories were eager to sell, but now the credit of the allies trembles. The Americans will not manufacture and sell without the cash, and Wall street manifests an increasing reluctance to raise and release the cash. Great Britain wants a half-billion dollars from New York financiers, and the answer of Mr. Morgan and the others is to reduce this sum to one-fourth of the request. This leaves the British not enough money for both wheat and bullets, consequently they do without the wheat. This is significant. It really foreshadows the end of the war. It also leaves it to the United States to say exactly how long the war shall continue. It could not have run this long without our supply of arms and food to the allies, and now it cannot continue unless we give them the food and the arms and the money to pay for them. This our greed will inspire us to do while the surplus of the greedy lasts, but since the hand that grasps too much finally overreaches itself and loses all, it will not be long before Americans will be thinking of "safety first," and the allies will be compelled either to support their own war or quit fighting.

WANTED—A CHARTER.

The city of Los Angeles wants a charter. We say she wants it in the double sense, in the sense that she needs it and in the sense that she desires it. We do not say the city needs a new charter, for the excellent reason that she has no charter at all.

She has a thing for a charter fearfully if not wonderfully made, principally by "Doc" Haynes. The thing Los Angeles has for a charter is very much like the coat patriarch Jacob made for the first favorite son mentioned in history, the well-beloved Joseph. It is a thing of shreds and patches. It has been made a good deal as a crazy quilt is made at a quilting bee when a lot of old gossips meet in the country on such an occasion.

Los Angeles desires and needs a charter. That is a fact. Whether she will get one or not, no human prescience can look into the future and prophesy. She may get a so-called charter, manufactured by putting some more patches on the crazy quilt she is now working under, or she may get a new one made exactly on the pattern of the old one, with all its destructive methods of direct legislation. To get a real charter will be an exceedingly difficult thing at the present time, and a wonder of modern legislation if the effort now being made is successful.

We have departed very far from American principles and from American ideals. A charter for a city is an organic instrument fundamental in its purposes, on which all after-ordinances are built up. The Constitution of the United States furnishes a model on which all State constitutions ought to be patterned and also all city charters. It is so brief, yet so comprehensive. It embodies nothing but fundamental principles, and yet it is efficient to the last degree. Its efficiency comes from its brevity and simplicity.

The present generation is mad for law-making. We pile statute upon statute, act upon act, law upon law, ordinance upon ordinance until no one knows where we are or what our law is, except a few professional lawyers whose business it is to untangle the terribly knotted skein of our present-day legislation. Even then only the most studious lawyers know the law, and they only after laborious study. This is bad enough when it comes to statutes, acts or laws for a nation or a State, but it is intolerable when applied to a city. The city charter of Los Angeles is so voluminous, so complicated, so contradictory that it is very much like the fabled constitution of Great Britain, which never has been and never could be reduced to writing or systematized in any way.

It may seem an idle thing to say that what we need is to turn back the clock of time many years and revert to American models, American principles and American ideals. Yet idle as the statement may seem to many of the present day, it is absolutely true. Many people are beginning to see that it is true, and as time goes on more will see the fact, and then we shall get a real charter for the city, but we scarcely dare to hope for such a thing until the eyes of the people are opened to the enormity of the present craze for legislation, for law-making, for trying new fads, instead of following the wisdom of the ages.

If we could get such a charter, what would it contain, what would it be like? It would be, as we have said above, modeled after the Constitution of the United States. It would be an organic instrument containing the fundamentals of city government and nothing more. It would be brief, yet very comprehensive in its briefness. It would be simple, yet efficacious because of its simplicity. What it would not be is a code of laws taking the place of carefully-prepared, duly-considered ordinances passed by the City Council, approved by the City Attorney and signed by the Mayor. It would leave out all the fads, fancies and new-fangled devices now incorporated in the present so-called charter, and would give the people relief from everlasting political turmoil as well as an opportunity to build upon such organic law a really efficacious working city government.

It would be a tripartite government like that under which the Federal government at Washington is managed. It would make the Council a really legislative body with ample powers to frame and pass proper laws in accordance with the fundamental instrument here supposed to exist. The executive branch would be in the hands of the Mayor, and he would be given large powers and held responsible for the exercise thereof. It would contain a judicial branch to pass upon the constitutionality of ordinances and otherwise guide the action of the Councilmen.

Such a charter would cut out details and leave them to the codified laws passed by the Council. It would relieve the people from all the bungling entanglement of referendums, initiatives and recalls. It would prune the city government of the commissions piled upon commissions to do the work the elective officers ought to do. It would subdivide the government into departments, with heads over each held responsible to the electors for the proper exercise of their functions.

Another thing it would do would be to cast into the fire the city-wide election of Councilmen and restore the old ward system under which the government would be brought near home to the door of every citizen and give an opportunity to the voters of knowing for whom they were voting. To see the necessity of this one has only to look back a few months to the last city election, when the ballot was as long as Homer's catalogue of the ships in the Iliad, and it was utterly impossible for even most intelligent persons exercising the franchise to judge of the qualifications or characters of those for whom they were voting.

That's the charter the city needs. It remains to be seen whether it is the one it desires or whether anything like this will be submitted to the voters. We shall see.

IS JAPAN RESPONSIBLE?

Very often hasty conclusions are unfair and time proves them to have been groundless. But when evidence points strongly in any specific direction it is well to investigate.

Since Japan, by the exercise of superior naval and military force, obtained a directing hand in Chinese affairs, a decided spirit of discrimination against American commerce has been discerned in the Orient. Without any apparent justification a concession recently granted the Standard Oil Company to open new fields in Northern China has been withdrawn. Will the concession afterwards be granted to some Japanese company? In the interest of the open door in China the future of the oil fields in Northern China will stand careful watching.

We appreciate the sentiments of cordial esteem that Japanese statesmen always express for this country and nation, but these same leaders must make their words good by doing nothing through their newly-acquired powers in China to hamper our commercial or trade relations on the Asiatic continent or to fit a Nipponese lock on the open door in the Orient.

NO APOLOGIES.

A Michigander named Davenny, in a newspaper article which Congressman Smith caused to be inserted in the Congressional Record, mentioned Gettysburg as a place where the "Federal forces" under Meade and "the gallant and faithful followers of Lee" "mingled their sacrificial blood."

There are veterans at the Soldiers' Home who would have stated the case differently. They would have called the Union soldiers "gallant and faithful followers" and mentioned Lee's army as "Confederate forces."

Mr. Davenny—whoever he may chance to be—belongs evidently to the superfinical class of newspaper writers who would describe a burglar as "a gentleman whose ideas upon the subject of property differ from those entertained by a majority of his fellow-citizens" and who would speak of Judas Iscariot as "an ancient Hebrew whose conduct in selling the Savior for $30 has caused his memory to be visited with great and possibly not altogether undeserved reproach."

The war has been over for many years, and its unfraternal memories ought not to be perpetuated. At the same time it is not necessary for the grandchildren of the Union soldiers to apologize to the grandchildren of the Confederate soldiers for Gettysburg or Shiloh of Chickamauga.

And the old Confederate soldiers do not require such apologies and do not respect those who volunteer them.

PATRIOTISM THROUGH SERVICE.

The more a man labors to support his home, the better he loves that home; the harder a man works at his business, the dearer to him becomes the success of that business, so that many of our most capable citizens die in harness because they could not live out of it. Thus they die naturally instead of prematurely. So also the man who has done something practical to serve his country is always the best patriot. These are willing to die for their country because they cannot live without it.

Whether you are courting a sweetheart, a career, a worthy reputation or a higher place after this life is ended, it is service, hard, earnest service, that counts. Many of us have been privileged to judge for ourselves the value of service for the country in developing the finest manhood by meeting the boys of the navy in our own home city. These certainly deserve that highest mead of all praise, to be "as gentle as a woman and as manly as a man."

The patriotism displayed by a reverence for the flag, by respect for the national song, by a consistent confidence in the future of the country, even by the display of a little spread-eagleism is good as far as it goes, but it doesn't go as far as the patriotism grounded in service. How far have you, as an individual citizen, WORKED for your country apart from your own personal interests? That is the true test of your patriotism. Service through faith, not faith alone, makes a country invincible in peace or war.

Do we wonder at the extraordinary success of the German nation fighting the greater part of two continents? The whole secret of that success is summed up in the one word, service. Every German boy has been taught to serve his country before bragging about it. Great Britain must acquire the higher patriotism that does something more than sing the praises of its dead heroes before it can cope with the spirit of the Teuton. Patriotism in its shirt sleeves, sweating blood, is the brand to carry a nation through calamity and crisis, and that doesn't come so easily as cheering a banner or standing up when the national anthem is being played.

And in America today are we not a little inclined to let our patriotism stop short at words instead of carrying us on to deeds? The lesson taught us by the splendid manhood of our naval defenders is one we should take to heart, the vital lesson that service is the soul of patriotism. We never know how soon such service may be required—and to say "the flesh is weak, but the spirit is willing" will not redeem us. We should be doing something practical now while we have the time, to be ready and prepared should a rush order come unexpectedly. Loyalty and service conquer all obstacles. Americans, all of you, in this era of possible world reconstruction, more than in any period of your splendid history, your country requires of you these two sterling qualities.

A WORLD AT WAR.

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

There are now 1,721,000,000 men, women and children, civilized and uncivilized, living on this planet. Of these 976,296,000—or more than one-half—are at war, says Thomas F. Logan in Leslie's Weekly. The population of the nations comprising the allies is 817,216,000, as follows:

British Empire	442,000,000
Russian Empire	171,000,000
France and colonies	94,000,000
Japan	67,000,000
Italy and colonies	36,800,000
Belgium and Congo	23,000,000
Servia	2,900,000
Montenegro	516,000
Total	817,216,000

While the total population on the side of the Teutons—Germany, Austria and Turkey—is 159,080,000.

Germany	78,000,000
Austria-Hungary	49,500,000
Turkey	31,580,000

Therefore the excess on the side of the allies is 658,136,000.

On the face of it there would seem to be overwhelming odds in favor of the allies. But the mere fact that Japan, with her 67,000,000 population, can dominate the 416,000,000 people of China throws a new light on the importance of population in relation to efficiency and military preparedness.

UNION OF NEUTRAL POWERS TOWARD PEACE.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES]
BY WILLIAM DUDLEY FOULKE,
Former United States Civil Service Commissioner; President of the National Municipal League.

THE MOVEMENT has gained strength since the World Peace Foundation began urging the propaganda in favor of calling a conference of the neutral states to take concerted action for the protection of neutral rights against the encroachments of belligerents as well as for the purpose of offering measures to secure the permanency of the peace which shall be established after the war is over.

The peace foundation suggests that the conference might be called through the agency of the governing board of the Pan-American Union which would seem to be an excellent nucleus for such a movement. If this conference is held it may well be the germ from which shall grow a greatly increased respect, not only for neutral rights but for humanity itself during the progress of the war, and with the prospect of a world court and a world federation or some other agency for maintaining a peace that shall be permanent when the war shall come to its end.

The proposal for concerted action by neutrals stands out in shining contrast with various fanatical and impracticable notions of some other peace organizations. Take—for instance—the Anti-Enlistment League, which proposes a pledge for our young men "not to enlist as volunteers for any military or naval service in international war nor to approve of such enlistment on the part of others." Such an abominable propaganda would be deservedly punished as treason by some nations.

A proposition for the union of neutral states, however, to secure neutral rights against the invasion of belligerents, is a suggestion of great value and one most natural and opportune when we read of the destruction of neutral vessels, of the killing of women and children upon unarmed ships, of the virtual blockade of neutral ports and of the suppression of the commerce of neutral states with one another; not to mention the flagrant invasion of neutral boundaries, the destruction of cities and the wholesale slaughter of non-combatants during the early stages of the war, in territory whose neutrality had been guaranteed.

It is too much for any one neutral nation alone to undertake the defense of all neutral rights or even of its own rights in this great whirlwind which is now sweeping over the world. All the great military powers are involved in the struggle. The neutrals are either small like Switzerland, Holland and the Scandinavian kingdoms, or they are comparatively unarmed like China, Brazil, Argentine or the United States. We need not flatter ourselves that our mere moral influence will be sufficient to protect our own rights, let alone the rights of any other powers, from violation. In the presence of such a contest as this, when the plainest moral considerations have failed, there is nothing but physical power which can be counted on to be effective and our own country has very little physical power today, in spite of its enormous resources, to cast upon either side in this great struggle.

We can form perhaps a juster conception than we have now of what our influence is likely to be if we consider how small would be the influence of China in controlling the great belligerents of the world. Next to China we are today the most helpless of the large nations and we flatter ourselves with vain hopes if we think that our moral influence will be decisive.

But if the principal neutral nations were to combine for the protection of neutral rights, their physical power as well as their moral influence would be very considerable and none of the belligerents could disregard them with impunity. At a time when we are so inexcusably unprepared to make good alone any effort to maintain our rights, our best plan is to act in conjunction with those whose rights and interests are similar to our own.

It is true there are some neutral nations that might well fear to join us, small countries so close to the arena of the war that one or more of them may feel constrained to silence and submission to present wrongs rather than join a union which may involve active measures that might result in their utter destruction.

The Department of State will know to what extent such a proposed conference is feasible, or if it does not know this today, it can ascertain through diplomatic channels without any great publicity how other neutral nations feel upon the subject. It would of course be unwise formally to call such a conference and have other powers refuse to co-operate; but if we have reasonable assurance that a considerable number of neutral nations are willing to join us it would seem that it is high time to take the initiative.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

SWEAR WORDS.

When things go wrong, the man who's strong avoids all futile fussing. "It doesn't pay," you hear him say; "there's nothing gained by cussing. Though I may know all kinds of woe, have ill luck on me saddled, I won't despair, or rant and swear, or hand out language addled. The children near, my words would hear, and then, of course, repeat them, with frills galore and parents sore would round them up and beat them. And women, too, would hear me chew the rag profane, unpriestly, and they would sigh, as they went by, 'That blinkblanked guy is beastly!' Let troubles rise and black my eyes, I'll bear them all with meekness; wrath never helps—the whines and yelps betray a spineless weakness. I may say 'darn' if someone's barn falls down and pins me under; I may say 'gosh' if with a squash you knock my dome asunder; but I won't try the words that fry, and smoke and smell of sulphur; 'tis using these, go-as-you-please, we reach the brimstone gulf for."

WALT MASON.

The Little Angel.

[Cleveland Plain Dealer:] "I was visiting my married sister in Toledo last week," relates Buck Hawes. "She's got a 3-year-old kid, and, while I am fairly fond of children, I am a bachelor and somewhat set in my ways. I was rather dismayed, therefore, when my sister proposed leaving me in the house with the child one afternoon. And here's what she said:

"'Don't put yourself to a bit of trouble—he can take care of himself. See that he doesn't climb up to the pantry shelves and keep an eye on him so that he won't get into any mischief. He won't annoy you. Don't let him go down cellar and watch that he doesn't get hold of the books in the library, and he'll amuse himself all right. If he cries give him a cooky and if that doesn't stop him ride him on your back. But don't let him bother you a bit. I'll be home in an hour.'"

Burton never missed, he is one of the pillars of the Presbyterian church.

THE SOUL'S KING.

Love doth not serve Love's dear for shame;
Nor is love blind—Love hath clearest eyes
And walks clear-visioned in her purity
And tends nought there save her own pure flame;
Hears but one sound—Love's passionate name,
Knowing Love moveth in Love's mysteries
Upon each soul with a mortal love.
Love serveth only Love. Oh, save my soul
My soul from dust, seek not for it or me
But with Prometheus bring soul to soul
Of Godland—with the Immortal Flame!

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

THAT Southern California, and Los Angeles in particular, offers an all-the-year-round out-of-door life no doubt accounts for the expertness of her fairer sex in sports and athletics, nothing apparently interfering with Milady's claim to the title of thorough mistress in innumerable exhilirating diversions that call for skill and nerve.

Golf, tennis, swimming, horseback and motoring are seemingly in the fore for genuine popularity.

Attractive Miss Maurece Heffelfinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will C. Heffelfinger, has a penchant for motoring, and is leaving Monday for San Francisco and other northern points in her machine—and she means to be at the wheel every mile of the way. She is taking her parents and winsome 14-year-old sister Julienne along, and they are to spend at least three weeks among the redwoods, in addition to "expositioning."

"Dada," as she is known to her intimates, boxes, punches the bag and is proficient in many gymnasium "stunts," though her particular "pet" is her own car.

To Tour the Orient.

Miss Gladys Lee Holland of Rampart boulevard has as her house guest Miss Irma McKenzie of Boston.

Friends since childhood, they find much in common, and are enjoying many motor trips in Miss Holland's car, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Holland.

On September 14 the girls leave for Honolulu, where they will visit Miss McKenzie's sister, who is the wife of Lieutenant Commander William Seaman, in charge of the Pearl Harbor naval station. Upon leaving the islands, they will continue to Japan for the cherry festival.

—o—

For the Cooper Guests.

At their home on No. 2320 South Grand avenue, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Cooper gave an elaborate dinner Wednesday night, in honor of their house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Keeran of San Antonio, Tex. The Keerans are leaving Tuesday for San Diego and Coronado to spend a short time before returning to Los Angeles and thence home.

Mr. and Mrs. Turner Elmer Weatherholt were also special dinner guests at the affair, elaborate in its decorations and menu. Quantities of American Beauties decked the pretty board and were used profusely throughout the rooms. Cabaret entertainers were on hand, and altogether it was one of the most enjoyable social events of the week's calendar.

Honors for Artist.

Miss Molly Byerly Wilson, contralto, left yesterday for the San Diego exposition, where she is to furnish a recital programme at the organ tomorrow and another in the blueroom. A special reception to Miss Wilson in the blueroom has been arranged, showing her the same courtesy recently extended there to Nazimova and Marion Craig Wentworth. Miss Wilson expects to spend a week in the southern city. Her sister, Mrs. Georgia Wilson Ober of No. 1435 Alvarado terrace, is with her.

—o—

Dinner Compliment.

Honoring Mrs. Thomas J. Bissett and the Misses Hazel and Grace Bissett of Birmingham, Ala., Col. and Mrs. Peter McClelland of the Bryson entertained with an elaborate dinner of handsome appointments on Tuesday evening.

My Maryland roses, together with maidenhair fronds and pink shaded candelabra formed an effective center for the board, resplendent in crystal and silver, dainty hand-painted cards marking places for Mrs. Bissett, the Misses Grace and Hazel Bissett, Mrs. Joseph T. Harris, Dr. and Mrs. John H. Schaefer, Miss Willie McClelland, Mrs. Earl Brown and the hosts.

—o—

Touring the Southland.

Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Berrien of Butte are enjoying Southern California at present, with headquarters at the Hotel Virginia. Mr. Berrien is associated with the Amalgamated holdings in the mining metropolis.

—o—

Iowa Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Orson E. Dutton of Westmoreland boulevard have as house guests Misses Vivian and Ruth Leonard and Miss Dorothy Swender of Lake City, Iowa, who are nieces of theirs, and a nephew, B. Sutherland of Manning, Iowa. The party are motoring to San Diego today to visit the exposition until Monday, as guests of their hosts.

In September the Duttons are to entertain more visitors, when cousins from Baltimore, Chicago and Salt Lake will arrive.

—o—

Miss Mary E. Decker was hostess on Saturday evening to a large number of friends, the pleasant event, which was in the form of a musicale, being given at her home on No. 1543 Fifth avenue.

Quantities of pink Mackenni and asparagus fern beautified the music-room and den, and the dining-room carried out a delicate yellow motif with flowers and shaded lights. Punch was served during the evening, and following a programme, buffet supper culminated the entertainment.

Miss Decker, herself a pianist, was assisted by Mrs. Edith Lane Decker, violin; Mrs. Roy Staples, cello; Mrs. William I. Clendenon, soprano; Mrs. Gladys Abbott Stewart, soprano; Harry Decker, tenor, and Mrs. Myrtelle Decker Abbott, mezzo. The programme consisted of compositions by Kreisler, Borowski, Boccherini, Lolli, Cadman, Goring-Thomas and Lalo.

—o—

Join Northern Exodus.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hildreth Jones of the Seminole have gone to San Francisco to spend several weeks visiting the exposition and friends.

—o—

Miss Swobdi to Return Soon.

Miss A. L. Swobdi, who has been for several weeks in New Haven, Ct., the guest of friends, will return shortly.

—o—

On Way Home.

Miss Madeline Hendrix of Bridgeport, Ct., who has been the guest of the C. S. Supple family of Fletcher avenue, South Pasadena, the past three weeks, has left for her eastern home, via San Francisco and Canada, where she will make short stops.

—o—

Leaving for North Tomorrow.

In the exodus of Los Angeles people to San Francisco and the exposition is Mrs. Fred Hooker Jones of Howell Terrace, who is leaving tomorrow for a month's stay. Mr. Jones, who has been East, will join his wife in the Bay City.

—o—

Married.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Duff announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Beatrice Dagmar Duff, to Thomas C. Burnside, the interesting event having been solemnized Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the parental home on No. 1801 Fair Oaks avenue, Oneonta Park, South Pasadena.

—o—

The Dorans to Go East.

Leaving Sunday for a visit to their former home in New York City are Mr. and Mrs. William J. Doran of No. 547 Harvard boulevard, who plan to stay East until about Thanksgiving time.

Mr. and Mrs. Doran have recently contributed to the society calendar some very pretty dinners and other enjoyable functions.

—o—

Prominent Easterner Here.

Mrs. T. C. DuPont, wife of the Delaware powder king, who has been passing several quiet weeks in Southern California and has been a guest at the Hotel Clark for several days, is leaving this week for her home in Wilmington, Del.

A banquet was given on Thursday night for Mr. and Mrs. James W. Shawgo, who were recently wed, hosts for the pleasant occasion being Rebekah, I.O.O.F. Lodge, No. 104, of this city, at No. 721 West Jefferson street. Mr. Shawgo and his bride are located in their new home at No. 1535 West Twentieth street, where they are receiving the felicitations of their many friends.

—o—

Mid-summer Visit.

A party consisting of Mrs. O. C. Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Kneeland, George Beach and Earl Tourning, all of this city, are enjoying the many delights at Arrowhead Springs.

—o—

The Siegels at Tahoe.

Mrs. Myer Siegel, with her two fascinating young daughters, Misses Marian and Floria, are enjoying life at Lake Tahoe at present.

—o—

Distinguished Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Untermeyer, the son and daughter-in-law of the eminent New York lawyer, Samuel Untermeyer, have just arrived at Arrowhead for an extensive visit.

—o—

Evening of Delight.

Irma Guthrie Wright Ill.

Her many friends will learn with genuine regret of Miss Irma Guthrie Wright's indisposition with an attack of tonsilitis, which has kept the well-known singer confined to her apartment in the Kensington.

—o—

Miss Louise Chambers Honoree.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Chambers, who reside at No. 314 West Twenty-eighth street, extended recently to their house guest, Miss Louise Chambers, and other friends who have come to California to visit the expositions and interesting points, a matinee party and dinner.

In the party were Misses Louise and Marion Chambers, Miss Winnie Joice of Chicago; Mrs. Julia Hunt of Detroit, and the hosts. They motored to San Gabriel for the "Mission Play" and upon their return to town a dinner at Hotel Alexandria concluded the day's pleasure.

—o—

Back from the Beaches.

Following several weeks spent at the beaches, Mrs. Cora Berryman has returned to the city and is domiciled at the Jamieson, which she will manage this year.

Miss Maurece Heffelfinger,

Enthusiastic motorist, who will pilot her family to San Francisco and the Redwoods in her car, leaving Monday.

CHARGE LAWYER USED INFLUENCE.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 19.—On the ground that the weakness of their mother's mind was taken advantage of by Attorney John Brown, Jr., of San Bernardino, with the result that she wrote her will in such a way that Attorney Brown under the will will secure $40,000 from the estate, Walter L. Neill of Santa Ana, Mrs. Ida Beasley, Mrs. Lillie Kiefhaber and Miss May Neill, all of Los Angeles, today started a contest of the will of Mrs. Mary J. Neill.

Mrs. Neill, a pioneer, died recently, leaving an estate valued at $50,000. The last of four wills filed was brought forward by Attorney Brown. In that will it is directed that none of her children shall receive more than $10 each from the estate. Bequests of about $7000 are made to friends and eastern relatives. Then appears a statement that the remainder of the estate shall go to John Brown, Jr.

The contest states that Mrs. Neill was a patient in an insane asylum from 1893 to 1904, and that since 1904 her mind has been deranged and at times she was irresponsible for her acts. It is alleged that designing persons influenced her against her children by telling her that the children wanted her returned to the asylum and that they were her enemies.

It is declared that Attorney Brown, who represented her in some litigation, "posed and represented himself to Mrs. Neill as her best friend," and that by taking an unfair advantage of the woman's condition of mind he was able to dominate and control her, and that if it had not been for the attorney's influence the will would never have been made as it was.

TANK BLOWS UP.

DRIVER KNOCKED OUT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OXNARD, Aug. 19.—Lying unconscious in a plowed field while fire destroyed his $3000 automobile, James H. Old had a narrow escape from death or serious injury today. While turning around with his large car in a field he noticed smoke coming through the footboard. Stopping the car, he leaped out and raised the floorboard to ascertain the trouble. A puff of gas and flame struck him in the face. He believes he inhaled some of the flame. He was rendered unconscious. When he recovered the car was enveloped in flames and the top torn to pieces. It seemed the gas tank had exploded. There was no one near at the time except Mr. Old. The car was a total loss, but was partially insured.

SPINE FRACTURED.

An X-ray examination of C. J. Murphy, who was run over by his own automobile while cranking it Sunday, disclosed a fracture of the spine, and also that the bone does not press on the spinal cord. He has numerous other injuries, but his physician's reports are encouraging. Mr. Murphy, a prominent merchant, was teaching his wife to drive when the accident occurred. She killed the engine. The car was left in high gear and caught Mr. Murphy under it, doubling him over.

Only One.

[Kansas City Journal:] "No, I didn't come up to business yesterday," said the stout man in the corner of the carriage. "The last of my daughters was getting married so I had to give her away."

"Really? Who was the happy man?" inquired a polite fellow passenger.

"I was," said the parent emphatically."

TOGETHER LET US GO

Downtown and Inspect Olive Gray and Other Tints; Also Other Fine Things.

Now is the time to buy:

Raffia furniture for the porch which you have long been planning to beautify. In that big furniture sale you can secure it all at a bargain price. Be sure to include one big, lazy chair lounge. The very look of those chairs gives one a feeling of complete relaxation.

Practical Suggestion.

If, in your summer cottage or on the ranch there are steps to be compassed in the route between kitchen and dining-room or pantry, as is so frequently the case in temporary homes, if you will place two wide planks, cleated together, over the steps, you may glide over these without fatigue and you will find your daily work simplified, while the danger of tripping is reduced to a minimum.

Becoming.

In choosing your outing or sports hats, see that the lining of the brim is of a becoming color so that its reflection cast over your face will enhance rather than detract from your complexion's tint. Alma always selects the very shade of blue matching her eyes for her golfing hats and, doubtless, this has much to do with the golf friendships which she forms.

Black and White Candy.

At least I have no means of knowing that the candy is not black and white and also striped, for the boxes are such. The craze for stripes in black and white has actually broken into the candy world! I saw a whole window of candy boxes in the popular combination. On the other hand we have had candy stripes in blouse materials.

New Saladry.

Unless you attended the Cooking Queen's salad day you have never thought. I'll wager, of using honey in salad dressing! You use lemon also, and good! Well, try it! Her wee bookey of salads and their clothes—dressings—may be had for a few cents, while she is here. She calls them Swiss—the salads and the "dress." Among the novel combinations suggested are watermelon and cantaloupe, raw cranberries and sweet orange.

Basketry.

Suggestions for many odd and useful baskets for partially covering and beautifying jars and vases for use as summer flower holders are given in a recent popular magazine. Thus, for a few cents and a bit of simple work, one may have something quite unusual as a receptacle for blossoms.

New Hats.

Some of the newest of the midsummer velvet hats have for sole trimming a ray of sparkling beads running from a center at the front of the crown, out in all directions like the claws of an octopus. The beads are, in most cases, of the long, crystal sort in opalescent tints.

Cured Them.

Marjorie, who has been complaining for some time about a small group of blackheads, which, she declared, spoiled her complexion, called my attention, delightedly, to the fact that they have disappeared. When asked what had accomplished the relief, she simply said: "That pink cream that I told you I was trying. Just a few applications did the work."

New Filet.

New filet designs, presented in a recent household magazine will delight the handy fingered woman who likes light fancy work for summer porch sojourning. The patterns are both novel and pretty as well as easily understood—or at least the knitting lady says they are so.

Cow Hair, Hog Hair, Horse Hair.

Interesting, not to say amazing, is that exhibition of mattress making, in the window of a lower Broadway store. It seems that a horse hair mattress is made from part cow hair and part hog hair, and the proportion of the parts settles the issue as to quality. The hair is shown from the state in which it occurs on the cow's tail or on the hog up to the point when in the form of curled "horse hair" it is ready to insert into the ticking. The hair is plaited into long braids and the braids are then soaked in hot water and allowed to dry in kinks just as little girls at one time "crimped" their hair. After this coifing process the hair is ready to cut up and to use in the mattress. The making of the mattress is also shown in this interesting exposition of the main feature which makes a bed restful. There are several astonishing facts known for the first time to the public by means of this display.

Making Jewelry.

A window demonstrating the process of jewelry making attracts much attention in mid-Broadway. There are the crucibles for melting metals, the implements used in forming jewelry and the materials with the processes of treating them in enameling and in finishing. The tiny saws for cutting the gold and other fine metals are most interesting, some being as fine as a hair. One may gaze and gaze again at this window and still learn something more regarding jewelry and its making. That the public is interested is proven by the fact that there is always a crowd before that window.

Tips for Milady.

"Skirts will be narrower!" "Skirts will be wider." Skirts will be as we may individually select: this will, doubtless, be the outcome of such conflicting reports upon this important subject.

Tete de negre appears again under the name of African brown.

Broad striped coatees are worn for sports over white dresses.

Vests and pocket flaps give a suggestion of Louis XVI fashions.

Short, bright-colored velvet jackets have ostrich feather collars.

The military influence will still hold good in the fall fashions.

Watch carefully the skirts, they promise to be a little narrower.

Russian inspiration is likely to be seen in many of the new fall costumes.

The designers of fall dresses are as much interested as ever in ornamental pockets.

Collars are rolled and high, but almost always elaborate. Metal embroidery appears on some.

Coats are straight or else fitted and flaring; most of them can be worn open or buttoned high as desired.

It is said that women abroad are wearing checked stockings to correspond with checked sports suits.

PASTOR'S RECEPTION.

Van Nuys Baptist Church Congregation Gathers to do Honor to New Minister.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VAN NUYS, Aug. 19.—A reception was tendered the pastor of the recently-organized Baptist Church of Van Nuys, Rev. F. N. Baker, and family, tonight. The affair was held in the new church building, which was well filled with guests, a number of whom came from Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena.

A pleasing feature of the entertainment was a short musical programme, including two excellent vocal solos by Mrs. Dale Tussing of Pasadena, violin and piano solos by the Misses Josephine and Lucile Baker, daughters of the pastor, and a piano solo by Miss Alice Moody.

F. M. Keffer, on behalf of the citizens of Van Nuys, welcomed the pastor to his new charge. Rev. H. P. Lane, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, and Rev. S. A. Thompson of the Methodist Episcopal Church extended the hand of fellowship to the newcomer. The heads of the various departments of the church work welcomed their spiritual leader, the Sunday-school being represented by H. J. Lindeman, the church deacons by Senior Deacon Moody, the Young People's Society by Gilbert Lehman, and the Emmanuel Circle by Mrs. Moody.

Other speakers and their topics were: Prof. Nathan Smith of the Van Nuys High School, "Our Schools;" Rev. A. H. Bailey of Los Angeles, "A Home Church;" Rev. J. F. Watson of Los Angeles, "Results of Labor;" Albert Hatcher Smith of Redlands, "Neighboring Churches."

This part of the programme was with a response by Rev. F. N. Baker, who spoke most optimistically of the bright future he foresees for the Nuys Baptist Church. After a social session refreshments were served. The Reception Committee consisted of Mrs. H. E. Cook, assisted by Mrs. Vincent and Mrs. Rodgers.

MUNROE LATHROP, "Tribune:" The vigor of Mr. Morton's drama is denied and as drama it is consistent and gripping.
HENRY CHRISTEEN WARNACK, "Times:" The play is one of satisfactoriness. As for Miss Marjorie Rambeau, her "Mary Turner" commends her as a most superior emotional actress.
OTHEMAN STEVENS, "Examiner:" In staging the play it is a work of direction has evidently been extremely intelligent and conscientious. Director Franklyn Underwood's sensible and sensitive capacity.

CALIFORNIA STUDENTS WILD AT FIRST RALLY

Class to Him.

DECANNIERE IS TOO GOOD.

Shuts Out Oaklets Without Any Runs.

Receives Great Support on Defense.

One-handed Double Play by Gleichmann.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.

NO NOISE.

Whereas, on Wednesday, the giddy throng made a glad noise like a rock quarry or a ship foundry, the crowd yesterday was so small and so tired from prior rooting that it could emit only a faint squeak now and then.

The Tigers, as fully expected, won the game, doing so by a score of 3 to 0. The Oaklets, it will be recalled, won the last half of the double-header, and to take two in a row, of course, is out of the question. Therefore the Tigers were a cinch bet yesterday.

DESERVED IT.

And to speak candidly and in all truth, they deserved to win despite the fact that they nicked Clinton H. Prough for only one earned run. That marker was sufficient for all their needs, as Frank Decanniere did not permit any of the visitors to get within speaking distance of the plate. Decanniere allowed but five hits, which is regarded as a sure sign that he has completely recovered from the mumps.

Only in the eighth was Decanniere in great fear. The Oaklets showed sudden signs of life and filled up the bases with two gone, giving rise to one of those situations known as a crisis. At this point, Joe Wilhoit hurdled to the rescue of the Tiger twirler with a great and galloping catch of a powerful fly from the managerial bat of Mr. Elliott.

GOOD SUPPORT.

Most of the way, Dec had loyal and spectacular support, and two of the guys to reach first base were snuffed out in double plays, one of which was accomplished by Augustus Gleichmann in a single-handed manner. That's right. Augustus retired two men with only one hand and no outside assistance, whatever. He could lose an arm and still be a pretty fair sort of ball player.

This one-handed feat took place in the sixth. Johnston, first up, was spared when Rader made a low throw for the only Tiger fielding blemish of the day. Rube Gardner then pasted the pill to Gleichmann right on a line. Augustus bravely stuck out his glove.

SPEED TO IT.

Nobody saw the ball, but they heard the splash when it landed in his mitt. The shock was so severe that it turned Gleichmann around like he had swivels on the soles of his feet. But he clung to the capsule, and stepping calmly over to first, doubled Johnston, who had started for second.

They had the "mud ball" up in Frisco Wednesday, and we had it here yesterday. The "mud ball" sure travels fast. In the third and fourth Ed Finney suspected that Prough was shooting the "mud ball," and he and Elliott had a couple of rows over the question. Doc White did not actively participate in the discussion, but it is known that he is opposed to any mud slinging.

UNKNOWN.

The "mud ball" is a device little known here. Some seem to think that the pitcher mixes up a hod of mud before the game, rolls this up into balls, bakes the balls in a brick kiln and then throws the hard-finished missiles at the batter's head with intent to kill.

Such is not the truth. The "mud ball" is prepared by applying mud to the surface of a regulation baseball.

PILOTS PRACTICE FOR SPEED EVENT.

ELGIN (Ill.) Aug. 19.—Speed pilots of national renown took their cars around the Elgin road race course today for a few turns and then retired while officials put the track in the best possible shape for the two-day events. Everything points to new records, early sprints showing four miles an hour better than last year.

Drivers have found the course in better shape than last year. The cars entered for the 1915 contest are faster than those of 1914, as the result of a year's speedway activities throughout the country. The Stutz team, built for the Indianapolis race and tuned to the highest pitch in the Chicago 500-mile derby, appears on the starting list.

Ralph de Palma, winner of the 1912 and 1914 races, admits that the man who captures the trophy will have to drive faster than 74.83 miles an hour.

JOHNSTON IS PUT TO ROUT.

Williams Defeats Him in a Hot Battle.

McLoughlin has Tough Time Winning.

Griffin Survives Reaching Next Round.

NEWPORT, Aug. 19.—R. Norris Williams II, national champion, disposed of William Johnston, Pacific Coast title holder, today, after four torrid sets in the fourth round of the Newport singles tournament. The work of Williams was indeed impressive. Losing the first set 2-6, the Philadelphian rallied and took the second and longest of the match by the count of 10-8. Johnston seemed to wilt at this stage of the proceedings and lost the next two sets, 6-1, 6-3.

With Johnston out of it, two Californians remain in the tournament to dispute the semi-finals with Williams and Nat W. Niles. Maurice McLoughlin defeated Wallace Johnson of Philadelphia after a brilliant four-set match by the score of 5-7, 6-4, 8-6, 6-2.

The Californian started in easy fashion, but after warming up to his work, never faltered, and put on display some Herculean service and forehand drives.

Clarence Griffin, the other Californian to remain in the hunt for the finals, won today from Irving C. Wright of Boston in straight sets, 7-5, 6-2, 8-6. Griffin used his lob shot effectively, and was unruffled at all stages of the match. His work was one of the day's features. Matched with Johnston, Griffin won in the Casino cup matches from Irving Wright and W. F. Johnson in impressive style. Griffin and Johnston look to have a chance for the finals of the tournament.

WEDDING PARTY ON ROLLER SKATES.

EVERYBODY TO BE EQUIPPED WITH ROLLERS, EVEN THE USHERS.

A whole wedding party, from the bride and groom to the ushers, on roller skates, is the unique marriage ceremony being planned by W. F. Norton, president of the Roller Skaters' Association of Southern California, to take place in the near future at the Los Angeles rink, the headquarters of the organization. There have been marriages in captive balloons, at the tops of giant skyscrapers, and in the cages of wild animals, but the local event will be the first wedding service ever conducted with all the participants on rollers.

To the couple who will have the knot tied at the rink the association will offer as wedding gifts the ring, the license, the minister's fee and enough furniture to form the nucleus of a furnished home.

MOUNTAIN LIONS ARE CAPTURED.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Aug. 19.—Five mountain lions are the trophies Ike Chapman and Matt Logan, oil men of Kern River field, have to show for their vacation trip into Tulare county, six miles from the Jack ranch. They keep a large pack of trained hounds and these treed the mountain lion family. The parents were shot and with lassoes the large cubs were brought down alive and negotiations are under way for their sale to a Los Angeles moving-picture concern. Two months ago the boys killed an immense lion in Communa Valley whose skin and several bounties netted them $98.

"BEARS" BOOST FOR OLD GAME.

Tremendous Crowd at Rally for Football.

Andy Smith is Signed up as Assistant.

Pomona Men to Have Squads to Handle.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERKELEY, Aug. 19.—After nine years' interment American football came from the grave today assisted and welcomed by the largest football rally seen here for six years. California Hall assembly-room was crowded and many stood outside unable to gain admittance. The welcome given the new game indicates that the students are heartily in favor of the change.

REAL PEP.

The usual cheering and pep was a trifle more vigorous than ever. The "old game" idea has struck a responsive chord. Close to 200 men signed up for work at the conclusion of the rally.

The presence of Dean Barrows, dicates that faculty opposition will not President Wheeler's close adviser, inbe felt. Dean Barrows, speaking for himself, said: "I believe in both Rugby and American football. But I think that American is the greater game of the two. To me it has always seemed more intelligent, depending more on the men than on the umpire. It gives me a thrill that I never found in Rugby. I am glad to see us back at the 'old game.'"

MORE BOOSTS.

"Eddie" O'Neil, professor of chemistry and athletic tan, said: "I prefer the 'old game.' It is the game of thrills; it is the real game. I wish I were a freshman and had a chance to assist in bringing a new life to the game here."

Billie Middleton, the last man to fight for American football when Rugby was taken aboard, was the happiest man in the crowd. Hustled to the platform, he burst out:

"Fellows, we've waited nine years for it. I'm happy to the core, and you can bet the old grads are with you."

WIN OR QUIT.

Coach Schaeffer had little to say, but it was to the point. "I'm going to see what I know about the American game. I've played it and I think that I can do something, but if I can't make good I'm going to get out."

Other speakers were Capt. Canfield, Trainer Voltz, Coach Christie, and Becker, the Yale player.

Following the rally plans were made for the beginning of practice. Work starts Saturday. Experienced American players are to take charge of the squad and teach them the rules. It is likely that several of the old Pomona stars will have squads, though none of them here are eligible for the team.

FOUR OF 'EM.

Four Pomona men, Harold Wilson, '14; Walter Johnson and Courtney Overin, '14, and Frank McCulloch, captain-elect of the 1915 Pomona team, have volunteered their services.

Dr. A. W. Smith, medical adviser and head football coach for Throop Polytechnic Institute, is to be assistant coach at California for the football season about to open.

The announcement was made tonight by Manager Strand. Negotiations with Dr. Smith have been under way for some time, but nothing was made public until tonight. Dr. Smith will leave Throop at once and

CLEVELAND, Aug. 19.—C. K. G. Billings of Chicago and New York, probably the greatest lover of the harness horse game in this country, now owns the champion pacer, William, 5 years old, according to reports that cannot be doubted. Billings purchased William Tuesday for $35,000, just before he was shipped to Montreal for racing there.

Mr. Billings sat on the hurricane deck of the timers' stand during the $5000 match race Monday afternoon, when William defeated Directum II so handily, and at once expressed a desire to add this champion to his string, which has included Lou Dillon, Uhlan and the Harvester. A. E. Van Atta of Otterbin, Ind., who owned William, was reluctant to part with him even at the high figure offered, and William Marvin, who has trained and driven William, his namesake, was even more averse to a sale, but Mr. Billings and his agent finally brought about the transfer.

There are many who think that William will equal or better Dan Patch's mark of 1:55, and he will do it in the "open," instead of behind a windshield, as was the case of the great Dan Patch.

A SEA-GOING GOLFER

BY ALMA WHITAKER

Ralph R. Stewart, U.S.N., lieutenant, junior grade, of the United States warship Ohio, until yesterday stationed in Los Angeles waters, is the one scintillating subject of conversation at the country clubs, for he is that rare thing, a naval golfer, and a brilliant one at that.

Col. Wright, well known to Del Monte patrons, saw to it that the army posts were well provided with golf courses, even when they had to be made in and out the houses, but the navy—where, pray, could they indulge the expansive and expensive pastime of golf?

REAL CLASS.

Yet here comes a young lieutenant who simply staggered the natives with his skill down at the Los Angeles Country Club, who drives a prodigious ball, long and low and straight, like a brilliant combination of Macbeth, Armstrong and Seaver at their best. And who calmly uses his iron clubs for the majority of the drives to deliberately curtail distance. Who drove into the ditch at the third hole with an iron, and into the second bunker at the fifth.

And all this, mark you, with Artie Shafer's clubs. He is something of the build of Artie Shafer, but a shade shorter, with a massive pair of shoulders, the full strength of which he seems afraid to use.

BACK SPIN.

But it was his mashie shots that delighted an ever increasing audience. He has achieved a coveted back spin on the ball that many a striver will henceforth try to emulate in vain. The shot that made Paul Hunter famous. He drove onto the hillside of the bunker at the eighth. Then with a mashie he lifted the ball high and straight, so skillfully that it dropped dead on the green with never the slightest disposition to roll.

It stayed put with consummate obedience, and the natives marveled. Only in the department of putting did his game show any weakness and that was wholly due to unfamiliarity with the life of the greens. All his naval confreres proclaim him the best golfer in the navy, a real golfer whose game is a delight to watch.

BUT HOW.

We were all eager to hear how it happened. For it is obvious that a naval man has rare opportunities for golf ere he retires.

Then we had the joy of hearing that it was here at Redlands that he first acquired his knowledge of the game. He used to live with his grandfather up there and played against no less a veteran than our own John W. Wilson, whom he consistently outdrove at the tender age of 15, when Wilson was just as hoary a youth as he is now.

For John will never grow old. He swears too beautifully. Stewart, the boy, played with a Macgregor one-piece driver in those day, and could have been a national champion by now had the navy not intervened.

UNFREQUENT.

Still we marveled that his skill should not have deserted him, playing so rarely. Our own native players go "off" if they miss a couple of weeks. Mr. Stewart (it is good form to call them Mr. and eschew the title anything below the rank of captain,) goes months at a time with never a sight of a golf course. He attributes this to the fact that he learned the game young, like the professionals, and so never loses the swing. A man that learns after 25 easily loses all he has learned, much the same as in languages.

It was Ralph Stewart that schemed and attained a nine-hole course at Annapolis, with a club whose membership includes first-class cadets and officers. They have oil greens there, too, which made our course seem homelike to him. The club now boasts 120 members, and they are splurging with a $3000 addition to the clubhouse this winter.

HIS WIFE.

He tells a good story of how he tricked Mrs. Stewart into golf. One of the first tournaments on that nine-hole course was a matrimonial Scotch foursome, for which he informed his wife he had entered her name. She did not know one end of a club from another then, and waxed indignant at the figure he would make her out. So he gave her a couple of private lessons the day before—and blest if they did not win the trophy. That was the seed. Now the lady is such a golf fiend that nothing else matters, and he fears for her social position if she continues to acquire the golf vocabulary with anything like her present facility.

Our naval visitors include several golfers. One pair is highly interesting—Lieutenant-Commander B. E. Wigant, navigating officer of the Ohio, and David P. Patterson, junior lieutenant. This couple have a running contest to be played on the course at every port they touch.

ALWAYS PLAY.

They carry their clubs around themselves and always manage to play at least one match whenever the ship passes in port long enough. They played at the Presidio up north and at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday.

Another player is the Ohio chaplain, Rev. Robert D. Workman, who is left-handed, and a formidable opponent. They introduced him to our own Rev. W. H. Cornett out at the Los Angeles Country Club, and alas, golf became submerged in such profound Presbyterian discussion that there are no brilliant feats to record.

Altogether our visiting naval golfers have created quite a pleasant sensation, and certainly the Stewart marvel will be the subject of conversation for many a long day. "Gee, did you see that mashie shot at the eighth ——?"

FISHER QUITS BIG SPEEDWAY.

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) Aug. 19.—Carl G. Fisher, president of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and of the big Sheepshead Bay Speedway now under construction in New York, today forwarded his resignation to the New York company.

When asked what his motive was for severing his connection with the eastern syndicate, Mr. Fisher said that his many other duties demanded his attention and that he found that he could not fill the duties of president for the eastern syndicate and give the proper attention to his local and southern interests.

The local track, he said, is bound to remain the popular course of the country and will undoubtedly be more popular than ever. Therefore all of Mr. Fisher's time will be fully occupied in looking after his own speed course.

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 19.—After going runless for twenty-nine innings Portland scored on Southpaw Fittery of Salt Lake in the fifth inning today and defeated Salt Lake 2 to 1.

Higginbotham was invincible up to the ninth, when he retired after allowing Ryan to double and Gedeon to walk. Ryan went to third on a passed ball and scored, when Fisher threw the ball into center field trying to catch Gedeon. Score:

BUFFALO SHUTS OUT CHICAGO.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BUFFALO, Aug. 19.—Buffalo opened the series with Chicago today by shutting them out 5 to 0. Five of the ten hits off Prendergast were made in the seventh inning, and these, with fast work on the bases, netted four runs. Chicago got a man past second base only once during the game. Score:

	R.	H.	E.

Buffalo

Batteries—Prendergast and Fischer; Kropp and Blair.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, Aug. 19.—Cullop was too much for Baltimore this afternoon and as a result Kansas City won the opening game of the series, 6 to 1. The visitors bunched their hits to advantage and were never in danger of being headed. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Baltimore

Batteries—Cullop and Easterly; Johnson and Jacklitsch.

PITTSBURGH GETS BADLY STEPPED ON

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEWARK (N. J.) Aug. 19.—Newark used Pittsburgh as a stepping-stone to first place today, shutting them out, 5 to 0. Ed Reulbach, the local twirler, was in fine form, while neither Frank Allen nor Cy Barger could stop Newark. Bunched hits were responsible for the New York win. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
Pittsburgh
Newark

Batteries—Allen, Barger and O'Connor; Reulbach and Rariden.

LISTLESS GAME TIRES OUT FANS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BROOKLYN (N. Y.) Aug. 19.—St. Louis defeated the Brooklyn Federals in a listless game today, a feature of which was a running catch of Kore's long fly by Kauff in the seventh inning. Myers got four hits out of four times up and Drake three out of four attempts. Score:

	R.	H.	E.
St. Louis
Brooklyn

Batteries—Hart and Hoffer; Mamie, Upham and H. Smith.

Too Bad.

ANGELS GET OFF IN LEAD.

But are Unable to Hold it Very Long, However.

Perritt and Hughes are Hit Hard and Often.

Manage to Score Again in the Ninth.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 19.—The Angels ran true to form today in annexing a 3-to-1 lead as early as the second inning, but shortly afterwards the Seals started coming and they never stopped until the score stood 10 to 5 in their favor. The Southrons tried vainly for the customary ninth-inning rally, but it petered out with only one lone run in.

IN A HURRY.

The Seals lost little time getting busy, for after Fitz grounded in the first, Schaller walked and advanced on Meloan's out. Bodie doubled to the left-field fence for a score. Downs beat out an infield hit and Jones walked and, with the bases full, Corhan forced Downs at third.

The first two Angels up in the second were easy outs and then a single by Terry, triples by Brooks and Butler and an infield single by Perritt chased over three markers.

NOT FOR LONG.

The advantage did not stay with the visitors long for in the third the Seals jumped on Perritt for three runs. Bodie started it with a double to left and Downs advanced him with a single to left. McMullen mussed up Jones's grounder and Ping registered. Corhan sacrificed and Schmidt's single to left counted Downs and Jones.

Two bases on balls with a sacrifice bunt and a sacrifice fly scored another in the fourth. A single by Ellis, stolen base and Terry's rap to left brought in a run for the Angels in the sixth.

POOR OLD TOM.

Hughes relieved Perritt in the fifth and came in for a lacing in the Seals' half of the sixth. A pass, sacrifice and doubles by Downs and Jones chased over a couple. A base on balls, single and steal followed, but Brown was not there with the bases full.

The eighth finished it. Two were out when Jones walked and raced to third on Corhan's single. Roy stole second and followed Jones home on Block's triple to center. Brown also delivered with a single to left and the Seals had three more runs.

Ellis's triple and Terry's infield out settled the Angels' flash in the ninth inning. The score:

CORONA ROAD RACE DATE CONFLICTS WITH PHOENIX.

IT IS hardly probable that the Corona road race will be held November 20, the date chosen at the final mass meeting at Corona last Monday night. George Purdy Bullard, representative of the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association at Phoenix, Ariz., has requested that Corona select another date; and Corona will just about do that little thing.

The Arizona State Fair Association assigned November 20 as Automobile Day several weeks ago. The date was announced and it was said that a $5000 purse would be offered for a 150-mile race on the Phoenix mile dirt track.

On account of Thanksgiving coming the week after the Phoenix date, it is hardly probable that the Corona people will select November 27. The week before the Phoenix race would put Corona's race on November 13 and the drivers are too superstitious to take a chance on that date, it is feared.

With three Mercers already entered for Corona and more than twenty of the fastest racing cars now in America promised, it is assured that the 1915 Corona race will be the biggest event the State has ever seen, whether it is held on, before or after November 20.

TRAP SHOOTERS TOO NUMEROUS.

BIG EVENT HAS TO OCCUPY MORE THAN ONE DAY.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—The fact that 827 trap shooters tried to win the grand American handicap made it impossible to finish the contest, the big event of the Interstate Association's annual meet, in one day. When darkness stopped the sport, however, each of the contestants had shot eighty times, leaving a string of twenty targets for tomorrow's competition.

At the end of the day seven men were tied for the lead, with scores of 78; six had 77, and seven had 76. The fifty high guns at the end of the contest will share in the purse of $7613. The winner will receive 10 per cent. of this, the second man 9 per cent., the third best 8 per cent. and others in proportion.

LATEST ROAD DOPE

From the Auto Club of Southern California.

WITH the "short touring" season at its height, officials of the touring information bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California have outlined some select week-end trips for motorists who wish the mountains or the sea.

Motorists will find that the majority of the distance covered on the tours will not be great, and will include boulevards most of the way. Any additional information on these routes may be secured at the Auto Club headquarters, No. 1344 South Figueroa street, or at any of the club's branch offices:

MODJESKA'S HOME.

Situated in the heart of the foothills, among trees and ferns, the home of the famous actress is attracting hundreds of visitors each week end. Leaving Los Angeles, follow the coast route to San Diego as far as Anaheim.

This route leaves via East Seventh street and the Whittier boulevard, marked by Auto Club signs. At Anaheim, continue past the Orange County Park, and so on straight through to the home site, up a shady, winding canyon. Meals may be secured there, and the trip can easily be made in a day.

IDYLLWILD.

This resort is approximately ninety-six miles from Los Angeles, and the trip is most comfortable if made in two days, stopping over night at the resort. Leave Los Angeles by way of the Valley boulevard over North Main street, turning left at Eastlake Park.

Following this route, the motorist will pass through Pomona, Ontario, Riverside, Redlands Junction, Beaumont and Banning, each individually characteristic of Southern California and its active romance.

For eastern visitors who wish to see Southern California, this is named by the Auto Club as a characteristic tour. The resort is located in the mountains, among the pines lying to the east of Los Angeles.

RIM OF THE WORLD.

This tour should take two days at least. Leave Los Angeles over the Foothill boulevard to San Bernardino, turning left there, following the Auto Club signs up Waterman Canyon, allowing for a stop at the famous Arrowhead Springs, with the great arrowhead on the mountain in plain view.

On this trip the nationally-known resorts of Thousand Pines, Pinecrest and Pine Knot Lodge will be found. Motorists will find some rather heavy grade work, and should be prepared for same, although there is no danger if precautions are taken and it is one of the most beautiful tours in the United States. The return is made over the Santa Ana Canyon road, giving 101 miles on the Rim of the World. If additional time is allowed, stops should be made at Seven Oaks and Forest Home.

BALBOA BEACH.

This is a one-day round trip tour. Motorists follow the San Diego coast road to Tustin, and there continue due west to Newport and thence to Balboa. This is a beach trip of special worth.

SAN DIEGO.

Coast route — Conditions remain practically unchanged since reported last week. Travel now going via Capistrano or Laguna Beach. Two short detours will be found.

San Diego inland route— Here will be found road in very fair condition, although a trifle worn at this time of the year. Leave Los Angeles via North Main street, following the Valley boulevard through Riverside.

Next week the Auto Club will outline additional short tours with directions for leaving Los Angeles. On Tuesday complete information will be given on the transcontinental routes.

DODGERS STEP UP NEAR THE QUAKERS

BROOKLYN, Aug. 19.—The Brooklyns advanced within two points of the Phillies today, when they beat Chicago, 6 to 5, in an exciting battle. The Cubs overcame a four-run lead, finally tieing the score in the eighth, only to have Cheney send in the winning run with a wild pitch in the Dodgers half of the same inning. Four pitchers were used, Lavender and Prieffer being taken out because of heavy hitting. Score:

NATIONAL.

The National League race has been a nip and tuck affair all of the season and the leaders and tail-enders are now separated by only seventy points. Chicago, which has gained and lost the lead more than once, is only 29 points behind the leaders, Philadelphia and Brooklyn being tied for that honor.

While Cincinnati adorns the bottom of the list, the Reds have recently displayed new life and are expected to make trouble before the season closes. The Cubs appear to be weak in the pitching department. They are hitting freely and playing an excellent field game, but the twirlers fall at critical junctures and there are a number of half-cripples on the team. Neither Boston nor Pittsburgh are seriously considered as pennant contenders this season.

The Giants are plainly weaker than for years and McGraw has practically admitted that he is not so much concerned with results this season as he is for the future. It would not surprise the fans to see Cincinnati climb rapidly, perhaps well into the first division while the present spurs continues.

AMERICAN.

In the American League the race is now between Boston and Detroit. The Tigers are only two points behind the Red Sox and seem to be primed to gain and hold the lead.

The White Sox are only four and one-half games behind Detroit, but they are not playing as steadily and consistently as is Detroit. Other teams in the league believe Chicago is out of the pennant running, but the Sox can cut a big figure in determining the ultimate result.

Most of the teams are friendly to Detroit—that is they would rather see Detroit win if it becomes certain they cannot grab the pennant. There is an undercurrent of feeling that Boston has had her share of honors and it will be better for the game if the pennant goes elsewhere.

This does not mean they will throw games to defeat Boston or to help Detroit. The Tigers have been strengthened recently by the addition of pitcher James, for whom President Navin has been angling a long time, and the entire team is confident of winning. There is no discord on the club and the esprit will be a powerful factor.

FEDERAL.

Newark has sprung to the front in the Federal League and now leads by the narrow margin of one point. Although they are behind Pittsburgh and Kansas City, the St. Louis and Buffalo teams have been displaying some mid-season form that promises to make the race very interesting and probably uncork some upsets.

Chicago holds second place but its grip is insecure and some of the players are not in best condition. St. Louis and Buffalo are especially dangerous from the reason that their forces are intact, seasoned and ready for the fight down the home stretch where endurance counts.

Not much is expected of Brooklyn and Baltimore and it is generally conceded that they will be contenders for the cellar honors. Newark is especially strong and wiseacres of the game pick that city as the pennant winner.

Chicago seems to have gone too fast a pace in the early stages of the contest and now lacks resources upon which to draw, but the team will stay up in the first division and make the battle interesting for all comers.

YOUNG BLOOD FOR TIGERS.

Hinted over their success with youngsters as Piercy, Bader, Risberg and Wilhoit, Maier and White intend to give the rising generation of ball players a chance, and next spring will let down the bars to both local and foreign talent of tender years.

C. Elliott, a shortstop, and Ray Moffit, pitcher, have been highly touted to White, and he figures on signing them. Moffitt's sensational pitching for Norwalk High School has attracted favorable attention. His average of strikeouts is 19, and he has 49 scoreless innings. Elliott is a Hunkstsburg boy, who was recommended by several competent judges of ball players.

Is a legitimate and important part of baseball, and the guy who can ferret out the signals or cryptic conversation of the opposing battery is sure to be of value to his club, even if he isn't such as a ball player.

It is true that the part which signs play in baseball has been somewhat exaggerated by the literary "natural," and yet the inside story of many a defeat is nothing more than stolen signs.

Also there seems to be little difference between stealing signals while sitting on the coaching line and tipping batter to them, than pitching with a spryglass from the dugout housetop and flashing the dope to the batter at the plate. Some base ball writers have made the former method a crime, and the latter unethical.

Any man who can stand on the lines and steal the signals of an opposing battery is looked up to by members of the baseball profession, and generally rated as a good player.

Certain players of the old Athletics were especially clever in this branch of inside baseball, and Connie Mack maintained a regular secret service, with Chief Bender as the main gumshoer. Bender could tell the signs of an opponent before the batsmen could sense what was coming to get in the densest fog.

There was a certain famous spitball pitcher in the American League, who was working regularly, who could have the slugging Athletics out of his hand. Mack set the signs on his mail, and the next time that Philadelphia hit the ball his head rattled. Connie was the result of Bender. The Chief, after studying for a few days, observed something, apparently the thing that had been overlooked entirely else in the world, to wit: The pitcher drew the ball in his hands, up to his mouth, and usually applied saliva to the heart of his cap moved slightly. This was caused by his mouth. But when finally shifting the spitter and expectorating on the ball to the movement of his cap. The ball was tipped off to the batter, who could tell to a certainty whether the heaver was going to throw them one wet or simply fake.

Even from this same school that developed Krause, rated by Rowdy Elliott as the best signal swiper in baseball, emerges. Not only does this pupil of Krause, but he has picked up a lot of valuable pointers from his master, and is something with Bender. Krause is generally regarded as about the best line seen in the circuit since, old Walter Nagle was around, innocent-like and unsuspected secrets of the opposition.

It is to be noted that Elliott, unlike most ball player, wears an undershirt with sleeves that droop down over the wrist, and even the back part of the hand. In doing so he is not striving for sartorial effect, but he adopted the style because it convinced him that it was necessary.

Elliott usually signals his catcher in a squatting posture with his hands concealed behind him. With the right hand he gives one finger extended may mean a fast ball, and two fingers a fast curve. The hand and fingers

VILLA WANTS EVERYTHING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

EL PASO, Aug. 19.—Pancho Villa may accomplish what all of the preachers of El Paso have failed to do. Because of his insistence that he receive a big rake-off from the Juarez races this year, the Juarez Jockey Club is seriously considering closing the track for another year and holding no races across the river this winter.

This fact developed today when a representative of Gen. Villa announced that the demand of the Juarez club that the bucket shops in Juarez be closed at once had been refused and that the race track would have to pay a higher percentage to the government than last year. Representatives of the Jockey Club here say that the season was such a failure last year that it is highly probable that there will be no races in Juarez this winter.

as good a place to be dead in as any other.

Finally, everybody except Hap seemed to have forgotten him. Hogan learned that Tub was living the simple life in an up-State hamlet.

"I'm going to get Spencer back in the game and he will be one of the greatest catchers in the league," said Hogan. His remarks were published. Baseball men sagely shook their heads, and vowed that it couldn't be done. That was nearly two years ago. Finally, Hap, backed by Maier, persuaded Spencer to don the spangles again, and he reported last spring. No man ever worked harder or more sincerely, and he started the season in prime condition. Has Tub justified Hap's faith? Go out to the park some fine afternoon and see for yourself. The big fellow is catching major league ball, and working his heart out for the club.

WASHINGTON SWATS INDIANS.

CLEVELAND (O.) Aug. 19.—Washington hit two Cleveland pitchers hard and won 11 to 6. Gandil made two singles and two triples in five times at bat.

Boehling was wild, but Cleveland threw many chances to score away by bad base running. Washington's three double plays also helped hold the Cleveland count down. Score:

ATHLETIC CLUB TO BID FOR HONORS.

EXCELLENT PROGRAMME IS SCHEDULED FOR TONIGHT.

The Aldridge Athletic Club will make its first bid for the patronage of local lovers of the boxing game tonight at the Empress Theater. The initial line-up promises some interesting sport and augurs well for the style of entertainment that will hereafter be seen each Friday night at the Empress. Tonight's programme will be: Harry Atwood vs. Jack Lowe—they will meet at 122 pounds; Steve Dalton vs. Walter Ehle, 135 pounds; Jack Dillon vs. "Kid" Strohecker, 140 pounds; Jimmy Lastro vs. Joe Silver, 133 pounds; Danny Solomon vs. "Babe" Halesley, 110 pounds, and Jack Gordon vs. Roy Brown, 140 pounds.

De Witt Van Court and Frank Holborrow will act as referees, and Jack Jeffries and Clark Jargstorff as judges. The bouts will start at 8 o'clock.

Ananias and Jonah outdone

By Lynan Sinker.

Fishing has been the principle sport in Southern California for several months. Fishermen have invaded every likely spot in this part of the State and have met with remarkable success. And the best part of the season is yet to come, according to local experts.

But fishing is going to have a tremendous rival. Hunting will soon be on tap and when the shooting fans get started they will probably occupy most of the limelight. September first is the long expected date and every gun in California has been cleaned and polished, several times over. Deer and dove come in at the same time and they will certainly create a sensation.

The man who gets the first deer and brings it to the Cline-Cline Co. is to be rewarded with a choice, dyed-in-the-wool, guaranteed-not-to-rust, rifle. Last year there was a rush for the gun and somebody won it by getting there at 9 o'clock in the morning on Sept. 1. About fifty other enthusiasts arrived later, but didn't get anything for their trouble as there was only one gun.

Howard Kimball, W. H. Williams, C. W. Glass, R. S. Janissau, and J. W. Wright have planned a unique hunting trip. These men drifted into a local sporting goods store the other day and bought out the place. They purchased regular hunting equipments and all of them were just alike. When they start out they will look like five twins.

The unique part of the proposition is that all of the hunters are to go to different places. They have picked out five good hunting spots and they all have an individual place to try their luck. When they return they will compare notes and determine the best location. Then they will all take another trip to that location and shoot everything in sight.

Henry Langsfield and J. A. Melling have just returned from Big Bear Valley and they report excellent fishing. The trout were all running large and they bit at anything which hit the water. Mr. Langsfield hooked a 28-inch beauty and was nearly drowned getting the whale ashore.

He was serenely fishing in the middle of the lake when he felt an unusually powerful jerk. He stood up and began to pull in with all his might. But the fish decided to kid around awhile and Langsfield had a terrible time keeping in the slack. As a climax to the whole affair the fisherman lost his footing and splashed into the lake proper. He had the presence of mind to throw his pole under a seat before he joined the fish.

But the fish had it on him in one way. It was securely tied to the boat and he was not. Also the fish could swim and he could not. Mr. Melling finally came to the rescue and saved both of them.

W. T. Hughes has spent several days at Little Bear Lake and admits that fishing there is all that it is cracked up to be. In other words it is pretty good. He managed to capture nice messes every day and hauled in a few extra-large-sized trout.

C. J. Johnson and Judge Gibbs are planning a fly-fishing trip on the North Kern. This Kern region is one of the best fishing grounds in California. It is further away than most places and correspondingly better. These two experts will spend a week or so at the trout massacre.

Mr. Wilson reports one of the best fishing trips this season. He started out on the valley road to San Francisco and drove as far as Exeter. Here he left the highway and cut across to Three Forks and then to the Sequoia National Park. It is necessary to get a permit to fish in the park and they can be obtained at Rocky Goat Station for $3.50.

The best fishing spot in the park is at Marble Forks, located about ten miles from Ranger. This place must be a wonder and Mr. Wilson claims it is the best in the United States. The limit in 14 or 15-inch trout can be caught in a couple of hours any day in the week.

It is well to take along plenty of hooks as there are many snags in the stream.

Another choice spot is Wolverton Creek, some ten miles from Marble Forks. The fishing here is considerably better than any other place in the world. The limit can be hooked before breakfast even if you don't get up until 8 o'clock. Crickets are the best bait for the hungry trout although flies and salmon eggs will do.

This place is just 301 miles from Los Angeles and the roads are in very fair condition.

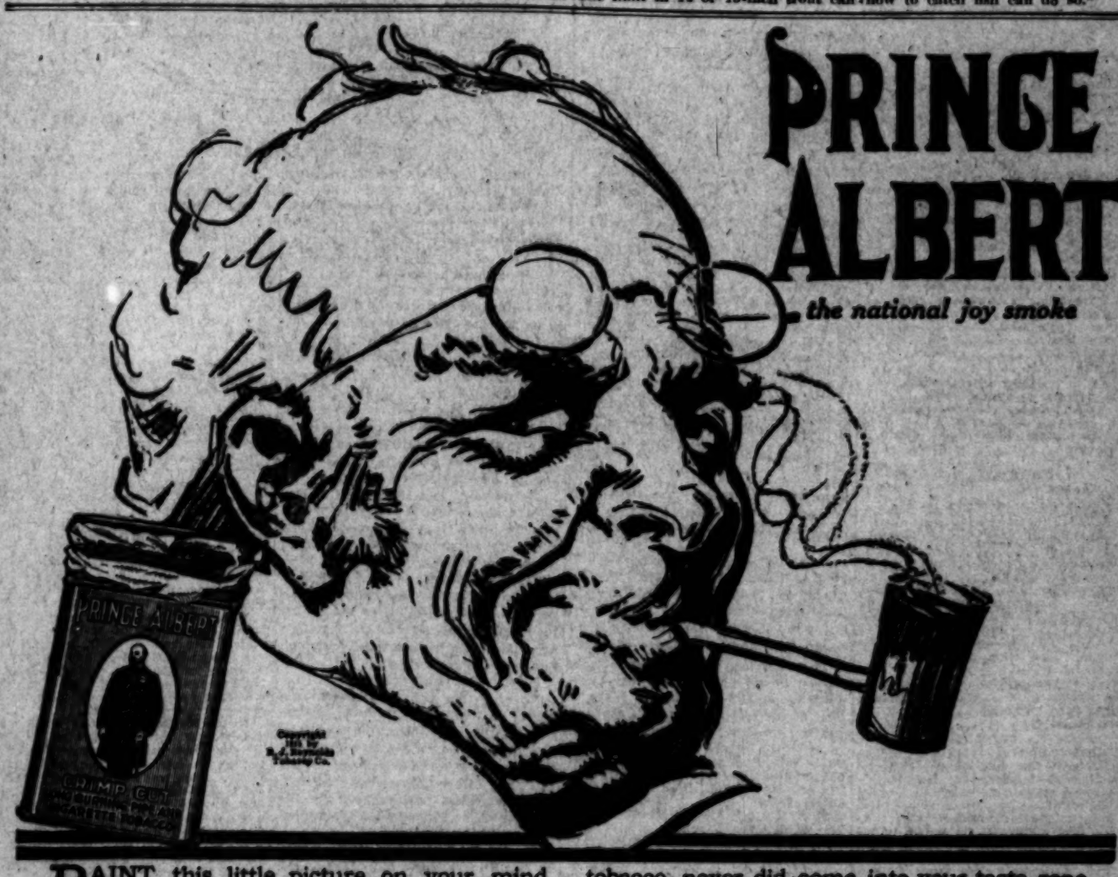
W. F. Cannon, who has spent the last several days at the Kern River, reports excellent fishing. He was there for eight days and caught the limit every day. If it hadn't been for the limit he thinks he could have hooked at least a thousand beauties per diem.

He also noticed the deer chances and said that there would be some excellent hunting in that region. By packing in about 15 miles you can find some of the best hunting in the State.

Several of the men at B. H. Dyas Co. are planning to be out among 'em when the deer season opens. Two trips have already been mapped out and many more may be hatched up before the opening date.

One mysterious gentleman down there admits that he has a deer all staked out and waiting to be shot. He is going out and get the deer sighted some time during the night. Then when the sun comes up over the horizon he will pop its head off. This is certainly a businesslike way of doing things and it ought to work all right—unless the deer turns up missing.

In spite of the fact that several places have reported bum fishing lately, Al Reed is of the opinion that the best is yet to be. He claims that the largest fish are still to be caught and also the largest numbers. "The season is just about in its prime," remarked Al, "and anybody that knows how to catch fish can do so."



PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

PAINT this little picture on your mind, then beat it quick-cross-lots for some Prince Albert tobacco, because you need it in your smokings!

Talk about putting the hush on that tobacco hankering! Prince Albert just purrs pleasure on your tongue as you draw in the cool smoke from a jimmy pipe or makin's cigarette! The patented process fixes that and muffles the bite and parch!

So you cast past smoking memories into the discard and draw cards via Prince Albert, for you'll trump tricks on every show down when you fire up this national joy smoke!

Such jimmy pipe tobacco, such makin's tobacco, never did come into your taste-zone before! Such flavor, and coolness, and fragrance; such mellowness! Why, men, P. A.'s so good you call it by its first name like you were brought up in the same house!

And you just go on smoking Prince Albert day-in, day-out, because it's so good and friendly and cheerful to the tenderest tongue! And nail this: You will find P. A., jammed in a jimmy pipe or rolled into a makin's cigarette, better than the most cheerful word we ever printed about it!

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold. Toppy red bags (handy for cigarette smokers), 5c; tidy red tins, 10c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidors—and—that classy pound crystal-glass humidor with the sponge-moistener top that keeps the tobacco so slick!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO COMPANY, Winston-Salem, N. C.

AT THE STAGE DOOR

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Avery Hopwood, author of "Sadie Love," is working these days with State Director Franklyn Underwood in the direction of rehearsals of his new play.

Mr. Hopwood is the author of "Clothes," "Nobody's Widow," "Seven Days" and other brilliant comedies, and may indeed be said to be a legitimate successor to Clyde Fitch.

The new play promises to be quite as clever as his preceding pieces. It is an amplification and dramatization of his novelette, "A Full Honeymoon," which appears in this month's Smart Set.

Mr. Hopwood wrote one serious play, the name of which I forget, and when asked why he always wrote comedy, explained:

"Because I think there are only one or two things in the world that are serious enough to write serious drama about, and it takes an Ibsen or a Shakespeare to handle them adequately. Pretty nearly any situation can be treated either seriously or in a comedy vein.

"For instance," he laughed, "there was Adam Smith's 'Wealth of Nations,' the philosophy of which is all frivolously summed up in the rhyme about Little Boo-Peep, and the advice to 'leave 'em alone, and they'll come home, bringing their tails behind 'em.'"

Crystallised Cute Ones.

Here are some of "the black beetles in amber" which adorn the script of "Sadie Love," though a lot of the play's brightness is not quotable because, as Mr. Hopwood explains, "the points come out of the situations, instead of hanging alone like things on a Christmas tree:"

"To smile at one another across the table, and kick one another under the table, that is matrimony."

"Feeling as we do toward each other, isn't it perfectly ridiculous to be sitting here eating out of each other's hands?"

"She isn't the sort of first wife I would have picked out for a man whose second wife I am going to be."

"People never really know each other until after they are married. That rather limits one's acquaintance, you say? Oh, not here in America."

"When I am divorced from you and am going to marry Jim, will you give me away? You know you are my nearest male relative."

Make 'Em Laugh, but——

Mr. Hopwood considers the ideal comedy is the one that has a serious basis.

"It is dangerously easy to make people laugh in the theater," said Mr. Hopwood. "But there's something more to people than the laugh apparatus. To make a comedy really appealing, there must be depth and sincerity to human nature, as is illustrated in the Barrie plays."

New Brain Throbs.

Avery Hopwood is writing a new play for Grace George. It is comedy with an American setting. He is also writing a new play for the Selwyns. The latter is to be a fantasy, something on the order of "Peter Pan."

Billie's Indian Sign.

The heavy overcoat and "crepe" which Billie Colvin wears in "The Yellow Ticket" is severely reducing his weight, he says. But he explains he couldn't "feel" the part without the scenery.

"Just my luck," said Billy. "I suppose when it comes winter they'll make me wear a low-neck gown or something."

Warbles New War Song.

"I care not who sings your love songs, so you let me make your war songs," is Blanche Ring's motto, apparently. For she started "Tipperary" and now she has a new song which is being sung in the trenches. It is entitled "Molly, Dear, It's You I'm After." She will sing it in "Nobody Home."

Kinks in the Kicks.

The rag dances in "Nobody Home" are as intricate as crocheting, and the chorus "lace curtains" (which is Billie Rock-ese for "skirts," which in turn is Mannie Loewenstein-ese for "gelle") are having a hard time. One of the dances ends with an old-fashioned cakewalk that's a wonder. It is "walked" by Billie Rock and Frances White.

Blanche's New One.

Blanche Ring has a corking new song for "Nobody Home," written by Jean Schwartz and Harry Williams, and entitled "Ukelele Dailey."

Some Stars.

Miller's announce that beginning September 6 they will each week show a William Fox photoplay featuring a celebrated star of the stage or screen. Each of these productions will be from a celebrated novel or play.

The first picture to be shown under the new regime will be Theda Bara in "Sin," adapted from "The Jewels of the Madonna;" the week following William Farnum will be seen in "The Wonderful Adventure." Valeska Surratt and other well-known stars will be seen during the weeks following.

No Race Suicide.

Mabel Normand, star of the Keystone Film Company, got word one day this week that one of the seven Foy children was celebrating a birthday at the Foy bungalow down at Santa Monica. Mr. Foy was out with his director and supporting company, working on a scene which was being made several miles from Los Angeles. Mabel was anxious to send a birthday present to the Foylet in question, but, not knowing whether it was one of the boys or one of the girls, she was unable to decide on anything appropriate. So she called her car, drove to town and bought a gift for each of the seven, and had her chauffeur hasten to the Foy party, and deliver the goods.

"I'm glad I never worked in the same company with Brigham Young," was Miss Normand's consolation.

Busy Manager.

Manager Will Wyatt of the Mason, accompanied by Mrs. Wyatt, is taking a vacation in San Francisco, and visiting the fair. Mr. Wyatt, while in the north, will arrange the details of

Mrs. Pat Campbell's repertoire for her week here, will see Margaret Anglin's new play, and plan some of the big events for the coming Mason season, which opens August 30 with Mrs. Campbell's engagement.

To Register Innocent Joy.

Casson Ferguson, who doesn't have a look-in in "So Long Letty," will have a good part in "Nobody Home," and his deep, sea-going voice will render one of the song hits of the piece, "In Arcady."

TOM M'NAMARA IS GOLF CHAMPION.

WINS WESTERN TITLE AT GLEN OAK COUNTRY CLUB.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 19.—Tom McNamara of Boston today won the golf western open championship at the Glen Oak Country Club, with a score of 304 for seventy-two holes. A. Cunningham of Wheeling, W. Va., was second with 306; George Sargent of Washington, D. C., third, with 307, while fourth and fifth money was divided between M. J. Brady of Wollaston, Mass., and Walter Hagen of Rochester, N. Y., former national open champion, both scoring 309. Brady today broke the course record of seventy-two holes for the 6639-yard links with a splendid 35-35-70 and won a special prize for the best eighteen holes. Gilbert Nichols of Wilmington, Del., metropolitan open champion, finished just outside the money with 311.

RECORDS BROKEN IN LONG TRAMP.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

CRAFTON, Aug. 17.—H. P. D. Kingsbury broke all records for a hike from Redlands to the top of Mt. San Bernardino and back to Kamp Kill Kare; a distance of about forty-five miles, when he made it in sixteen hours. Mr. Kingsbury now holds the record for time on hikes to Big Bear Valley, top of Grayback and top of San Bernardino. He will go after the record to the top of Old Baldy next Sunday and the next Sunday will strike out for San Jacinto. His records have all been made under observation.

F. B. King, William Carrothers, Hubert King, Joe Fincher and Harry Deming have returned from one of the longest hikes of the season. They covered almost a hundred miles in their hike to Big Bear Valley and back. Their camping outfit was carried on burros.

LEE GOOCH WILL JOIN THE BEAVERS.

OUTFIELDER COMES FROM THE SAVANNAH CLUB TO PORTLAND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Aug. 19.—Manager McCredie announced just before the game today that Lee Gooch, a young outfielder, was coming from Cleveland to join the Beavers. Gooch is from the Savannah club of the South Atlantic League. Wynn Noyes and Herb Murphy of the Spokane club also will join the team as soon as the Spokane club cinches its pennant in the Northwestern League. Cleveland offered Pitcher Dixie Walker to Portland, but Mac turned him down.

Little is known of Gooch, but he is said to be extremely promising, according to the Cleveland scout who looked him over, and is to be placed with Portland for development. Gooch is already on the way, and is expected here the first part of next week.

and in that way marring its complexion. The pitcher mixes up, say half a pint of mud in his glove, and smears it on one side of the ball when needed. The "mud ball" can be thrown either wet or dry.

In case it is thrown wet, the mud flies from the surface of the whirling sphere and lodges in the eyes of the batter, and in that way baffles him. The batter, however, can combat this by wearing goggles or a Ford windshield.

Decanniere got off to a wiggly start, but no ill befell him. He began by walking Tobin, and Marcan singled infield. Middleton bunted, Decanniere pouncing on the pill and forcing Tobin at third. Johnston and Gardner were throgn out respectively by Rader and Purtell.

NICE THROW.

A neat throw by Johnston prevented Prough from getting licked as early as the first round. Rader dumped a bunt and beat Howdy's throw to first. The Wildcat went to second on Doane's sacrifice, and tried desperately to will jump into active work here within as short a time as possible.

FROM MICHIGAN.

Dr. Smith is a Michigan product, one of the famous players turned out by "Harry-up" Yost, the great Michigan coach. His football pedigree is good. He was All-Western center in 1909-1910; in 1911-1912 was Yost's chief assistant, and since that time has been gridiron boss at Throop.

The passage last night by the Executive Committee of a rule which bars freshmen from minor-sport teams will not affect intercollegiate arrangements now existing with U.S.C.

California has at present an agreement with the southern college which permits that institution to use freshmen on its teams until 1916. This agreement was made several years ago and is still effective.

NO OBJECTION.

No objection will be made to the use of freshmen by U.S.C. during the life of this agreement, but any new agreements drawn must, necessarily, include the freshman ruling. However, any minor sports contested with U.S.C. and not now covered by the agreement in force will have to get along without freshmen.

No definite action has yet been taken regarding a game with Occidental. The California schedule at present seems to offer but one open date, October 16. If Oxy can arrange her schedule to accommodate this date it is probable that a game will be played. Manager Stroud favors a game, but is crowded for open time.

MARSANS CASE IS BOOTED OUT.

HERRMANN ANNOUNCES THAT HE WILL APPEAL THE CASE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Aug. 19.—The injunction restraining Armando Marsans from playing baseball with the St. Louis Federals was dissolved by Judge Dyer in the Federal District Court here today.

CINCINNATI, Aug. 19.—The Marsans case will be appealed, according to a statement by August Herrmann, president of the Cincinnati club. He said that the Marsans ruling is based on a technicality.

score from that point when Bayless blasted a single to center. Johnston's throw beat him there, and came in all the way on the fly. Howdy made the putout by bravely sitting down in front of the runner. We know of no surer way to protect the plate than to sit down on it. This also tends to keep the plate nicely burnished, and saves the umpires a lot of work.

After that, Prough got along all right until the fourth, when an error, two hits and a couple of runs happened. Doane was retired by McArdle. Bayless bumped up a weak little fly to the same party. It slipped through Mac's glove like there was no glove there. He looked at the glove disapprovingly. This muff threw the enemy into confusion, and Willhoit took advantage of this condition to smash a single to center. Bayless took second. Purtell almost tore a leg off Prough with a single that caromed to Litschi. This filled the bases.

Gleichmann scored Bayless with a fly to Johnston, Willhoit going to third. Purtell was unavoidably detained at first. Joe scored on a double steal, which was not difficult, as the ball was not present, Rowdy having thrown it down to McArdle. Mac threw it back as fast as he could, but that was not fast enough. Berger boosted to center for the third out.

Doane drilled open the sixth with a beautiful three-base swipe to center. Bayless banged one of the same caliber to left, Walter chasing gaily home. Dick was not destined to score. He was held at third, while Willhoit and Purtell were thrown out at first, and his last chance vanished with Gleichmann's fly to Johnston.

Mitze doubled and stole third in the seventh, but nobody could hoist him along to the plate.

How to Dress

If every woman tried to dress like the models shown in the average fashion magazine, she would look like a Futurist or a Cubist painting.

The attempts of a few are responsible for the queerly-dressed creatures which we occasionally see on prominent thoroughfares.

The intelligent woman who cares about her appearance wants to be fashionably yet tastefully and exclusively gowned.

Fortunately, there is a publication which will aid her—The Woman's Home Companion.

The fashion models in this magazine are not fantastic. They do not look like creatures which belong in a zoo or a museum.

They look like real human beings, real flesh and blood women—women who are really pleasing to the eye.

Every woman would be attractive in appearance if she made her gowns according to the designs and patterns furnished by the Companion.

The American Magazine

The American Magazine is the kind of magazine that nobody ever hides in a drawer. It is edited by responsible people, who have children of their own to bring up—edited by people who know that the best and even the most exciting reading matter in all the world is pure—edited by people of brains and character, who realize that nastiness is only a poor substitute for stupidity.

The American Magazine, with all its humor, its facts, its new ideas, its stories and its wonderful pictures, is one of the rarest and most significant products of present day American life. It is, in fact, THE American Magazine.

THE TIMES

By exclusive arrangement with the publishers, The Times is enabled to offer its readers, old or new, the following exceptionally liberal subscription proposition. Any subscriber, old or new, can get The Times, the Woman's Home Companion and the American Magazine, by signing a twelve months' subscription contract for the Daily and Sunday Times and paying therefor only 80 cents per month.

No other newspaper attempts to cover the home field—Los Angeles, Southern California, the Pacific Coast and the Great Southwest—as thoroughly and completely as does The Times, which is the only paper in the Pacific Southwest that daily prints a full and complete Associated Press report.

These comprehensive and authentic reports are of special importance at this time because of the great European war. The Associated Press is the world's greatest news-gathering organization; and its daily cable reports from Europe, which are trustworthy and impartial, show the real facts concerning the activities of the various armies.

In addition to the service of the Associated Press, THE TIMES has special correspondents of its own in the principal centers of population of America and Europe, and it daily prints every happening of importance on the civilized globe, including news of the political, religious, social and business life of the people of all foreign lands.

REDSKINS SCARE GIRL SECRETARY.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 19.—Fears of an impending Indian massacre such as she had often read of in her South Carolina days stole over Miss Mayme O. Peak, secretary to Congressman William Kettner, when a delegation of redskins appeared in her office here today. The tribesmen, with Capt. Mariano Pipa at their head, made the pilgrimage of fifty miles from their mountain reservation to seek the aid of the Congressman in their efforts to induce the "great white father" at Washington to allot them more farming land and better facilities with which to cultivate it.

Miss Peak's experience with Indians before today had consisted mostly of viewing Remington paintings and reading government reports in the office of the Indian Commissioner in Washington. The swarthy natives entered her office today without warning. Although there was no evidence of war paint, the visitors gave indication of a belligerent spirit. Loud mutterings and gesticulations failed to suggest neutrality to the Congressional secretary.

After many futile attempts, she gave up trying to converse with the Indians. Frank Salmons, partner of Congressman Kettner and a former government Indian agent, came to the secretary's rescue as official interpreter. It finally developed that the redskins were not pleased with the alleged lack of interest in their welfare exhibited by Uncle Sam, and they demanded action.

Accompanying Capt. Pipa was a tribal judge, whose name the captain could not spell for the secretary because he "could not find it in the big dictionary." The visitors were greatly appeased and departed with warm Indian expressions of good will when the secretary told them their case would be presented to the "great white father" without delay.

MESSENGER BOY UNDER ARREST.

CHARGED WITH THE THEFT OF MONEY TO VISIT FAIR AT SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ONTARIO, Aug. 19.—His desire for company on a proposed trip to San Francisco led to the arrest here this afternoon of Harry J. Fink, aged 16, who disappeared Tuesday after having been sent to the bank to deposit $1000 for a local electrical appliance factory where he was employed.

When arrested young Fink said that he came back to get Claude Ross, former inmate of Ione Reform School, who had accompanied him to Long Beach Tuesday evening and who, the Fink boy relates, came back to Ontario yesterday for the purpose of securing $50 from his mother, and promising to rejoin the other at the beach, the two to continue on to San Francisco.

When young Fink returned this afternoon he kept away from the center of the city, remaining in the outskirts, but news of his disappearance having spread broadcast, his whereabouts was reported to the police.

Practically all of the money taken by the boy, with the exception of that spent on pleasures at the beach and for cheap jewelry in his possession, was on Fink's person when arrested. He declares the Ross boy influenced him to make away with the money.

Officials of the factory where Fink was employed tonight denied that the deposit intrusted to him had contained any great amount of cash, being chiefly checks and drafts. Fink is being held without bail, and the arrest of the Ross boy is probable. Fink is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fink.

INVESTOR WANTS HIS MONEY BACK.

SAYS HE PAID FOR STOCK BUT COMPANY WAS NEVER ORGANIZED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

OWENSMOUTH, Aug. 19.—R. B. Gilbert has started suit against H. Horn and Mrs. F. Nallor Horn for $900 which he claims is due him on account of money advanced defendants for stock in the Southern California Glace Fruit Company.

Complainant states that on April 25 he gave Mrs. Horn $400, for which he was to receive 10 shares of stock in the fruit company of the par value of $100 per share. As the company has never been organized and no stock has been issued Mr. Gilbert seeks to regain possession of his money, together with costs and damages to the amount of $500.

FINES HIS UNCLE.

Justice of the Peace Clarence Glynn of Chatsworth was placed in a most embarrassing position a few days ago when Constable John S. Pilcher arrested James Hill, an uncle of Mr. Glynn, on a charge of violating a county ordinance by peddling fruit without a license. The evidence against Mr. Hill being conclusive, the judge ignored the plea for leniency on account of the relationship existing between the two men and imposed a fine of $30.

USED FOR IRRIGATION.

Owens River water was used here for irrigation purposes today for the first time. Several hundred acres east of town will be irrigated at once, preparatory to deep plowing for sugar beets the coming season. Practically all the land in the west end of the valley has already been rented for beets and applications are being received daily from experienced beet growers in Oxnard and other beet centers.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 19.—After weaving a strong chain of evidence around alleged counterfeiters, the police today made a raid and rounded up H. Vicente Bosca, whose means of livelihood is being further investigated. What was described by those who informed the police to be a counterfeiter's die proved to be an apparatus for holding embroidery, of which Bosca admitted he was quite fond. A member of the local militia company confessed that he had inadvertently misled the police when he told of seeing counterfeiting tools in Bosca's room.

WORTH WHILE, DESPITE MUMPS.

Long Beach Belles Fearful of Catching 'Em.

Midshipmen Carry Contagion from Battleship.

Market Mistress not to Lose Her Job this Time.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LONG BEACH, Aug. 19.—With two score of the naval cadets on the flagship Missouri suffering with the old-fashioned mumps, the Naval Academy training squadron of battleships, consisting of the Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin, steamed from off this beach at 12:45 this afternoon, homeward bound. Admiral Fullam stated last evening that the battleships would probably make no stops between Long Beach and the Panama Canal.

Many of the middies were missing from the naval ball at Hotel Virginia last night. One or two who were lovers of the dance appeared with swollen faces, and volunteered the information that there were many more in the same fix on the battleship.

Now, the hundreds of beach belles who went through the mazes of the one-step, hesitation and tango until midnight at the hotel are fearfully wondering what is a good remedy for the mumps. Some of the belles have consulted local physicians and have taken preventive medicines to ward off the dreadful case of swollen jowls.

"Even if we do get the mumps," said one of the fair ones who were among those present at the naval dance, "those boys from the ship were just grand. We had a good time, and I for one would run the same risk again for another frolic like that."

Commissioner of Public Affairs Frank M. Cates today denied that he was seeking to oust from office Mrs. D. M. Shreve, market mistress. He also declared that Mrs. Cora M. Morgan, his stenographer, was not running the business of Commissioner of Public Affairs, and that every order which went out of his office came from him.

A tempest in a teapot has been stirred up over the market situation. Mrs. Shreve has appealed to the City Commissioners from the orders handed her by Mrs. Morgan, and with some success. It has been declared by the market mistress and by hundreds of others that Mrs. Morgan is the one who gives the orders in Commissioner Cates's office, and that he is a mere figurehead. But he issued a statement today declaring this to be entirely false; that Mrs. Morgan does nothing on her own initiative.

Today a petition protesting against the passage of the new market ordinance was circulated among the patrons of the market. The petitions received more than 500 names today, and it will be presented to the Commissioners at their next regular meeting, when the ordinance comes up for the second reading. If the petition fails of its purpose the referendum may be invoked by the protestants. The ordinance raises the rates for booth-holders and subsidizes the man who raises his own produce in Long Beach.

BEACH BRIEFS.

Hundreds of former residents of Illinois gathered at Baxby Park this afternoon to partake of their annual summer picnic under the auspices of the Long Beach Illinois Society. Short addresses were delivered by George W. Prince, formerly of Galesburg, now of Los Angeles; Judge Frank P. Blair of Chicago, Dr. G. H. Galbraith of Long Beach, and others. The Municipal Band played during the enjoyment of basket lunches.

An effort is being made to resurrect the $5000 belonging to the defunct Chautauqua Association and place it at the disposal of the new Long Beach Assembly as an endowment fund or otherwise. Henry P. Barbour is the leader in this movement. The only obstacle, it seems, is that the assembly as now organized is not strictly interdenominational, as was the Chautauqua. There is a by-law adopted by the assembly that a majority of its directors must be of the Baptist denomination.

PRISONERS LOCATED.

EL CENTRO, Aug. 19.—Three of the five prisoners who escaped from the County Jail Wednesday night by digging their way through two feet of masonry are still at large. Sheriff Appiestill and Deputy Sheriff Kendrick looked for the fugitives up to a late hour yesterday afternoon, and after locating two of them at Mexicali gave up the search for the third. The two fugitives at Mexicali were serving time on petty larceny charges. The third, Oscar Burns, was awaiting trial in the Superior Court on a grand larceny charge.

ASSOCIATED ACTION.

Glendora Hillside Groves Organized to Handle Citrus Crop of Neighborhood.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLENDORA, Aug. 19.—Plans initiated several weeks ago by representatives of the Mutual Orange distributors have culminated in the incorporation of an association of growers in Glendora to be known as the Glendora Hillside Groves. The following officers were elected for the first year: D. W. McDonald, president; C. A. Hammond, vice-president, and Stanley R. Pratt, secretary.

The plans of the association call for a fine new building with a capacity and equipment sufficient to handle not less than 150 acres the first year. Negotiations are under way for a suitably located site and it is expected that actual construction work will begin in three weeks on the building.

Growers who have signified their intention to come into the new association, it is said, represent about 250 acres, mostly north of the Foothill boulevard, as it is the announced policy of the management to confine itself mainly to the fruit grown along the foothills.

The Glendora Hillside Groves will automatically become a member of the Mutual Orange distributors and the marketing will be done by that organization. It is hoped that by a fine pack and with the introduction of new and approved methods, to bring in definite F.O.B. orders for the fruit of this association.

MATCHES GOLD COINS.

Tourist Comes Back from Tia Juana with Only His Ticket—Kids to Visit Cruiser Colorado.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 19.—Minus $45 in gold, but richer in knowledge by having learned exactly how to match coins, N. M. Schoonover, claiming residence in the Yakima Valley, Washington, complained to the police here today that he was buncoed at Tia Juana, Mex.

He met a man in San Diego who asked him to go to the Mexican border town and show a friend how to match coins. Schoonover's money was used for purposes of illustration. He returned to this city with only his return ticket to Yakima. The police arrested two suspects this morning.

SMUGGLED OPIUM.

Charged with attempting to smuggle opium across the international boundary line at Tia Juana, two men giving the names of George Elliott and Harry Miller and claiming to hail from San Francisco were captured by customs inspectors early today.

Twenty-two five-tael tins of raw opium, valued at nearly $1000, were confiscated by the officers. The men were taken while attempting to cross the boundary line during a dense fog.

CHILDREN'S DAY.

Through courtesy of Admiral Howard, his flagship, the cruiser Colorado, is to be thrown open Saturday to the children of San Diego. The youngsters will be given the freedom of the cruiser, and officers will be detailed to explain the working of the guns aboard the big warship.

This is said to be the first time on this Coast when a special children's day has been declared on a war vessel.

HARVARD CLUBS.

Two hundred and fifty members of the Associated Harvard Clubs, passengers on the liner Finland, will disembark here when the vessel arrives tomorrow from New York via the Panama Canal. The Harvard party will visit the exposition and go north in a special car, stopping at Los Angeles and San Francisco.

LUSTY BRUSH FIRE.

Scores of Men Help Put Out Blaze in Monrovia Foothills Started in the City.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, Aug. 19.—The whole San Gabriel watershed was endangered this morning when a brush fire got beyond control of S. Gitelson, No. 225 East Hillcrest, and started up the tinder-dry side of the foothills. By the prompt action of the fire department with chemical apparatus and scores of volunteer fire fighters, the blaze was controlled after a sharp fight, but Gitelson may have to stand prosecution by the United States government as a result of allowing the flames to get away from him.

District Ranger Sloan, just back from the latest Lytle Creek fire, saw the dense volumes of smoke from his home in Glendora and came over in a hurry. According to the local ordinance Gitelson was within his rights, as he built the fire at the time of day specified. But he interfered with government regulations and may have to suffer for it.

EL CENTRO, Aug. 19.—The appointment by Federal Judge Bledsoe of Attorney H. I. Welch as United States court commissioner of Imperial county became known here today. Welch was deputy District Attorney during the past administration.

Huntington Beach.

WHITTIER MAN CHOSEN PRESIDENT BY VETERANS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Aug. 19.—At the annual election of officers of the Southern California Veterans' Association, in the Tent City auditorium this morning, L. Scofield of Whittier and W. A. Packard of Los Angeles were the unanimous choice of the old veterans for the offices of Commander and Senior Vice-Commander.

These men are both popular, and no one else was considered for these important positions. Comrade Scofield was placed in nomination by Comrade R. Heffelfinger of Los Angeles. The new Commander was born in Duchess county, New York, September 2, 1837, and enlisted in the Twenty-sixth Iowa Infantry in 1862, and moved to Los Angeles thirty years ago. He has resided in Whittier for fifteen years.

Comrade Packard was nominated by Judge Langley of Santa Ana. He is 70 years of age and was the first adjutant of the association, which met at Anaheim Landing twenty-eight years ago.

There were three nominations for the office of Junior Vice-Commander; A. C. Lewis of Riverside, Dr. Hasson of Buena Park and A. C. Shafer of Los Angeles, and Lewis was elected on the first ballot. C. R. Norton of Tropico and Dr. Hasson were the only nominations for Chaplain and Surgeon.

On motion of E. C. Seymour of San Bernardino the Council of Administration was elected as follows: Two at large and one each from the counties represented. The counties of Santa Barbara and Imperial were not represented. The following were selected: At large, E. C. Van Horn of Los Angeles and E. C. Seymour of San Bernardino; by counties, J. W. Maxwell, San Bernardino; O. S. Bookout, Ventura; William Thompson, San Diego; O. H. Maryatt, Orange; W. S. Wilson, Riverside; G. Galbraith, Los Angeles. For the Sons of Veterans and Spanish-American War Veterans, E. J. Wilson and G. W. Wilcox of Los Angeles were the chosen representatives.

The registration this year is 884, as against 951 last year and 967 the year before. Camp will be broken tomorrow and the grand old men will take a furlough for a year.

SET ASIDE MONEY TO BUILD BRIDGE.

RIVERSIDE SUPERVISORS ALSO MAKE PROVISION FOR EQUALIZATION.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

RIVERSIDE, Aug. 19.—Among items, totaling $19,000, appropriated by the Board of Supervisors this afternoon, is one of $12,000 for erecting a bridge over the Santa Ana River on the road known as North Main street, leading out of Corona.

The County Fair Association was recognized in the levy of $2000 for the purposes of the annual fair, which will be held in the fall.

In order to equalize property valuations throughout the county, $8000 was levied to cover the expenses and salaries of three appraisers.

FEAR LEPER.

On receipt of a letter from the State Board of Health to the effect that a leper patient had escaped from the State institution at Sacramento and that probably he had made his way into one of the Mexican colonies of this city, City Health Officer Griffith today instructed the police to be on the lookout for a Mexican answering the description. Citizens are also asked to aid the officials in the search.

PASSING OF STEAM LINE.

With the removal to Los Angeles today of a thirty-six-ton turn-table, there disappeared the last vestige of the Southern Pacific's system on Market street. The trackage and depot remain for the use of the Pacific Electric, which will bring its Los Angeles and Corona cars over the Market-street line within the next thirty days. The old Southern Pacific depot will also be the terminal point for the San Bernardino and Redlands cars.

FIX JITNEY BUS ZONES.

Redlands City Trustees Arrange Schedule of Prices After Complaints of Overcharges.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Aug. 19.—All Redlands has been divided into four parts and two zones. This has been done in an effort to fix a scale of prices for the jitney bus, which is becoming a real white elephant for the Board of Trustees. For several meetings now the Trustees have endeavored to whip an ordinance in shape for passage, but each meeting something happens to defer this.

The Trustees found that many complaints had been made of passengers being charged different prices for the same trip. It has been decided that within a radius of one mile from the business district a charge of 5 cents shall be made. The second zone covers a radius of two miles from the business section. A charge of 10 cents can be made for a trip from the center to a section of one color in the first zone and then to a section of another color in the same zone. For a trip to a section of color in the first zone, then to a section of color in the second zone, calls for 15 cents. Each zone is divided into four colors, on the map prepared by T. H. Doan.

The Trustees have decided that not only must the jitney bus men have insurance of $5000, but that all automobiles for rent or hire in the city must have the insurance. The ordinance had to be laid over again until the City Attorney made sure that insurance could be secured under the ordinance, as it now exists, one of the attorneys for the bus men having claimed that it could not.

DIES AT IMPERIAL.

IMPERIAL, Aug. 19.—Clifford Paulin, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. B. Paulin, a wealthy Los Angeles family, died here yesterday afternoon after a brief illness. He was 30 years old. His wife, at Ocean Park, and his parents, have been notified of the death. Paulin, Sr., was one of the active leaders in the Imperial Townsite Company, and at one time owned considerable real estate here.

TO VOTE ON BONDS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Aug. 19.—The Westminster Drainage District, recently organized, is to vote on September 10 upon a proposal to issue $25,000 bonds for the construction of drainage ditches. The main canal will empty into Anaheim Bay. The section to be drained is a large acreage around Westminster.

Vanilla Ice Cream

Try This Recipe and Preserve for Future Reference.

What more welcome treat can you offer the folks at home these hot days than a nice cold dish of good good ice cream? The number of different flavors in which ice cream is made at the present time is surprising, but the old-fashioned vanilla flavor still remains the favorite with the great majority. The following recipe for making vanilla ice cream, therefore, should be preserved in every home.

One cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 pint milk, 1 or 2 eggs, 1 pint cream. Mix the cornstarch with the sugar, and add to the slightly beaten eggs. Pour on the milk slowly, add the salt, and cook over water until thoroughly done. When cold, add the cream and freeze, flavoring with vanilla to taste.

While all the ingredients in ice cream should be good, the results will not be satisfactory unless the best quality of cornstarch is used. One of the best known woman writers in this country on culinary subjects says that those who have the best success with cornstarch recipes always depend upon the famous Kingsford's brand.

Kingsford's Cornstarch has stood the test of time. It costs no more than inferior kinds. Insist upon Kingsford's and ask your grocer for the little Cora Products Cook Book, which contains hundreds of valuable culinary hints.

JAPANESE BUSY WITH CHINESE.

Mystery of Steamer South Coast Cleared Up.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Aug. 19.—The people of Japan are too deeply absorbed in the Chinese question to take any interest at the present time in the relations between America and the Japanese. This is the news brought from Tokio by G. Wakabayashi, the new Chancellor of the Japanese Legation at Santiago, Chile. He is a passenger on the Toyo Kisen Kaisha steamer Kiyo Maru, which arrived today from Hongkong via Honolulu on the way to South American ports.

The relations between China and Japan are the all-absorbing talk in Japan, according to this diplomat. The newspapers are filled with comment and news and it is the principal topic of discussion in official and business circles.

BUSINESS FLURRY.

There has been much disturbance in business circles because of the boycott of the Chinese on Japanese goods and the retaliation of Japanese against the Chinese. That feeling against Japan runs high in China is generally admitted although the people of Japan believe that their demands upon the Chinese that the door be closed to the western world is for the best interests of the Chinese themselves.

Mr. Wakabayashi was for years with the Japanese Legation at Madrid and only returned to Tokio a few months ago from his European post to go to South America. The Japanese people have seemingly lost their interest in the European war, he says, having performed their obligations to the allies in driving the Germans from the Pacific waters and from the Orient. He admits, however, that a large amount of Japanese artillery and many military instructors are still being sent to Russia.

MANY PASSENGERS.

Another passenger on the Kiyo Maru was A. Mutsu Hashi, supervising engineer of the steamship line. He was the only passenger who left hundrd aboard for Mexican and South American ports and health and Immigration inspectors were kept busy for several hours going through the formalities of examinations before the steamer was entered to discharge a small amount of cargo.

Mr. Hashi is here to inspect the terminals of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, where the steamers of the line now berth, and will return home by way of San Francisco.

Another foreign steamer arriving today was the Blue Funnel liner Machaon from Liverpool. The steamer called at Balboa and picked up 1200 tons of iron pipe for this port that was formerly in use on the Union Oil Company's pipe line across the isthmus which was discontinued when the canal opened. The pipe will be relaid for an additional pipe line between this port and the Whittier fields. This is the second shipment received here.

MYSTERY CLEARS.

The mystery surrounding the sailing of the steamer South Coast from this port last week for Mexican ports has been solved. The steamer cleared unexpectedly without cargo and returned today empty when it became known that she had been sent to Ensenada for the cargo aboard the steamer Mazatlan.

The authorities there refused to permit the discharge of the cargo from the steamer, which had been detained there for several months. The Mazatlan was under charter to Capt. Fred Jebsen and flew the Mexican flag after many changes of registry following the outbreak of the European war.

Jebsen was also instrumental in the sale of the steamer Maverick, which cleared from this port on a filibustering expedition several months ago. After an eventful career on this coast Jebsen is now said to be in command of a German submarine in the Atlantic.

Junk Thieves Trailed by Wagon Wheel Tracks—Steal Half a Ton of Valuable Metal.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EAST HIGHLANDS, Aug. 19.—Tracked by the wheel prints of a wagon in which they were carting off 900 pounds of valuable metal, which they had stripped from the motor and transformer of an irrigating plant, two men who have given their names as William Parson and George Miller were caught in the "wash" yesterday by Constable J. E. Williams of Highlands and landed in jail.

The two men stripped the transformer and motor at the pumping plant of J. W. Dobbs of this place. They took off all the copper wire and every part they could sell, taking out the core of the motor and ruining the machine. The metal they secured weighed about 900 pounds, and was worth at least $200 as old metal.

Wagon tracks showed how the metal had been taken away and by following these Constable Williams caught the men before they reached Redlands.

HORSE'S KICK FATAL.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DELANO, Aug. 19.—J. W. Kleyer, a farmer near here, who lately came from Los Angeles, died at a hospital today as the result of a kick in the abdomen, sustained last Saturday. An operation proved unavailing. Kleyer was born in Rock Island, Ill., and his body will be sent there.

A Man on Salary—

At the end of 14 years had PAID FOR two homes and OWNED neither of them.

After years of work and effort for the welfare of his family—he stood just where he had 14 years before. The deed to HIS HOME belonged to somebody else and he had PAID FOR TWO OF THEM—all he had to show for his money was a bunch of worthless paper rent receipts.

Stop & Think

Where will you be a few years from today? Will you own the home you are NOW living in?

The SAME MONEY paid to YOURSELF each month instead of turning it over to a landlord, will pay for the DEED and you will have a piece of property worth several thousand dollars in place of a bunch of paper slips. Let us show you how hundreds are now saving money this way. Come and see the pretty homes—and $18.50 a month, interest included—

Four rooms, bath and screen porch—

—with all modern improvements, gas, electricity, water and street work—fruit trees, flowers and lawns all in—close to 5c yellow car line—$1850 on these easy OWNING terms—$75 cash and $18.50 a month, interest included.

Ask to see the 5-room bungalow—this is a beautiful little home—in same splendid district—only $100 down and $20 a month—interest included.

Come to the office or phone—we will gladly take you out.

STOCKS TAKE DOWNWARD TURN ON RECEIPT OF NEWS.

Market Breaks Under Pressure During Early Hours, United States Steel, the Weakest, Dropping Over Two Points from the Previous Level—Bonds Also Recede.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Aug. 19.—Wall street received an unexpected reminder today that a state of war exists across the water. The market, which had been under pressure in the early hours, broke abruptly in the afternoon on news that a German submarine had sunk another British liner. United States Steel, weakest of the stocks, up to midday fell over 2 points, and other stocks of almost equal prominence showed losses of 1 to 2, while a few of the recently exploited specialties added 2 to 5 points to their reverses of the forenoon. From this level most stocks made partial recovery, only to fall to lower levels in the final hour, when the selling movement gathered greater force. The closing was heavy to weak, with only slight recovery from minimum quotations. Even before the word of Germany's latest marine exploit became generally known there was an absence of the recent buoyancy and open manipulation in the so-called war stocks. In fact, Bethlehem Steel common and preferred were conspicuously weak, also Westinghouse Electric, Pressed Steel Car, General Electric and the principal motor issues, losses in this group ranging from 3 to 10 points. New York Air Brake was the only noteworthy exception, at one time showing a gain of 11 points, part of which was lost later. In the main railways showed underlying strength, holding to trifle a point or thereabouts, with the exception of Reading and Canadian Pacific, which recorded wider fluctuations. The day's total transactions of 1,145,000 shares exceeded any session of recent months. For the first time this week foreign exchange played little or no part as a market factor. Demand sterling was a shade harder than yesterday's best and francs made further material recovery from their recent weakness. Bankers continued their "credit" conferences, but plan to establish new British and French loans in this market remained in abeyance. The Bank of England increased its gold holdings for the week by almost $7,000,000, while the Bank of France gained almost twice that amount of the precious metal. The local bond market continued to recede moderately on more "future" or foreign selling. Total sales, par value, were $2,735,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE.

Improvement Noticed in Union Oil. Los Angeles Investment and Big Jim Heavy Traders.

There was no particular feature to the session of the stock exchange yesterday. Los Angeles Investment gained some strength in the afternoon and closed firm at 46. Union Oil is gradually rising and twenty-four shares brought 55.00 Thursday, a full point up from last week's quotations. Activity among the mining securities was confined to Big Jim and Consolidated Mines and transactions were at unchanged prices. United Oil was a seller around 21 cents a share and 4000 shares of Maricopa Northern changed hands at 5.00 a thousand. A firm bid of 82¾ for Los Angeles Railway Corporation 5's failed to arouse any selling interest and buyers will have to go higher to bring about sales. The entire bond list is showing more strength and prices are beginning to assume a normal tone.

NOTE—In the above tabulation of tides the daily tides are given in the order of their occurrence, commencing with the early morning tide in the left-hand side column, and the succeeding tides as they occur. On some days but three tides occur, the fourth tide occurring on the following morning. The first line gives the hour, the second the height in feet. Comparison will show high and low tides.

PORT ITEMS.

The British steamer Machaco of the Blue Funnel Line arrived today from Liverpool and will discharge here 1200 tons of iron pipe passed up at Panama. The pipe was a part of that used for the Union Oil Company's pipe line across the Tehuantepec which was taken up following the opening of the canal. It will be used for an additional line between this port and the Whittier fields.

The Japanese steamer Kiyo Maru arrived from Hongkong today and will discharge a small amount of hardwood logs proceeding to Mexican and South American ports tomorrow. The Kiyo Maru inaugurated the service of the Toyo Kisen Kaisha South American line at this port and is now on her second trip.

Lumber carriers arriving today were the Gray's Harbor and Temple E. Dorr from Gray's Harbor, the former for Puget Sound and Celilo from Portland. Departures in ballast were the Davenport for Puget Sound, Olympic and J. S. Stetson for Portland and Caster for Caspar. The Hornet sailed for Redondo Beach with balance of cargo.

The steamer South Coast returned from a voyage today that excited much mystery last Saturday. The steamer sailed unexpectedly, leaving a cargo of naval oil on the dock. Upon her return today it became known that it had gone to Ensenada for the cargo aboard the steamer Manatlan and returned without it because of the refusal of the authorities to permit its transfer. The Manatlan was held up by the authorities three several months ago after many charges of register which left her flying the Mexican flag.

The battleships Missouri, Ohio and Wisconsin sailed today for Annapolis, via Colon with 800 midshipmen, who have been out on cruise.

MORE TROUBLE FOR HIM.

Ex-Head of Tuna Company Wanted Here on Fraud Charge—Accused of Bad Check Passing.

Charles A. Williamson, late president of the National Tuna Fishing and Canning Company, who twice jumped his bond in the United States District Court, has other troubles looming up before him.

Yesterday information was received from Denver, where at present, Williamson is on the inside looking out, that the clever schemer was booked to answer the charge of floating a fictitious check in that city, and that possibly there might be some delay in his delivery to the Federal authorities here. Later it was learned that he would be brought to Los Angeles as soon as possible, and that Colorado would wait and take the second whirl at the double fugitive.

Bad check making is one of the alleged weaknesses of Williamson. When Postoffice Inspector Webster made a trip to Texas some months ago, he found the marks of crooked financial dealings at a dozen places in Texas and Oklahoma. At that time it is said that Williamson operated under the name of Arthur Latham, and that he was uniformly successful in securing sums ranging from $20 to $100, just enough to pay his expenses and keep him traveling.

Before attempting to promote the tuna fishing enterprise in this city, Williamson was engaged in selling fish products, and it is understood that since his second get-away he has been successful in securing employment with a well known Eastern fish firm, for previous to his trouble he was favorably known in the trade, and was presumably traveling in that interest when taken into custody.

If he is successful in defeating justice in the Mrs. Minnie Emerson deal involving about $2000 that it is alleged Williamson swindled the old lady out of, it is understood that there is evidence in the hands of the United States District Attorney ready for presentation to the Federal grand jury involving another case of alleged fraud in connection with the affairs of the National Tuna Fishing and Canning Company, separate from the Emerson matter.

Intelligence of Horses.

[Springfield Republican:] A man living near Litchfield, Minn., has a horse that takes his children to school in Litchfield every morning. When the "kiddies" get out of the buggy they tie the lines to the dash and the horse goes home alone. He always makes the return trip without any trouble. When he arrives home he always stops at the same place and waits there until someone leads him to the barn. A number of horses were employed to haul material from a large building excavation to a point some squares away. It was only necessary to station men at the loading and unloading points, the intelligent animals passing between the two places without the direction of drivers, thus effecting a considerable economy in wages. Another horse, the property of a Chicago man, which was recently stolen, after the lapse of a few days turned up at his proper home, drawing a spic-and-span wagon and proudly wearing a brand-new harness. Inquiries by the owner of the horse for the proper owner of the wagon and harness have evoked no response, which, upon reflection, is not so inexplicable.

Well Behaved.

GERMAN NAVY MEN AT NORFOLK.

COMFORTABLE HOMES ON THE INTERNED CRUISERS.

The Crews are Allowed Shore Leave, but Never Enter into Controversy Regarding Events of the War—Visitors are Welcomed to the Ships—Lunches are Served.

[Washington Star:] Caught in Hampton Roads, forced to submit to internment at Norfolk, required to live aboard their ships, the officers and men of the German converted cruisers Prinz Eitel Friedrich and Kronprinz Wilhelm have transformed their vessels into comfortable homes. On the ships more than 600 men are living contentedly. Their contentment is a tribute to the efficiency of German methods and to the generosity with which they are treated by the United States Navy Department and naval officers. As few restrictions as possible have been placed upon the interned crews, and reasonable requests have been promptly granted.

From the moment the visitor steps upon the gangway of the Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which also leads to the Kronprinz Wilhelm, he sees evidences of preparations for a long stay and comfortable living. The cruisers, formerly trans-Atlantic liners, with commodious cabins and expansive decks, have been cleared of all evidence which usually marks the warship. Awnings have been stretched to protect from the rain or sun. Everything not needed by a ship out of commission is out of sight.

About 200 men are daily granted shore leave. In the case of the enlisted men and noncommissioned officers the leaves of absence can be granted by the commanding officer of either cruiser. These leaves never exceed twelve hours. The majority are for six. In the case of the officers all leaves of absence must receive the sanction of the yard commandant or officer of the day—United States naval officials, in other words.

All leaves specify that the men thus quitting the ships must not leave the jurisdiction of the Norfolk yard. This includes the ports of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News and Hampton, as well as Old Point Comfort and the seaside resorts. Where leaves are desired to go beyond this yard jurisdiction, special permission, with the approval of the commandant, must be secured from the Navy Department. There must specify the places to be visited, the object of the visit and the duration of absence. As yet they have been granted only to officers.

It is no uncommon sight to see German sailors on the streets of Norfolk. They are also often at the seaside resorts. They have received the nickname of "Sissy," because of the peculiar caps they wear, with ribbon streamers falling almost to their shoulders. The peculiar baggy manner in which the blouse is worn, with the protruding large white collar, a relic of pinafore days, and the numerous rows of brass buttons adorning the uniform make them easily recognizable. They are usually found in groups of from three to six—seldom in large numbers. They are remarkably orderly, and although frequent patrons at the bars and the beer and music gardens, are never seen intoxicated.

When on shore leave the principal amusements of the German sailor are sightseeing, social drinking and "orating" with German-Americans, of whom there are a considerable number in Norfolk. In the residential sections of the city they are repeatedly observed on sightseeing trips. They invariably walk, and show lively interest in the buildings and water fronts.

In the evening the German sailors are to be found at the rathskellers of the various hotels or the beer saloons. Some of them are always there, enjoying themselves in a quiet manner. Usually they are accompanied by Germans in civilian clothes who know the town.

The well-known German neatness characterizes these sailors, whether aboard ship or on sh

DID THE JUDGE APOLOGIZE?, NO!

MEANT JUST WHAT HE SAID IN SCORING DOCTOR.

Physician as Own Lawyer in His Divorce Case Fails to Get Any Satisfaction in Going Back to Court for Retraction of Word Flaying as Perjurer.

After he had been scored by Judge Monroe for an alleged act of perjury in swearing to his residence in Reno with the view of obtaining a divorce, Dr. F. J. Pursell returned to Judge Monroe's courtroom yesterday afternoon and stated he had a duty to perform. He was told to make his statement and said in effect that when he went to Reno in 1911 he intended to stay there.

"But you told me this morning, in so many words," declared the court, "that you went to Reno for the purpose of getting a divorce."

"That was one of my purposes, but I intended——"

"And you knew that but six months' residence was required to bring a divorce action when you went there?" interrupted the court.

"Yes, I know that, but——"

"Then I don't want to hear any more from you," declared Judge Monroe.

"Is that all?" inquired Dr. Pursell.

"That's all, I said."

"Aren't you going to apologize?"

"I am not," was the emphatic reply of the court as he emphasized the statement with a bang on the bench.

The attempt of Dr. Pursell to obtain an apology from the court followed a hearing in alimony proceedings. Mrs. Pursell sued for divorce on the ground of desertion. She introduced an agreement of separation made in Mexico, October 8, 1908, by the terms of which Dr. Pursell was to pay her $75 a month. He kept up the payments, she said, for about sixteen months, and subsequently gave her only $35 a month. She had the custody of their son John, 9 years old, and told the court she was obliged to work to support the boy and herself.

It appeared in the hearing that Dr. Pursell had sought a divorce in Reno although he had been there but a month, and that he had dismissed the action after his wife filed her answer. It was this admission which brought down on Mr. Pursell the comment of the court, and it was the smart from this imputation of perjury which brought him back into the courtroom. He told the court that he went to Reno from Mexico, passed the State medical examination and started the practice of medicine. When the court commented on this, Dr. Pursell exclaimed:

"But that is passed."

During the morning hearing Dr. Pursell alluded to the fact that he had been unjustly imprisoned in Mexico for four months. In this Mrs. Pursell agreed with him. He was ordered to pay her $35 a month, $20 of which will be for the support of the boy, until the suit is tried in December. He was also restrained from further disposing of two life insurance policies which have been hypothecated. In the hearing he represented himself. Mrs. Pursell's counsel were Veitch & Richardson.

Dr. Pursell served in the Philippines as an army surgeon. He resigned his commission to engage with his wife in missionary work. Her health broke down and they went to Mexico for the benefit of the climate. The separation occurred there, and Mrs. Pursell came to this county. Dr. Pursell has been here since last January and stated he found it hard to build up a lucrative practice.

REST 'NEATH ROCKIES, 'TWAS HIS LAST WISH.

Written in the will of William J. Thomas, lawyer and mine owner, filed yesterday for probate, is the request that he be buried in the shade of the mighty Rocky Mountains. This request is coupled with the contingency if he died outside of Colorado. He passed away at Swansea, Ariz., on the 8th inst.

"I desire to be laid to rest," he wrote, "under the shade and shadows of the Rocky Mountains, where the years of my youth and manhood were spent, and laid to rest beside my father and mother and then forgotten. I want no monument."

Mr. Thomas claimed Los Angeles as his residence where his wife and two sons reside. He was absent a great deal owing to his mining interests in Mexico. The petition for the probate of the will, which was filed by Allen, Weyl & Van Pelt, gives the value of his estate in excess of $10,000. He was rated very wealthy.

The assets of the estate consist of mining stock, mining leases and money due the Consolidated Arizona Smelting Company. It is given in equal shares to the widow, Mary S. Thomas, and Linna Thomas, sometime known as Linna Cushman.

His will states his desire that the lease of the Consolidated Gold and Copper Mining Company be continued by his executors, W. Le Roy Thomas and Delbert J. Hinkley, under the management of Ernest C. Lane, superintendent. The executors are desired to consult with Alex Morphy and Bela Kadish of this city, who have a thorough experience in mining matters.

Mr. Lane is bequeathed 10 per cent. being a share of the profits earned by the lease above $10,000. If the profits fall below that sum he is to receive $500 in addition to his salary. The 100,000 shares of stock of the Durango-Sinaloa Mining Company, in Mexico, the will states, owned and controlled by George Mitchell, should become, under proper management, a valuable asset of the estate. Confidence is expressed in Mr. Mitchell, as a friend, that he will see that Mr. Thomas's interests are protected. The sons are Le Roy and J. E. Thomas.

WILD AID GIRL, ATTORNEY TAKES WARD.

By the terms of a contract which Attorney S. S. Hahn filed with Judge Dehy of the Juvenile Court yesterday, he agrees to pay for the education of Anna Milano, an attractive Italian girl, 19 years old, and obligates himself to keep her up to her studies. Having been frequently brought into court because of her vivacious spirits, which led her into escapades, Anna became a problem until Mr. Hahn came to the rescue. Lack of education appeared to the juvenile authorities to be at the bottom of the young woman's alleged waywardness. With education and refinement which comes with mixing in good society, it is hoped to correct this tendency to the Great White Way and make of Anna a credit.

The girl's mother is a janitress. She works hard, and Anna is the apple of her eye. Her duties prevented the mother from guarding the girl, and she fell among improper companions. Four years ago she was declared a dependent child. Mrs. Milano was not able to have the custody of her child until Attorney Hahn came to her rescue with his philanthropic offer. He says he will send her to high school and later give her a business education. Miss Milano agrees to repay him when her education is finished and she is able to obtain employment.

The agreement requires her to see Mr. Hahn every morning on her way to school. He is to see that she conducts herself properly at school and that she studies. Out of school she must be either in the company of her mother or her brother.

WAS VICTIMIZED. COURT SQUARES DEAL.

A. M. Bahen brought his mother to the city from Illinois. He was not broken to city life, and when he met Guy L. Furley, who was an old friend of his family, they talked over old times. Mr. Furley and Thomas D. Plummer were in the real estate business at Ocean Park. Mr. Bahen had acquired property at Sawtelle and at Santa Monica. When an exchange was suggested for property in Tulare county, Mr. Bahen agreed. The result of this trade was two suits by Mr. Bahen, one against Mr. Furley, Mr. Plummer, R. Jebb Brown and W. C. Koontz, and the other against Mr. Furley, Mr. Plummer, Mr. Koontz, C. L. Burges, F. A. Hoyt and Mary Ann Waite, to recover his property and for exemplary damages, obtained from him, he alleged, under misrepresentation.

Mr. Brown, it appeared, had been represented as the owner of one of the pieces in Tulare county traded in, but the court found he was simply a convenience for taking title to property in his name, to be held by him for Furley and Plummer. This property was put in at a value of $5950, when the owner, Edward Higgs, only asked and obtained but $3000. In the other instance it is claimed that the name of C. L. Burges was written in a blank space left in the deed.

Judge McCormick yesterday gave judgment in both cases in favor of Mr. Bahen, disallowing him, however, exemplary damages. He did not find against Mrs. Waite, who was an innocent mortgagee and acted in good faith. Mr. Bahen was awarded $2950, with interest from May 5, 1913.

TOO MUCH PARENTS. FIGHT TO SEE BOY.

James Barker, a wealthy Arizona rancher, did not care to go to the home of his former wife's mother, where Mrs. Barker is residing, to see his son Edward, 7 years old, and Mrs. Barker declared she would not take the boy to homes of Mr. Barker's relatives. There promised to be a deadlock when the parties met in Judge Monroe's court yesterday in the legal struggle for custody of Edward.

Mr. Barker made a demand that he be permitted to see his boy occasionally, inasmuch as the court has issued an order restraining him from forcibly taking possession of the lad. J. B. Hannon, Mrs. Barker's attorney, stepped into the breach by offering the use of his office as a place where the contending parties might meet with the boy. This was accepted. Saturday afternoons were selected as the days.

WHAT'S IN A NAME? JUST PRONOUNCE THESE.

John Manoughoff-Meghherditchoff died July 26 last. Seranoysh Manoughoff-Meghherditchoff, his widow, petitioned the Probate Court yesterday for letters of administration. She listed his wealth as $2400, and gave the names of the children as Kourken and Tsolak Manoughoff-Meghherditchoff.

Herman Lichtenberger, chief clerk of the probate department, after recording the petition, passed it over to Charles Glase, calendar clerk, who set it for trial, and as they nearly had prostration, everybody is wondering what will happen when the petition comes before Judge Rives. For he has to call the names of the cases, while the clerks merely have to write them.

NEW COURT JOB. POSITION FOR WOMAN.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday passed an ordinance creating the position of referee for the Juvenile Court at a salary of $200 a month. A woman is to be appointed, as the ordinance provides for a female.

LUMBER WAS USED, MUST BE PAID FOR.

In the suit of the Consolidated Lumber Company against the Bosworth Company, involving a construction of the mechanics' lien law, the Bosworth Company contended that lumber supplied by the Consolidated used for concrete forms had been carted away and could not be considered in the suit, as the material was not a part of the building constructed.

The suit was tried by Judge Hewitt, who yesterday decided that the lumber was a part of the building and gave judgment for the Consolidated for $1208.

INS AND OUTS.

INJUNCTION SUIT. The Pacific Coast Steamship Company complain that it has been presented with 8000 cubic yards of earth and wants no more. It filed a suit yesterday against W. F. Hewitt & Co., asking the court to enjoin the latter from dumping any more earth on its property in the harbor district.

SUES STEPMOTHER. A demand made by Frank Riddle, executor of the estate of his father, John Riddle, on Mrs. Mary Riddle, his stepmother, for the return of $3197 and rejected by her, forms the basis of a suit filed by him yesterday. The elder Riddle died February 18, 1914. Later the son alleges that Mrs. Riddle received the sum which belongs to him.

SUES FOR OPERATION. When Mrs. Richard Caples refused to pay Dr. Cecil Reynolds $1000 for operating upon her daughter-in-law, Mrs. W. J. Caples, for appendicitis, he brought suit. He alleges in a complaint filed yesterday that January 27, 1914, in this city, Mrs. Caples, the mother-in-law, employed him to operate upon the young woman. The operation was performed at the Good Samaritan Hospital, and Dr. Reynolds says he attended Mrs. Caples until her recovery, February 14, 1914.

RED CAR TRAINS TO BE DIVIDED.

UTILITIES BOARD SEEKS TO CLEAR MAIN STREET.

Proposal to Compel Pacific Electric to Improve Terminal Facilities by Constructing Elevated Tracks for Which Franchise was Granted Last Year.

The elimination of Pacific Electric trains from Main and Hill streets as a means for relieving to a large degree the congestion in the business district was discussed by the Public Utilities Board yesterday, and the Pacific Electric Railway was notified to appear and show why its terminal facilities should not be improved immediately.

The board also notified the three steam railroads operating along the Los Angeles River, between Macy and Seventh streets, to appear and show why they should not be required to confine their freight train operations in that district to the hours between midnight and 6 a.m.

Referring to the congestion in Main and Hill streets, which is attributed largely to the operation of the Pacific Electric trains, President Lane said he believes that the Pacific Electric franchise is for a street railway only, and the board has the right, if public necessity and convenience will be served thereby, to require that the trains be divided at the city limits and a crew placed on each car to operate it into the terminal. Recently, President Lane said, the Pacific Electric has been operating four and five cars to the train, and at times these trains have stood in the street for more than five minutes because of inadequate terminal facilities.

The letter to the Pacific Electric cites the franchise for an elevated track from the rear of the Pacific Electric Building to San Pedro street which was granted more than one year ago. The franchise provides that work was to begin within one year and it must be completed by July 10, 1917, but no real attempt has been made to pursue the work diligently. The board is undecided whether the plan for compelling the railway company to run its cars singly will relieve congestion materially, but it is believed that the company will prefer to build the elevated tracks immediately rather than provide many additional train crews. The citation is for September 2, and at that date, unless the Pacific Electric makes satisfactory showing, the board will be ready to issue its orders.

The Southern Pacific, Santa Fe and Salt Lake railroads are cited to appear next Thursday to show cause why the owl schedule for freight trains and switching should not be ordered between Macy and Seventh streets.

BETTER WIRING. ORDINANCE IS PASSED.

The Council yesterday passed the new electric wiring ordinance which has been under discussion for nearly two years. The principal feature of the ordinance requires that all wiring installed in residences and other buildings must be inclosed in metal conduits and all outlets must be of approved design and construction. City Electrician Manahan and Fire Chief Eley have urged the passage of the ordinance, and one of the arguments presented has been that it will tend to lower insurance rates generally throughout the city.

The ordinance is patterned after the model specifications of the National Board of Fire Underwriters, but, contrary to the pattern, it excepts the small cottages and bungalows of inflammable construction and the danger in this class of structures will be as great as heretofore.

The city electrical department is working on a revision of the building code that will include the 1915 recommendations of the fire underwriters, and it is proposed that the new regulations shall be enforced strictly. Recent inspections have shown that the storage of goods in attics has become a source of fire hazard, especially in the residence district, and efforts will be made to require all electric wires in attics to be protected.

REPEAL CAMPAIGN AGAINST TWO-PLATOON PLAN.

As the result of a meeting held at the Municipal League yesterday an active campaign for an initiative repeal of the two-platoon ordinance will be started today. The meeting was attended by representatives of the Hardware and Metal Men's Association, the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, the Wholesale Grocers' Association, the Laundrymen's Association, the Municipal League and the City Club. It was reported that five or six other organizations will join the movement. A fund of $500 is to be raised to cover expenses of the petitions, and the committees plan to raise $5000 for the election campaign. "Nothing less than an repeal" is to be the slogan of the workers against the ordinance.

A committee was appointed to solicit funds and support for the movement, this committee consisting of W. W. Mines, for the Realty Board; C. H. Langmuir, Municipal League; Roy C. Seeley and Dean Mason, Building Owners' and Managers' Association.

MORE EXPENSE. FOR GARBAGE DISPOSAL.

The "$20,000 bug" in the city's contract with the Pacific Reduction Company for the disposal of garbage crawled out again yesterday when President Handley of the Board of Public Works informed the Council that the city must go to additional expense in furnishing more water to the company. It appears that the company's plant is complete and doing the work in an entirely satisfactory manner excepting for the fact that its capacity is below the city's capacity to produce garbage. Therefore, the $20,000 water main extension and supply authorized a few weeks ago must be supplemented. Intimating that the discussion of the situation may require or produce language that will not sound well on the records, President Handley suggested that the Council arrange to take the matter up in executive session with the Board of Works at an early date.

PUBLIC SAFETY. TO INSPECT JAILS.

Councilmen Brain and Topham and Councilwoman Lindsey, members of the Public Safety Committee, decided yesterday that they will make frequent inspections of the City Jail and of the fire houses in the city with a view to assuring themselves that all are kept in a sanitary condition. There was no announcement as to when these inspections will start and no opportunity will be offered to prepare for their visits.

Following a conference with the Mayor, Mrs. Lindsey began a campaign for better quarters for women prisoners and within a few weeks it is proposed to establish quarters for them on the City Inebriate Farm where women prisoners may be employed out of doors.

The Public Safety Committee yesterday decided that the anti-roller towel ordinance be reported favorably to the Council. This ordinance provides that the insanitary community towel be banished from all public washrooms in the city.

The Council yesterday passed the "antisniping" billboard ordinance that was shelved early in the last campaign while most of the members were interested in seeing their faces on billboards and other places. The ordinance provides that billposters must obtain a permit from the Police Department and all paper posted must bear the permit number. Posters who stick bills on property without permission of the owner are liable to prosecution.

Cement Contract Let.

The Harbor Commission yesterday awarded the contract for the Portland cement to be used in building the municipal warehouse of Dock No. 1 at the harbor. The California-Portland Cement Company was the low bidder at $2.15 a barrel and the contract amounts to about $92,000. The city will receive a rebate of 40 cents a barrel for return of sacks.

Guard for Mayor.

Mayor Sebastian was notified yesterday that a large party of members of Silver Star Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will don uniforms and act as body guard for the Mayor and Chief Sniveley when they leave for San Diego this afternoon. The local knights will take the band along and the party will officially be welcomed by San Diego officials on their arrival.

ALLEGED MOTOR THIEVES TAKEN.

STOLEN CARS FOLLOWED FAR BY AUTO CLUB MEN.

One Chase Leads Through Three Counties and Circles San Diego Fair Grounds; the Other is Only Fifteen Blocks Long, but is Hot While it Lasts.

Two thrilling chases culminated yesterday in the arrest of two automobile thieves by the theft bureau of the Automobile Club of Southern California and the police, operating in a combined campaign against motor car stealing in Southern California.

One chase led through the downtown streets and lasted for fifteen blocks through congested traffic—the other passed through three counties, circled the exposition grounds at San Diego and wound up late yesterday in Los Angeles at No. 444 West Eighty-seventh street.

Both captures are the result of efforts of the Auto Club to round up two alleged gangs of motor thieves now known to be operating in Los Angeles and Southern California, according to Detective J. W. Powell of the Auto Club Theft Bureau, one being composed of youthful joy-riders and the other more experienced operators.

With the taking late yesterday of Paul Farrell, No. 119 West Ninety-second street this city, a career of alleged motor-car thieving which has extended from Santa Barbara to San Diego was brought to a sudden close. Farrell made a social call on Eighty-seventh street yesterday and Detective Ervin of Central Police Station and Detective Powell arrested him.

Farrell later confessed, according to Powell, to having stolen a vaunable automobile belonging to Mrs. John G. Oliver of Santa Barbara, and another belonging to Hyoza Normura, No. 6351 South Santa Monica boulevard. While driving the latter's car, he was arrested and taken to Central Station. His career was traced from Los Angeles by the Auto Club through Los Angeles, Orange and San Diego counties by the theft bureau's recently inaugurated "grapevine" system for apprehending stolen cars.

Another arrest was made earlier in the day by Detective Powell after a thrilling chase of many blocks through the congested business district, when John C. Moore, a youth residing at No. 1226 West Ninth street, was captured, later confessing to the theft of a machine belonging to G. N. Smith, of 4426 Honduras street, this city. Powell observed the peculiar actions of Moore while driving west on Eighth street, in a car which had been reported to the Auto Club as stolen.

In his confession, according to Powell, the youth admitted having taken the automobile from Fifth and Olive streets last Sunday. He was turned over to the juvenile authorities.

According to Automobile Club officials, this is the inception of an active war to be waged on automobile thieves in Southern California and in this work the club will co-operate with the police of Los Angeles and neighboring cities. The club maintains a series of posts on all main highways where a continual watch is kept for stolen cars. This method is unique in the history of automobile clubs.

All motorists are requested by the police and the Auto Club to place identification mark on the frames of their machines, and also to write their names indelibly on the inside of all tire casings. More than $530,000 in automobiles have been stolen in Los Angeles to date since January 1.

CHILD SCALDED.

Little George Schwartzman, 2 years old, was clinging to his mother's apron string last night as she was preparing supper when he accidentally knocked a pot of boiling water from the stove. Most of it enveloped the child and, suffering from severe burns, he was hurried to the Receiving Hospital. Surgeons stated the child was not fatally injured though the wounds were very painful and will not disappear for some time. The accident occurred at No. 2121 Sheridan street.

STRUCK BY TRUCK.

Joseph H. Meyers, a Civil War veteran, was painfully injured early last night when he was knocked down by an auto truck at Fifth street and Gladys avenue. J. Riggs, the driver, said his victm stepped deliberately in front of the truck and Mr. Meyers admitted it at the Receiving Hospital. He said he is hard of hearing and did not see the truck. A sprained ankle and bruises about the legs are the extent of his injuries.

Cigars in Less Demand Now State has Gone Dry.

Eastern Tourists Gather for Hopi Indian Dance.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON Ariz.) Aug. 18.—Arizonans are eating more candy and smoking fewer cigars since the State went "dry," according to traveling salesmen.

Cigar salesmen say that their business has suffered a tremendous slump since the first of the year. Some of them place their loss as high as 50 per cent. They claim that the abolition of the saloon, and with it the saloon cigar stand, is responsible.

"One would think that men would smoke even more cigars when deprived of liquid stimulants," said one salesman. "They don't, though. I figure that I have lost the business that I used to do with the saloon men. The tobacco retailers not connected with saloons are doing about the same business that they did last year."

Travelers for candy manufacturers report a great increase in the demand for their wares. Confectioners tell the same story. In Tucson, Phoenix and other cities the number of soda fountains and soft-drink stands has approximately doubled since January 1, and most of them appear to be doing well.

CHINESE SLAVERY.

Once more the Federal officers have heard the story of how 800 Chinese laborers were carried across the Pacific Ocean by an Italian labor agent and sold into slavery to Mexican plantation owners. The story was told by Jo Doo Foon, who made his way across the international border in the hope that Uncle Sam would deport him to his native land.

According to Jo Doo Foon and scores of other Chinamen who have come into Arizona for the same purpose, he and some 800 other North China laborers, speaking the Manchu dialect, were lured aboard a vessel by the Italian, who promised them work in the south of China. When the celestials realized that they were being taken across the ocean instead, they mutinied. With incredible cruelty the mutiny was put down.

Eventually the vessel touched at San Diego, but the Chinese were so closely guarded that they had no opportunity to make their plight known to the Americans on shore. From that point they were taken down the West Coast of Mexico and sold to plantation owners, who presumably did not know but what the Chinese had come to Mexico of their own free will. The Chinese could do nothing except work for their masters until they had learned the language of the country. Most of them, it is believed, have made their way back to China, either through the United States or by taking ship at one of the Mexican West Coast ports.

THE HOPI DANCE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Aug. 18.—Over 200 eastern tourists are now gathered at Flagstaff, ready to leave for the Hopi Indian reservation to see the annual snake dance of that tribe. Several distinguished persons are among the number, among them being James Swinnerton, the artist. In addition to the easterners, many Arizonans will see the dance, which is scheduled to be held this year on August 25.

A BIG TELESCOPE.

J. W. Weatherford of this place has announced his intention to erect at the summit of San Francisco Peak, north of Flagstaff, a telescope with which all of Arizona and parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Utah, Nevada and California can be seen. It is also possible, Weatherford says, that one corner of Texas can be seen through the powerful glass.

Owing to the difficulty of the climb few persons have ever reached the top of San Francisco Peak. Weatherford is planning to build a toll road right to the summit. He says that he has secured a permit from the government to construct such a road and operate it for thirty years.

OIL EXCITEMENT.

Arrivals from Camp Verde bring news of a renewal of the oil excitement which raged in the Verde Valley some two years ago. The Verde Valley Oil Company has resumed drilling. During the first excitement this company put down a well 1200 feet. Now it is planned to sink the well to a depth of at least 3000 feet unless oil is encountered sooner. Sufficient casing and machinery are on the ground to do this. Fred Evans, an experienced oil well driller of Tulsa, Oklahoma, is in charge of operations.

ROAD BOND ISSUE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

GLOBE (Ariz.) Aug. 18.—By a majority of more than 300 votes, Gila county has approved the proposed $500,000 road bond issue. The voting at the special election was quite light and there was little opposition to the issue. It is expected by the County Supervisors that the bonds will be sold at once and that road work will be in full swing early in the fall.

F. B. Hahn has purchased 140 acres of land lying in a flat at the bottom of Golden Hill, about half way between Miami and Globe. He intends to establish a forty-acre park with a swimming pool, dance hall, baseball ground and tennis courts.

During the first twelve days of August, twenty-seven building permits, calling for a total expenditure of $160,000, were issued in Miami. The most important of the buildings being constructed are a new school and hotel.

SOLOMON'S GOLD MINES Believed They Have Been Discovered in the Zambesi Where Old Workings Were Found.

[Washington Star:] This has been a vexed question for centuries, the whereabouts of the fabled mines. Every ancient digging in the countries about the Indian Ocean or Red Sea has been suggested in honor, including the Hottentot ruined cities in Mashonaland, prehistoric remains in the Ophir Mountains, besides other ancient places from the highlands of Virginia to the mountains of India; however, it appears certain that Solomon's mines were in the Zambesi region.

Between that great river and Sabi, in the modern Rhodesia, are many thousand old mines, which were the scenes of activity which of recent years have been partially explored. This big series of workings reaches from Victoria in the Zambesi to the Murchison in the Transvaal. It is estimated the area covered is 750,000 square miles. Within this area are many entire cities, fortresses and temples.

The discussion of the Ophir problem has three features of particular interest. In the first place, the old legends impute the gold from Ophir to Arabia, where gold in quantity has not been found, the idea of ancient sources having grown from the fact that the gold of the ancients passed through the hands of the Phoenicians, who were the great intermediate pirates of antiquity. The "gold of Arabia," therefore, is a sort of historical term. Secondly, the Africa theory, as we know and find him, could have done this work, under the directions from a superior race, too, if one accepts literally certain statistics, the output of Ophir must have been colossal. In this connection it is noted that King Solomon contributed to the building of the temple no less than "3000 talents of refined gold of Ophir." A talent being 3000 pounds troy, these 3000 talents would be worth over $80,000,000. Then there have been the diggings from which such tribute could come to the Jewish brew monarch. No such mining as has been seen in South Africa can explain the wealth of the Solomon kings nor that of the Phoenicians, of whom obtained great stores of gold from an unknown El Dorado.

It appears likely that the ancient treasure vaults have been found. It is still a fascinating subject. Ophir was treated and shipped from the interior to the Red Sea, probably by the methods of the Arab caravans, as a connecting link between transport systems of widely separated periods. Historic sentiment is lacking in the consideration of the fact that if the Hebrews did not direct the work of this ancient mining in the Zambesi country, they certainly have descendants today in Europe as the principal promoters of mining development. Africa has reopened this very ancient industry of the modern world.

Dear Children

Aren't you glad today is Friday—and Fairyland? Mr. Meeks is taking a vacation this week, but he just couldn't miss Fairyland, so he is coming back for today. Well, we are going to have something "different"—a story called "A Day at the Seashore," also a song called "Splash Me." But, best of all, we have a surprise for you, so be here on time, 2 o'clock sharp. And bring your little friends, too.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Aug. 20.—Gen. Carranza, it was learned here today, is preparing to move from Vera Cruz to Mexico City at once and to have his government established in the old capital by the time his response to the Pan-American peace appeal reaches Washington next week.

Private advices from Carranza to Washington representatives today are said to be expected to be in Mexico City today.

According to all information reaching here, Carranza in replying to the Pan-American appeal will reject the peace conference proposal and urge recognition of his government as the best guaranty of peace.

It becomes apparent that Carranza's friends intend to let their chief accept the conferees for them, when responses from them, including Gen. Eduardo Aguilar, Governor of Vera

GERMAN FLEET ... SLAVS IN GU...

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE.]

PETROGRAD (via London) Aug. 21, 1 a.m.—A German fleet has penetrated the Gulf of Riga and is engaged with Russian warships defending the coast, according to an official announcement issued tonight at the Russian War Office.

LONDON, Aug. 20, 10 p.m.—The capture of the fortress of Novo-Georgievsk, which was left behind by Grand Duke Nicholas when he commenced the evacuation of Poland to delay the advance of the German invaders, after accomplishing its task for not a fortnight, has succumbed to the heavy siege artillery of the Germans which throughout the war has battered every fort attacked by it until...

Berlin was able today to announce the capture of the fortress with its 700 guns and a large quantity of war materials. The spoils have not yet been estimated, but they are probably large, as it had been hoped by the Russians that the earthworks around the fortified camp would enable it to hold out much longer than it has done. It is now expected by the military observers that the other Russian fortresses, such as Brest-Litovsk, Grodno and Osowetz, either would be captured or given up.

After the fall of Kovno, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army commenced again an offensive along the whole front from the Gulf of Riga to Dvinsk, with the object of taking Riga and the whole Warsaw-Petrograd railway from Vilna northward. He is meeting with stubborn resistance, and has denied even the possession of

BOSTON, Aug. 20.—Jail sentences varying in length from three to thirteen months were imposed today on four men convicted of assaulting policemen and rioting in connection with the departure of several hundred Italian reservists for Italy last Sunday. The riot took place at the Com... salth pier, where two German liners were docked. The trouble started in an attack by the Italians on two German steamship stewards whom they encountered on the pier.
